John Quincy Adams Dead.

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.,) Aug. 1.—John Quincy Adams, a direct descendant of the famous Adams family which furnished two Presidents of the United States, was found lying dead on Quay street, near home, last night. Adams was 59 years of age, and a devotee of the bicycle. His wheel was found standing against a tree near by. It is supposed that he felt an attack of heart-failure coming on and dismounted.

He Lost on Wheat.

QUEBEC, Aug. 1.—It appears that George Perter, teller of the local branch of the Bank of Montreal, who was arrested on Tuesday, had bought 400,000 bushels of wheat at prices ranging from 81 to 74 cents. When it went down to 62½ cents he deposited $65,000 of the bank's money to save it. Of this $30,000 he lost.

Another Colorado Bank Suspends.

DENVER, (Col.,) Aug. 1.—A News special from Colorado City says that the Colorado State Bank has voluntarily gone into liquidation and yesterday closed its doors. The deposits have been transfered to the El Paso Bank in this city, where all deposits will be paid on demand. The bank has been in operation for two or three years, but was not doing a paying business and it was thought best to close. This leaves Colorado City without a bank.

Journeymen Plumbers Strike.

DENVER, (Colo.,) Aug. 1.—A strike of the journeymen plumbers of Denver was ordered today by President Burg of local union No. 3, United Association of Plumbers. There are seventy-five establishments and about 125 first-class plumbers in the city, and it is believed that over half of these will be affected by the strike.

ENJOINED.

Reorganizers Must Not Monkey with the Whisky Trust.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The litigation affecting the reorganization of the Distilling and Cattle Feeding Company commonly known as the Whisky Trust, has been transferred from the Chicago courts to the Supreme Court of this city. A temporary injunction was granted by Judge Morgan O'Brien in the Supereme Court chambers today on the application of Guggenheim, Untermeyer & Marshall, on behalf of Frederick W. Annes and George Pinchon, who own 15,000 shares of stock, restraining the Reorganization Committee of the trust and the Manhattan Trust Company.

Judge O'Brien's order enjoins the company or any of them personally or through their agents or attorneys from bidding upon or acquiring the properties of the trust under the reorganization agreement, or from taking any action whatsoever by reason of the alleged ownership of any stock or money deposited with the Manhattan Trust Company. The latter company is enjoined from disposing of any of the moneys or securities which are on deposit with it.

The injunction is accompanied by an order requiring the Reorganization Committee to show cause on Wednesday next why the injunction should not be continued pending the trial of the motion to present the reorganization scheme.

Washington Personals.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Secretary Smith returned today after a two weeks' trip to Georgia, during which he took charge of the anti-silver campaign there. Postmaster-General Wilson returned to the city today from a two weeks' vacation in Virginia. Mr. Eckels, the Comptroller, has returned from Illinois. Secretary and Mrs. Carlisle left for Chicago today.

Pittsburgh Puddlers Strike.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 1.—The puddlers at the Oliver Iron and Steep Company's works struck today because the firm refused to sign the scale. Twenty furnaces are idle. This company has been paying $4.25 for puddling, which is 25 cents above the union rate.

HIS BONE YARD

Holmes's Explanation of Its Origin.

The "Castle" Was Formerly a Grub Factory.

After He Took Possession He Gave Lodging to Several Cadavers.

His Relations with the Williams Woman—Streak of Insanity in His Family—Convict Allen Down on Newspapers.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—No new developments were made today in the Holmes case, and the police say that they are about at the end of the rope without a particle of tangible evidence on which Holmes can be charged with murder.

Four witnesses were examined by Inspector Fitzpatrick this evening. The most important of them was a man named Erickson, who is at the present time employed as a drug clerk on the West Side. He told the officers that he was at one time employed in the Castle drug store. He knew Holmes well and said that he always considered him very peculiar. He also told of large and frequent purchases of chloroform by Holmes, which the latter said was for experiments.

THE ARCH-SWINDLER TALKS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A special to the Post from Philadelphia says that Holmes, the alleged wholesale murderer, was asked today in an interview: "Can you explain how so many bones came to be concealed in the basement and other parts of your Chicago house?"

"I will answer that question in this way," he replied, "every person who has known me is aware that I am a doctor by profession. It is also known perfectly well in Chicago that there was a restaurant in my building during the World's Fair. At the time there were lots of bones from fowls and other cooked animals thrown outside the building. Lots of these bones, no doubt, found their way to the cellar. During the time I was in the building I brought several cadavers there, both for scientific and pecuniary purposes. This may account for the bones which the Chicago police say they have found."

"Will you explain your relations with Minnie Williams?"

"The por girl was a great friend of mine. She was unfortunnate in more ways than one. I cannot but believe that she is still alive, although God only knows where, as she is a fugitive from justice on account of the awful tragedy which resulted in the killing of her sister. I can say nothing more about her at this time."

"Is it true that Minnie Williams killed her sister, Nana?"

"Yes, it all came about over a jealous quarrel. During the heat of passion Minnie threw a stool at Nana. It struck her on the head. She died shortly afterward."

"It is reported that some of your family were the victims of insanity. Is this true?"

"It is. My uncle died insane at Burlington, Vt. The insanity streak in our family is from mother's side. I want to say, however, that I am still compos mentis, although in view of the absurd reports that have gone out about me it might be a question as to whether or not the accusers are the crazy men."

"Will you deny or confirm the report that you are a rich man?"

"My money is principally tied up in real estate. Part of this is encumbered and part of it is clear. If I was out of here I might be able to turn up $200,000 without much difficulty."

"Do you belong to any religious denomination?"

"No; I am a believer in the teachings of Tom Paine and Ingersoll."

MASCOT'S MUTTERINGS.

LITTLE ROCK, (Ark.,) August 1.—There is hardly a doubt but that the man Pratt, mentioned in a recent Topeka dispatch as having lived there, and H. H. Holmes are one and the same man. Allen (Mascot) the convict in prison, says that Holmes went by the name of Pratt in Texas. Allen spends most of his time berating the newspapers. To an Asociated Press representative he said:

"A reporter who came out to see me last Friday had me wrongly quoted as saying that Holmes came nearly swindling a Jew at Denison. Pratt, that is the Texas name of Holmes, was afraid to go into Denison, and left me ten miles from there. This was early in May, 1894, and I have not seen him since.

"This man Cole they speak about I never heard of before. The newspapers are teling a heap of lies. I was hoping this thing would be kept quiet and I expected a reward of at least $10,000 would be offered for information clearing up the mystery about the Williams girls, and that I would get it. That was why I wrote to Texas to find out what there would be in it for me if I told what I knew. I came to Little Rock when I left Holmes. I was in Chicago many days before that, but I never stayed there. Today's papers say that the Chicago people have collected evidence showing that the Williams girls were both killed. The detectives think they are slick. I see a couple of them are on their way from Chicago to talk to me. Let them come. They will not get anything out of me.

"I know Pat Quinlan. He came to Fort Worth when Pratt, (Holmes) Lyman (Pitzel) and I were there, but would not take charge of things because of the shape they were in. Lyman acted badly there. He drank a great deal and became infatuated with a dashing widow. Pratt had with him then a woman whom he called Jeanette. I knew all the time that his name was Holmes and knew that he had five or six living wives. I traveled a great deal with him, and we both visited Hot Springs together. Holmes had the most winning way toward women of any man I ever saw, and never mixed up with any that were not good looking. He was also mild-mannered, courteous and affable toward men."

There is perhaps no manner of swindling that Allen is not familiar with. Some people believe that he is now engaged in an attempt to get his liberty by bartering his knowledge of Holmes's criminal career, knowledge that may have to be taken with a grain of salt.

PHILADELPHIA MRS. HOLMES.

PHILADELPHIA (Pa.,) Aug. 1.—Miss Georgiana Yolle or Mrs. H. H. Holmes, as she is generally known, or Mrs. Howard, as she is designated by Dist.-Atty. Grimm, is lying at the home of a friend in this city in a weak and possibly a critical condition. The strain has been too great for her. Ever since she came here two weeks ago she has suffered intensely. When Barlow was asked what measures the woman would probably take to clear herself from Holmes, he said he did not think any measures were necessary. She unwittingly entered into a fraudulent contract marriage, which in itself was sufficient and was made void by the fact that Holmes had a legal wife living at the time of her marriage.

CHICAGO POLICE ARE "STUMPED."

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The police today acknowledged complete defeat so far in an effort to secure direct evidence of murder against H. H. Holmes.

"When we stated this case," said Inspector Fitzpatrick, "we knew it would be almost impossible to get anyone who could positively connect Holmes with any case of murder, yet we thought it our duty to investigate. We believed that several crimes have been committed, and believe Holmes and his confederates are guilty of several murders, but so far we are unable to prove our belief correct. We have no evidence that would even cause an indictment against anyone under suspicion, if presented to the grand jury."

Pat Quinlan was given a two-hours' session in the sweatbox today. He stubbornly sticks to his statement that he knows absolutely nothing of any killing. The police learned today of the mysterious hauling away from the Holmes house at night of several large boxes while Holmes lived there.

EMMA CIGRAND'S RELATIVES.

ANDERSON (Ind.,) Aug. 1.—Miss Philla Cigrand returned from Chicago today, and she and her mother say that they do not believe Holmes's statement that Emiline Cigrand was married to him, and then went into a convent in Minnesota. The missing girl's sister says Dr. Cigrand and other relatives in Chicago all agreed in the belief that the girl was murdered by Holmes, and that one of the skeletons found was that of Emma. Chicago authorities told the Cigrands that they would try to ascertain who sent Emma's trunk to her home, and a detective was also sent here to inspect the trunk.

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

GREENSBURG (Ind.,) Aug. 1.—Facts have devloped here which make the supposition very strong that Harry Walker, who mysteriously disappeared from here about two years ago, became a victim of H. H. Holmes. Walker was about 23 years old when he came to this city from the old country. He was a good workman, commanding a fair salary. He traveled a great deal, often going to Indianapolis and Chicago to spend his Sundays.

It was on one of these trips that he first met Holmes. He was sitting in the Union Station at Indianapolis when a well-dressed gentleman stepped up to him and introduced himself as Holmes. He said that he was waiting for the Chicago train, and the two were soon in conversation. Holmes said that he was a real estate dealer, and had considerable property of his own in Chicago to look after. He was desirous of employing a secretary, and offered Walker a large salary to fill the position. Walker stated that he was under obligations to his employer, and would not leave him without his consent. Upon returning he spoke to his employer about the matter and was anxious to accept the offer.

Tillson, his employer, thought it was some queer scheme, and, acting upon his advice, Walker abandoned the idea. About three weeks afterward Holmes came to the city and registered at the Hotel Dearmond as Waldo Bunkborn, Indianapolis. He inquired for Walker, and they had a long conference, and walked out into the country a distance. Holmes offered to increase his proposition if Walker would go to Chicago with him, and assured him that he would enjoy living there. He also induced Walker to have his life insured for $15,000, and he promised to pay all dues, and in case Walker died that he would give $10,000 of the money to his sister in Pennsylvania, according to a contract signed. Walker left this city shortly afterward, and went to Batesville, where he engaged in the jewelry business. He had not been there long, however, when he mysteriously disappeared. Holmes was seen the day before, but nothing was thought about the matter. In about ten days the proprietor of the hotel at which he boarded received the following letter:

CHICAGO, Nov. 14, 1893.

Mr. Rolfes: I am secretary for Mr. Holmes, who was down to see me the other day. He will pay me $1000 a year, which is more than I could make in Batesville or Greensburg, either. I will be down in a few days and settle.

Yours, as ever,
(Signed) HARRY WALKER.

A month passed and he was not heard from. Letters which were written to him were not answered. Finally Rolfes went to Chicago, but could find no trace of either Walker or Holmes. He returned and waited another month, and as Walker did not return or write, the small stock of cheap jewelry was sold to pay his bills. Considerable excitement is manifested over the matter, and there seems to be no doubt but that he was a victim of Holmes, who undoubtedly received the $15,000 insurance on Walker's life.

WATCHING JAPAN.

Representatives of the Powers Interested in Port Arthur.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The Diplomatic Corps in Washington is watching with much interest at present the settlement of the question of evacuation of Port Arthur by the Japanese, in view of the demand which Russia, France and Germany are reported to have made upon the Japanese to evacuate the entire Liao-Tung peninsula without reference to China's fulfillment of her part of the Shimonoseki treaty obligations. It is made quite clear at the Japanese legation here that Japan will not accede to this demand, if really made, without a vigorous protest.

"Japan," said an official of the legation in discussing the contingency today, "will fight before she will yield the advantages she has in the peninsula without a full settlement of the indemnity awarded her for the surrender of the concession. It is too important a lever to let go of, simply because it may suit Russia's purpose to ask it. It is our understanding here that the evacuation is to depend upon the payment of the indemnity.

"Japan certainly regarded the matter in that light when the treaty was amended, at the instance of the European powers. It may be claimed that the question is not any longer between China and Japan, but rather one between Japan and the European countries interested in the settlement. But this position is not tenable. It is China to which Japan must look for the money she is to receive, and it is Chinese territory that is involved in the controversy, and if it is a matter of keeping faith with the European powers, let them make good the indemnity if they do not want Japan to continue at Port Arthur."

The representatives here of the Mikado's government are evidently not impressed with the belief that France and Germany are so much concerned over this settlement as has been represented. Diplomats generally also find it hard to realize that Russia should be so much in earnest in pressing Japan to the wall in these matters as she is reported to be. They say that, having gained every advantage sought, Russia would naturally be expected now to press her claims in a way not to further wound the feelings of the Japanese.

"Russia," said a member of the Diplomatic Corps, "has succeeded in preventing Japan's getting any foothold whatever in the Asiatic continent and it is evident from recent accounts that the European power is reaping the diplomatic harvest in Korea to which Japan is entitled. It has always been Russia's policy to treat a conquered people so leniently as to soon Russianize them. Why she should not treat Japan as liberally and make the Pacific island her actual, as she is her natural, ally passes my comprehension."

There is good reason for believing the Japanese are taking every opportunity to impress upon the Rusians the advantage to them of friendly co-operation between the two countries in the Eastern Pacific. Whether this is to be done with a view of Japan continuing to hold Port Arthur notwithstanding the existence of the treaty is not so clear, but there are some who interpret the Japanese tactics to mean this. It seems clear at any rate from all that can be learned here that Japan will hold on to the footing she now occupies on Chinese soil until the indemnity is paid or until she is driven out by a more formidable display than can be made in a diplomatic conference.

AN IMPORTANT FAILURE.

The Standard Wagon Co. of Cincinnati Assigns.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CINCINNATI, Aug. 1.—The Standard Wagon Company has assigned to Edward Ritchie. The assets are $300,000; liabilities, $400,000.

Although the Standard Wagon Company confessed judgment yesterday to the Merchants' National Bank for $32,000, the failure created a stir today as it was considered by some that liabilities were heavier than $400,000. Several years ago there was an assignment by the company, and after considerable litigation the assignment was raised. At the time of the raising of the assignment the liabilities of the concern were about $500,000. Since then the debt has been reduced about $500,000. The company has done a good business, and has paid the debts it has paid out of the earnings of the business.

Before the assignment the Standard Company bought out the Davis Carriage Company. On the sum to be paid for that concern there shall be paid about $100,000, and there is about the same amount due. The notes for that debt are falling due all the time, and the company has not been able to meet them without borrowing money. It has not had the credit that it once had because of the former troubles, and was not able to raise money on the only available assets it has in real estate. The Davis Carriage Company, which is virtually a part of the Standard Wagon Company, has also assigned to E. S. Ritchie, the assignee of the Standard Wagon Company, with assets $150,000 and liabilities $300,000. It is stated that the Standard Wagon Company lost $175,000 by its purchase of the Davis Carriage Company a little over a year ago.

President Burrows of the Standard company, in speaking of the causes of the assignment, says: "While our mercantile creditors were generous, our bank creditors were not," and he adds, "the bankers' dollar has in its purchasing power almost doubled in value, while the manufacturers' and business men's dollar, invested in buildings, machinery and merchandise, is reduced fully 50 per cent."

STILL EXCITED

Every Hour Brings Out New Rumors.

Idaho Scouts Are Fired on by Redskins.

Two White Men Reported to Have Been Killed Near Jackson Hole.

Orders Issued to the Agents to Immediately Secure the Return of All the Indians to Their Reservations.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SALT LAKE (Utah,) Aug. 1.—A special to the Tribune from St. Anthony's, Idaho, says:

"The people of this and surrounding towns are still very much excited over the Indian scare and almost every hour brings forth fresh rumors. Last evening a young man named Paul came into town and declared that another small band of Indians, without squaws or papooses, were making their way towards the Hole, a few miles north of this town. On the strength of this, Baxter Hopkins immediately left here on horseback for the purpose of verifying the same. He went as far north as Marysville, twenty miles distant, and then found the settlers in a state of great excitement. He reports that the settlers have organized themselves and are now taking every precaution for their own safety.

"Guards are out by day and night. Indians have been seen in the vicinity of Marysville for two or three days past, and five men were delegated to ascertain what the Indians are doing. The understanding between these men was that they should meet at a certain cabin in the vicinity and at the appointed time, when three of them approached the cabin in question, they noticed a number of Indians surrounding it who at once commenced firing. The three men retreated and returned to Marysville, but Bishop Wilson and Capt. Harris, who were among the five, have not as yet returned, and it is feared that their lives have been taken."

TWO WHITE MEN REPORTED KILLED.

SALT LAKE (Utah,) Aug. 1.—A special to the Tribune from Market Lake, Idaho, says that a courier just in from Rexburg, says two white men were killed by Indians yesterday this side of Jackson Hole. The mail carrier between Jackson Hole and Teton Basin is also thought to have been killed by Indians. When last seen he was crossing Teton Divide.

ORDERS ISSUED.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A report of renewed danger to the settlers of Jackson-Hole region reached the Bureau of Indian Affairs today, in a dispatch from Gov. Richards of Wyoming, dated Cheyenne last night, asking that Indians away from the reservations be recalled. Commissioner Browning immediately telegraphed a response, stating that he had issued orders to the Indian agent in the disturbed region to take prompt steps to secure the return of all Indians away from the reservation. Instructions to this effect have been sent to the following agencies: Uintah and Ouray, fort Duchesne, Utah; Shoshone, Fort Washakie, Wyo; Pine Ridge, S. D., and Lemhi, Idaho.

COPPINGER'S WHEREABOUTS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—A telegram was received at the War Department today from Gen. Coppinger, which states that he crossed the Teton range with his command yesterday. The dispatch was forwarded by courier to Market Lake. The Teton range is twenty-five miles from Jackson Hole.

SOMETHING OF A JOKE.

SALT LAKE (Utah,) Aug. 1.—E. Mehsey, a furrier of this city, who has just returned from the Jackson Hole country, via Rexburg, Idaho, with a consignment of elk heads and bear skins, which he bought from the Indians, who have been hunting in that region, says that the stories of danger are mostly fiction. He was present in a saloon at Rexburg when the story of the massacre of fifty settlers was concocted and written to be sent.

"The people up there," said Mehsey, "regard the whole business as something of a joke. Of course they know it has its serious side, but they are all pioneers, used to serious things and don't mind the danger. Their object in calling for troops is to get the Indians out so as to save the game for the settlers and for tourist hunters, who furnish employment and revenue for the settlers in the summer. I had an order for two Indian scalps. When I told the chief of scouts with the cavalry what I wanted, he laughed and said, 'You are more likely to get darkey scalps,' meaning that colored cavalry are more likely to get hurt than the Indians.

"Beaver Dick, who has lived in Jackson Hole for forty years and has a Bannock wife, told me that the Indians might make some trouble, but that there would be no raids on settlers. He said that if anybody made trouble it would be the settlers, not the Indians. He has gone to the Gros Ventre Mountains to advise the Indians to keep quiet until the excitement dies down."

INDIANS ENCAMPED.

SALT LAKE (Utah,) Aug. 1.—A special from Soda Springs, Idaho, to the Tribune says that 150 Indians are camped on Bear River, two miles east of town, but there is very little excitement. The Cariboo stage-driver reports that 200 Indians camped on William Creek, thirty miles north of here. They came from Jackson Hole and are headed for the reservation. They profess ignorance of any trouble with the whites. Many settlers who came here have started back to their ranches.

REPORT ALL QUIET.

DENVER (Colo.,) Aug. 1.—A News special from Cheyenne says that Adjt.-Gen. Stilzer today wired Gov. Richards that the troops had just entered Teton Pass, en route to Marysville. He stated that all was quiet. Inspector George Woodruff, to whom was referred the appeal of the people at Lewiston and South Pass for arms, reports that he has sent a reliable man into the Sweetwater country to ascertain the condition of affairs.

SETTLERS REASSURED.

SALT LAKE, Aug. 1.—A Tribune special from Market Lake, Idaho, says that reports from the front tonight are to the effect that there are not many Indians in the Jackson-Hole country, and, unless news of a different character is received, Gen. Coppinger will stop the advance of the infantry. The settlers are returning to their homes, reassured by the presence of the troops. Some settlers prominent in the shooting of the escaping Indians that brought on the present difficulty have left for Montana, and others fear prosecution.

Gen. Coppinger moved troops into Marysville today. Settlers say that if the Indans are not found in Hoback Basin they have moved to the head of Green River.

THE OMAHA CRISIS.

Mayor Bemis Issues a Proclamation Commanding Peace.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

OMAHA (Neb.,) Aug. 1.—The old police are in possession of the city property armed with pickhandles to resist any effort made under the new regime. A new force will be appointed this afternoon.

In view of the disturbed condition of affairs in the city at noon today, the Mayor issued the following proclamation:

"By virtue of the authority vested in me by the charter for metropolitan police, which designates the Mayor as chief executive officer and conservator of peace throughout the city, all persons are hereby warned against acts of violence or unlawful assemblages tending to provoke turbulence or create disturbance.

"Without trenching upon the rights of individual citizens to peacefully pursue their vocation, I deem it my duty in view of possible outbreaks, to impress upon all good citizens the necessity of desisting from any demonstration that is liable to bring about a breach of the peace and to that end instructions have been issued to the Chief of Police to disperse unlawful gatherings on the public thoroughfares, especially in the vicinity of public buildings.

(Signed) "GEORGE M. BEMIS.
"Mayor."

Mayor Bemis, when asked what prompted him to issue the riot proclamation, said that it was merely a precautionary measure adopted to prevent trouble. He said nothing had occurred in the shape of a disorderly act or demonstration, so far, on the streets, but from what he had read in the newspapers he believed it was necessary to put the people on their guard against probable trouble.

"I am here to enforce the laws of Nebraska, and that I propose to do," declared Chief of Police White, when asked why he had a reserve force at police headquarters and the official police-alarm operators guarded. "There has been a great deal of inflammatory talk upon the streets, and there have been inflammatory articles printed, and in the event of trouble I want men on hand to suppress it. I do not anticipate any trouble, but if there should be, and I did not have the men to suppress it and preserve the peace and enforce the law, I should be condemned by the public, and rightly, too. As regards the guarding of the police-alarm office, it is guarded because I do not mean to have any one in there that does not belong there. It is the only means which we have for communicating with the men on the beats, and I do not mean that any one who has no right there shall be there."

The doors of the fire and police operators' room were barred, and braced on the inside with timbers.

Editor John C. Thompson of the American, the A.P.A. organ, received the following dispatch this morning:

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.

We can furnish 5000 armed Americans to put down law-breakers in your city at a moment's notice.

(Signed) J. W. DIXON.

No explanation of the dispatch has been made by those who would naturally be in a position to know regarding its authenticity and meaning. During the day there was no assemblages of persons on any of the streets. The conflict of authority, if it occurs at all, will take place after the formal legal demand has been made by the incoming board for recognition at the hands of the police department.

The Governor refused to meet with Atty.-Gen. Churchill and Commissioner Russell this afternoon for the purpose of appointing the police commissioners, stating that he did not care to precipitate trouble. Churchill and Russell declared that if the Governor refused to meet them tomorrow they would appoint the commission and let them use force to secure possession of the police building.

THE CABLE BROKE.

A Wild Slide of Three Hundred Feet at Chicago.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A serious accident happened tonight at the chutes at Sixty-third street and Cottage Grove avenue. A car containing about twenty people was near the top of the chute when the cable broke and the car went tearing down the slide of 300 feet. A wild panic ensued among the people in the car and many of them in their desperate effort to escape were spilled out. Fred Ebett and Miss Cockright may die. Nine others were badly hurt.

There was a wild panic among the crowd of spectators and among the occupants of the other cars, but the wounded were quickly carried away by the ambulance. The slide down which the car flew is fully three hundred feet long and slides at an angle of 35 deg. from the ground. The people who patronized the chutes would get into a car at the bottom of the incline and, after being drawn to the top, would enter a small boat, which would be allowed to slip down the chute at lightning speed into a large pool of water at the bottom of the slide. The accident occurred just as the car reached the top of the incline.

Miss Cockright, it is believed, sustained injuries which will prove fatal. Her head was cut so badly that a portion of the brain oozed out.

BRAZILIAN AFFAIRS.

A Prior Claim to Trinidad Island is Proven.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A Herald dispatch from Buenos Ayres says that a correspondent in Rio de Janeiro telegraphs that Minister Thompson has sent to his government all the facts relative to the English occupation of Trinidad. The English squadron in the South Atlantic is in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro.

Dispatches between Brazil's Foreign Office and the British Minister, it is reported, prove prior claim of Brazil to Trinidad Island. The time these dispatches were interchanged the cruiser Penededo visited the island. The cruiser left Trinidad on April 24 last.

The entire scheme, the correspondent says, is one concocted by a British cable company, who, in the event of Brazil buying extensive lines, will place a direct cable from the island to Argentina, thus depriving Brazil of her share upon all messages to Europe.

The Brazilian Cabinet has met to consider the terms of peace for Rio Grande do Sul. Two ministers oppose the terms. President Moraes, it is said, will issue an appeal to the nation, giving the facts of the rebellion, and asking for a popular vote.

JOE PATCHEN'S FEAT

ROBERT J. BEATEN IN HOLLOW FASHION.

Four Heats Paced in the Fastest Time Ever Made Consecutively in Any Horse Race.

The Bay Gelding Wins but One and Gets That by a Very Narrow Margin.

John L. Sullivan Aspires to Sell Rum—Fourteen Thousand Dollars in Purses at Vallejo—Capt. Anson's New Men.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CLEVELAND, Aug. 1.—Robert J., the king of the light-harness horses, met more than his match this afternoon at the Cleveland Driving Park track, and about ten thousand people witnessed his humiliation.

This was the red-letter day of the grand circuit meeting. The weather was nearly perfect, being only a trifle too cool, and the attendance was up to expectations. There were two regular events on the card besides the unfinished 2:20 pacing race, but the interest, of course, centered in the free-for-all, in which the famous pacers Robert J., Joe Patchen, Directly, Saladin and Mascot were entered. Robert J., with his race record of 2:02½, and a time record of 2:01¼, was the favorite. He was, in fact, a prohibitive favorite before the second heat.

When the horses scored for the first heat, Directly had the pole, but soon after the start Robert J. forged to the front, setting the pace for his competitors, and leading to the wire. Joe Patchen was the only one that did not cover the mile without a break. On the stretch, when he was rapidly overhauling Robert J., he struck a wet piece of track, went into the air and finished a close second. Robert J. was driven hard, and it was evident that he had done his best when he made the wire in 2:05¼.

In the second heat Patchen went to the front and won as he did in the remaining two heats with ease, although Geers did his utmost to urge Robert J. to the front. The bay gelding was fairly beaten, however, in as hot a race as was ever seen, the time of the four heats being the fastest ever paced consecutively in a race, the average being a trifle more than 2:04½.

In the 2:11 trot, William Penn was the favorite, with Klamath and Aunt Delilah sold out of the field. In the first two heats Klamath took the lead, and Lisa Wilkes was sent after him at such a pace that the mare won, Penn and Klamath chasing her home. Wilkes could not hold the pace she had set, however, and Klamath took the next three heats and race with close and exciting finishes. Summaries:

Free-for-all pacing, purse $3000: Joe Patchen (Curry) won, Robert J. (Geers) second, Saladin (Green) third; best time 2:04¼.

The 2:11 class, trotting, purse $3000: Klamath won, Lisa Wilkes second, William Penn third; best time 2:09.

The 2:20 class, pacing, purse $2000, unfinished: Vealus won third, fourth and sixth heats; Gilman won first and second heats; Arcturus won fifth heat; best time 2:11.

THE WAUSEON MEET.

No Records Made Owing to the Very Strong Wind.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WAUSEON (O.,) Aug. 1.—Good weather attended the National Circuit meet here today, but a strong wind that was blowing across the track reduced the possibility of breaking any records, and consequently slow time was made. Two or three bad spills occurred, but none of the riders were injured beyond a few bruises. Just before the races were started a stand containing about one thousand people fell with a crash, and buried the occupants beneath the debris. Beyond a broken arm and numerous bruises no serious injuries were sustained. Lee Richardson went against his backward riding for a quarter mile, which he made in 0:49. The attendance was 8500.

Half a mile open, class A: Barney Oldfield won, E. A. McKeon second, W. C. Emick third; time 1:11 2-5.

Half a mile open, class B: McDonald won, Ziegler second, Rigby third; time 1:19 1-5.

One mile, handicap, class B: C. M. Murphy (20 yards,) won, F. J. Titus (30,) second, E. Kiser (90,) third; time 2:13 1-5.

One mile open, class A: Barney Oldfield won, W. J. Klinger second; time 2:35 4-5.

One mile, class B: H. H. Maddox won, E. Kiser second, Sims third; time 2:41 1-5.

Two miles, handicap, class A: Barney Oldfield (60 yards,) won, W. C. Emick (100,) second, H. M. Hochstetter (80,) third; time 5:07 3-5.

One mile open, special, class B, paced: F. J. Titus won, C. M. Murphy second, E. C. Bald third, Otto Ziegler fourth; time 2:10 2-5.

A VALLEJO SPLURGE.

Fourteen Thousand Dollars Hung Up in Purses for Horses.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

VALLEJO, Aug. 1.—On Tuesday next the races held under the auspices of the Vallejo Driving Park Association will commence. Already a large number of horses have arrived, and the track presents a busy scene. There are fully 125 trotters and pacers already quartered at the track, and each day the number is increasing. Purses aggregating $14,000 will be contested for, and it is predicted that very fast time will be made. Some of the fastest pacers and trotters in California and other States have already arrived.

Every day there will be bicycle races in addition to the other events. Entries of wheelmen are confined to Solano county. Prizes aggregating $350 will be offered.

IT WILL STAND.

A Texas Legal Light on the Prize-fight Law.

DALLAS (Tex.,) Aug. 1.—Ex-Circuit Judge Charles Fred Ticker, regarded as one of the clearest legal minds in Texas, states that the law governing prize-fighting is as follows:

"The last Legislature adopted a new criminal code, which made prize-fighting a misdemeanor, punishable with a fine of not less than $500 nor more than $1000 and imprisonment for thirty days. This law went into operation July 29 just passed. That Legislature also subsequently passed the Civil Code, and it enacted that a fight may take place on taking out a license of $500. This law goes into effect on September 1, thirty days before the Corbett-Fitzsimmons contest. There is no doubt but that the Supreme Court will hold it is or will be a law after the 1st day of September. The Civil Code was adopted last, therefore will take precedence over the former."

This opinion is concurred in by every lawyer of Dallas who has read the law, and it is claimed that there is no power to prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight.

JOHN L.'S AMBITION.

He Applies for a License to Sell Liquor.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—John L. Sullivan wants to sell rum to the thirsty sports and he promises that no "knock-out drops" will be administered in the place. John L. has called on the members of the Police Board with a request for a license. He was neatly attired in a light suit, straw hat and tan shoes. The bluff giant signified that he wanted to see Gen. Martin and incidentally the rest of the police board. He was ushered into the commissioners' room and introduced himself to Chairman Martin.

"I knew you when you were Mayor, General," said Sullivan, and then went on to tell the members of the board that he wanted a liquor license. Chairman Martin told him that all the licenses authorized had been granted and he was not sure the board had the power to issue additional licenses until next May, under the law. Sullivan hopes to have one of the new licenses just the same.

Bay District.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Addie M., at 30 to 1, was the sensation today. Favorites offset this by winning the three last races.

Five furlongs, selling: Addie M. won, Degroat second, Imp. Green third; time 1:01¾.

Six and one-half furlongs, selling: Seraphin won, Nebudchadnezzar second, Ricardo third; time 1:21.

"Cap" Anson's New Men.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Capt. Anson has in tow three new men whose ability he will try out during the coming series with St. Louis and Cincinnati. They are J. P. Fifield of Manchester, N. M.; C. H. More of Rockland, Me., and F. J. Briggs of Cleveland. All have been playing with the Little Rock team and are said to have made good records as pitchers.

The Goodwood Meeting.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—This was the third day of the Goodwood meeting. The principal event was the Goodwood cup, which was won by the Prince of Wales's Florizell II, the winner of the Manchester cup and the gold vase. Lord Penrin's Thesalian was the only other horse in the race.

"Lucky" Not a Buyer.

SARATOGA (N. Y.,) Aug. 1.—There was a report out that "Lucky" Baldwin had completed arrangements for the purchase of Henry of Navarre from Byron McClelland. W. B. Sink, manager of the Santa Anita stables, declares that the report was erroneous.

Backing for Jackson.

LONDON, Aug. 1.—Levy, a prominent London sporting man, offers to back Peter Jackson against James J. Corbett in a glove contest for $10,000, the fight to come off in London in January or February.

Long Island Finals.

SOUTHAMPTON (L. I.,) Aug. 1.—The finals of the tennis tournament were played here today. Howland was in good form, and his brilliant plays were frequent. Tomorrow he plays for the championship. In the game for consolation prizes this afternoon Torrance beat Bowers, 6-1, 6-2, 6-3; Palmer beat Barton, 6-4, 6-2; Lord beat Wellington, 6-2, 6-1. Second round, Moran beat Lord, 6-1, 6-2; Torrance beat Palmer, 6-1, 5-7, 6-4; Torrance beat Moran, 6-1, 6-4. Gentleman's doubles, second round, Howland and Foote beat Chase and Wrenn, 7-5, 6-4.

Rockport's Bait to a Lion.

ROCKPORT (Tex.,) Aug. 1.—Corbett is offered $5000 to train in Rockport and it is probable that he will accept.

WALLER'S FAMILY.

Succored Through the Kindness of an American Engineer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—All of the members of the Waller family are at last out of Madagascar, but their misfortune continues and Mrs. Waller, wife of the harassed ex-Consul, is now with her little children helpless and stranded on an island at the other side of the globe. A letter received today by Paul H. Bray, Waller's son-in-law, and a dispatch received today by the State Department from United States Consul Campbell at the island of Mauritius, both contain notification of the arrival of Mrs. Waller and her four children at Port Louis, Mauritius, from Madagascar, about the middle of June. The letter said that the mother and children were well, but that Mrs. Waller was suffering from intense mental distress, owing to her husband's misfortunes and the hardships she and the children had to undergo. They did not know how they were going to reach the United States, being without money.

Hearing of the appearance of the U.S.S. Castine in Madagascar waters, the mother and children had made their way from the interior of the island to the coast in the hope of securing passage to the United States, but met with failure and disappointment. Albert G. Woodford, an American engineer from New York, who has been in the capital of the Hovas, generously succored them and paid their passage as far as Muritius. Campbell, the American Consul there, could do nothing more for them than to cable the department an appeal for assistance to enable the mother and children to reach the United States. The department is unable to grant relief, and it will be necessary for them to look to friends in this country for aid.

SALVADOR'S CRISIS.

THE PEOPLE OF THE REPUBLIC ARE EXCITED.

Streets of the Capital Filled with Frenzied Mobs Hostile to the President—The Troops Ready for Action—Exiles and Arrests.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SANTA ANA (Salvador,) Aug. 1.—(By South American Cable.) The people here idolize Gen. Regaldo. A committe has been sent to the capitol to intercede with the government for him. Fifty young men belonging to the upper class of society in San Salvador, arrived shortly after daybreak. They say they were forced to leave the capitol to escape arrest and probable death. The people are greatly excited.

IN A STATE OF SIEGE.

SAN SALVADOR, Aug. 1. — The streets are filled with a mob yelling, "Death to Gutierrez and Castellanos." The people are in a frenzy because thirty people belonging to leading families were arrested today, and it is rumored that they were shot inside the barracks.

The troops are ready for action, although the police are trying to clear the streets. The city has been declared in a state of siege. Business places are closed. The city authorities have issued a proclamation calling upon the people to return to their homes, and warning them that the city is under martial law. The crowd seems undecided what to do.

THE TROOPS CALLED OUT.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—A World dispatch from San Salvador says that the troops were called out this afternoon, the police being no longer able to control the mob. The military commander addressed a crowd of three thousand surging about the palace. He declared upon his honor that no arrest had been made at any time for a political offense, and called on the people to disperse. Part of the people left, and others remained until they saw the military preparing for charging, when they scattered. Quiet is now restored.

FIRE AT BROOKLYN.

A Covered Pier Destroyed and Some Shipping Damaged.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

BROOKLYN (N. Y.,) Aug. 1.—Fire today destroyed the covered pier of Beard's stores, and did considerable damage to shipping. The bark Cairnehill from Calcutta took fire, as did two canal-boats, three lighters and a pile-driving vessel. The Cairnehill was towed out in the stream, where, after a stubborn fight by the men on board and by the two fireboats, the flames were extinguished. The canal-boats were also towed away before they had sustained any irreparable injury.

One of the lighters, however, belonging to the New York Central Railroad Company, was destroyed. The second, the property of the New York Lighterage and Transportation Company, was considerably damaged. The third, the Walter Keats, belonging to the Green Point Lighterage Company, also sustained a good deal of damage. A rough estimate made by the fire department officials places the total losses at $150,000. Of this, $25,000 was assigned as the value of the pier, which is an old one. The rest of the amount was distributed betwen the Cairnehill, the lighters and canal-boats with the cargoes of jute and saltpetre, which the smaller were unloading from the bark.

The fire was said to have originated in some mysterious way in the bales of jute lying on the pier. The moment it reached the saltpetre there was a serious explosion, which, however, hurt no one. The Cairnehill is owned by David Corser & Co. of Liverpool, and cost $150,000. Most of its cargo, which was originally valued at $100,000, had been unloaded. Whatever loss was incurred was fully covered by insurance. The vessels and the pier were also insured.

Run into by a Whaleback.

CLEVELAND (O.,) Aug. 1.—M. A. Bradley, owner of the big steamer Alva, today received the following dispatch from Saulte Ste. Marie from Capt. J. A. Holmes, master of the Alva:

"Barge (whaleback) No. 117 ran into the Alva at the engine-room gangway, making a large hole about three feet below the main deck. The engine-room is full of water. Will put a steam-pump aboard to keep the cargo free."

The Alva was loaded with ore. The whaleback was in tow of the steamer E. M. Beck. Both of the latter vessels were also ore-laden. The whaleback took a sudden sheer when near the Alva, which caused the collision. Her nose struck the Alva three feet below the main deck, making a ragged hole. The Alva filled rapidly and soon went to the bottom. The Alva's bow is kept afloat with pumps while her stern rests on the bottom. Temporary repairs will be made as soon as possible and she can possibly be raised within a day or two. The stem of the whaleback is badly damaged, and her forward hold is full of water. She can be kept afloat, however, with pumps. Both vessels are fully insured.

CAMPOS'S CENSURE.

TOO MUCH "FAKED" NEWS TO PLEASE HIM.

He Issues a Proclamation in Which a Press Censorship is Established.

The Staff Officer Will Hand Out the Information Which Can be "Run."

The Organization of the Junta—Gen. Quesada Publicly Proclaims His Intention to Lead an Expedition—The Vesuvius.

HAVANA, Aug. 1.—Capt. Gen. de Campos has issued the following proclamation:

"There being instances often and repeatedly of the press publishing facts, news and correspondence which is misleading to public opinion and tends to favor the work of the insurgent forces and to damage that of the national army, I avail myself of the right that the third article of the law of April 23, 1870, bestows on me, and I decree the following:

"'Article I. It is absolutely prohibited to publish news referring to the campaign when it is not of official origin.

"'Article II. The staff officers will hand to the press the news and facts, the publication of which is not included in the above clause.

PLANNING TO STEAL THE VESUVIUS.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1. — The Evening Bulletin today has the following:

"At a secret meeting of Cuban sympathizers in this city last night, at which a number of prominent leaders of the movement were present, a daring project was revealed. It was nothing less than a plan to steal the dynamite cruiser Vesuvius from the League Island Navy-yard, man her with a picked crew, and send her to Havana to lay Moro Castle in ruins and seal the fate of Spanish domain in the gem of the Antilles. The scheme caused a great deal of excitement. The more conservative of Cuban-Americans denounced it and its projectors, and warned those present not to allow themselves to countenance the idea, as it would only tend to wean sympathizers from the insurgents' cause.

"An enthusiastic advocate of Cuban independence said today: 'If the naval officers don't look out, the vessel will be missing some morning from her moorings at League Island. Within a week a man who has walked the deck of many a vessel, who cares much for gold, and who has risked his life to obtain it dozens of times, made the following proposition to certain people: "Give me $200,000 and I will steal the Vesuvius, run into Havana Harbor, and in ten minutes lay Moro Castle in a heap of ruins."'

"If the Vesuvius ever got clear of the wharf and steam up, there is nothing in the American navy that could catch her, and officials here have nothing to send in pursuit but the revenue cutter Hamilton, and the Vesuvius would run away from her like greased lightning."

THE CUBAN JUNTA.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Herald today says that when Gen. Quesada publicly proclaimed recently in Hardman Hall in this city his intention of leading an expedition into Cuba he carefully designated his as the fourth that would land there. The third has landed. The junta in New York is getting ready for Quesada now, but his expedition will not sail from Venezuela, notwithstanding the feint that is being made to maneuver from that direction.

A portion of the material which is to be taken into Cuba by Gen. Quesada was shipped from this city not two days ago. It did not go to Venezuela, although Gen. Quesada left this city on the Red Line steamer Philadelphia with the alleged intention of going to La Guayra and from there to Caracas.

The organization of the junta proper has just been officially promulgated, and it is as follows: Delegate, Thomas Estrada Palma; treasurer, Benjamin Guerra; secretary of the delegation, Gonzalo de Quesada. Board of counsellors, Cayo Hueso, president, J. D. Poyo; Ramon River; Tampa, Fla., president, Arturo Gonzales; secretary, Jose Rivero; West Tampa, president, Cecilio Henriquez; secretary, Gualterio Garcia; New York, president, Juan Fraza; secretary, Antonio Comero; Philadelphia, president, Dr. Juan Guileras; secretary, J. Gonzales; Marti City, (Ocala,) president, Guilleramo Zorondo; secretary, Martin Roderiguez; Jamaica, president, J. M. Rondon; secretary, Miguel Fornaris; Vera Cruz, president, Jose Miguel Macias; secretary, Ignacio Zarragoitna.

THE PHILADELPHIA EXPEDITION

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 1.—News was received by the local Cuban clubs here today that the expedition made up in this city and which is said to have sailed last Thursday has reached Cuba safely. The vessel is said to have been in charge of Capt. Humes.

THE EXCLUSION ACT.

Its Validity is Called in Question at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The validity of the Chinese Exclusion Act has been called in question in the case of four Chinamen who were arrested in Detroit, charged with attempting to evade the law. They were sentenced to ten days each in a Detroit workhouse and deportation at the expiration of their terms of imprisonment. Attorney Springer of Detroit, intercepted the deputy United States marshal who had the four men in custody and a writ returnable today was issued compelling the marshal to show cause why the prisoners should not be released on the groud that the charges made in the warrant were too vague.

By the advice of the Circuit Judge before whom the case was heard, the matter was taken before Judge Grosscup of the United States Court. The latter continued the case until September 1, giving Chinamen freedom until then in bonds of $50,000 for the four. When the case comes to trial, the law will be attacked, the Chinamen's attorneys claiming that it is invalid as it excludes only laborers and is otherwise full of weak points.

A FOOL'S REVENGE.

Herman Tyler's Motive for Attempting to Wreck a Train.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

JACKSON (Mich.,) Aug. 1.— Monday night an attempt was made to wreck the Chicago express on the Michigan Central, near Mattawan, a small station near Kalamazoo. A young man named Warwick was walking along the track, when he discovered a stick of bridge-timber lying across the rails, only a few moments before the time of the train. The matter was placed in the hands of Detective Parker, who learned that a young man named Herman Tyler had been talking of the affair a good deal, and finally arrested him.

Tyler pleaded guilty and was placed in Pawpaw jail. He said it was placed there because he thought suspicion would be directed toward a man named Freeman, and he wanted to get even with him for some fancied wrong. The locality where the attempt was made Monday night is on a very high grade, and had the obstruction not been discovered, a frightful loss of life might have resulted.

MEXICAN GLEANINGS.

Crash at a Circus—Duelists Fire on the Police.

CITY OF MEXICO, Aug. 1.—The Monterey Mineral Railroad, which now runs to the San Pedro mining district, is about to be extended forty kilometers. The road is largely owned by Baltimore parties.

A representative of a London syndicate is here negotiating with Richard Honey, owner of the concession for the road from Pacahua to Tampico, of which a small portion is graded. The English capitalists propose, if they buy the property, to extend the line, which is standard guage, to Tampico.

Count Reno Cornet, one of the chief promoters of the Mexican International Exposition, has purchased from Salvador 560 acres of land for a site for the exposition, the price being $800,000. The count expects to have the exposition ready by the end of May, and says that ample capital has been subscribed.

The Democratia newspaper, which has been temporarily suspended by the police, appeared again today. The paper has been sued by the proprietor of the Monitor Republicano for libel. The Democratia vehemently denounces the police agent who ordered the seizure of its recent issues.

A portion of the masonry of the staircase in a building at Celaya fell, injuring a large number of people, who had crowded the stairway in an endeavor to escape from a furious storm which burst during the circus performance. Many circus people were badly injured.

Two men in Celaya agreed to fight a duel to the death. The police, hearing of their intention, started in pursuit, when the intending duelists, making common cause, turned on the police, killing one gendarme and seriously wounding another.

Maria Isabel Ferdandez, who killed another woman in a duel with a knife, has been sentenced to four years' imprisonment, and Teodora Vargas, the woman who lent the knife to Isabel, got two years. This, it is considered, affords a precedent for the judge in the coming case against Col. Romero for killing Veraguesta.

Many citizens of this city were today without bread, owing to the rapidly-extending strike of journeymen bakers. The journeymen receive $1.50 per day. Fourteen strikers, sentenced to five days in prison for disorderly conduct, were released today.

A fight occurred between a Cuban and a Spaniard at the Tacuba Theater. The police did not interfere.

Several tradesmen, whose shops are located on the property of the Boleo mines in Lower California, the property of the Paris Rothschilds, have been suddenly notified to evacuate the company's land, and have brought suit for damages.

THE PUBLIC DEBT.

An Increase of Over Thirty-eight Million Dollars.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The monthly statement of the public debt shows the total debt on July 31, less cash in the treasury, to have been $940,108,905, an increase for the month of $38,435,928. This increase is due to the delivery to the London Syndicate during the month of $31,157,700 in 4-per-cent. bonds, together with a loss of $8,090,822 in available cash. The debt is recapitulated as follows:

Interest-bearing debt, $747,360,400; debt on which interest has ceased since maturity, $1,699,650; debt bearing no interest, $387,198,884; total, $1,127,258,345; certificates and treasury notes offset by an equal amount of cash in the treasury, $581,799,698.

The cash in the treasury today is classified as follows: Gold, $155,354,065; silver, $512,746,149; paper, $123,376,791; bonds, disbursing officers' balances, etc., $15,920,823; total, $807,397,830, against which there are demand liabilities amounting to $620,248,300, leaving a cash balance in the treasury of $187,149,510.

The monthly statement of the receipts and expenditures of the government during the month of July shows receipts, $29,069,697, as against $34,809,397 for July, 1894. The disbursements during July, 1895, amounted to $38,548,063, as against $36,648,582 for July, 1894. Of the receipts $14,076,893 was from customs and $12,898,405 from internal revenue. During July, 1894, the receipts from customs were $8,437,338, and from internal revenue, $25,200,487.

The pension payments last month amounted to $12,755,427, a reduction of about $147,000 from July, 1894.

COMPTROLLER ECKELS'S REPORT.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—The statement prepared by the Comptroller of Currency is as follows: Amount of national bank notes outstanding on July 31 was $211,281,900, an increase for the year of $3,836,410; amount of circulation based on United States bonds was $186,577,433, an increase for the year of $5,521,499; circulation secured by lawful money, $24,704,475, a decrease for the year of $1,685,030; amount of United States registered bonds on deposit to secure circulating notes, $207,832,800; to secure public deposits, $15,328,000.

THE NEGRO COLONISTS.

Eighteen Cases of Smallpox Among the Refugees.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 1.—Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine Hospital Service is in telegraphic communication with the treasury officials and the State health officials in Texas concerning the sanitary and health conditions of the refugee negro colonists who have arrived at Eagle Pass from the vicinity of Torreon, Mex. In response to an inquiry from Dr. Wyman, Collector Fitch informed him on Wednesday last that there were 244 of the refugees in camp, and that there are eighteen cass of smallpox in the crowd.

Fitch also stated that it was reported there were 200 more of the colonists to leave Torreon for Eagle Pass on Wednesday, and that there were forty sick in that crowd. State Health Officer Swearingen states that the colonists were quarantined four miles from Eagle Pass on the American side of the river. He adds that the smallpox patients are isolated, and that they are receiving the attention required by sanitation.

Hunting for Treasure.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 1.—The woods are full of treasure hunters in the neighborhood of the place described by the train-robber, Brady, as the spot where $53,000 was buried. Since Brady's capture detectives have guarded the spot, but this morning it was announced that any one was at liberty to hunt, and that one-fourth of the treasure found would be paid as a reward to the lucky finder. As a consequence this morning the railroad track was lined with men going out for the purpose of hunting treasure.

A Yardman Robbed and Beaten.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Edward Faulkner is dying at the Receiving Hospital from a fractured skull. He is employed as a yardman by the Southern Pacific. Last night he slept in a box-car. During the night he was badly beaten and robbed of 60 cents.

Cloudburst on Hardscrabble Creek in Colorado—Crops and Fruit-trees Are Greatly Damaged. Railroad Washouts.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.,) Aug. 1.—Another cloudburst has occurred and the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad company's new bridge at Rio Puerco has been wrecked. Farmers' homes are flooded and the fields ruined. Hail has fallen, accompanied by rain and crops on the high ground are lying flat as if a monster roller had passed over them. A train was sent to meet the eastbound train at Rio Puerco. The country is flooded as far south as El Paso and as far west as Williams. Railroad tracks are in places very dangerous, and much care is being exercised to have the weak places closely watched.

Tonight it is not thought that any one in the valley close to the river could have escaped death. The railroad company is making heroic efforts to relay its tracks. All day a large force of men has been gathering up rails from all parts of the bottom lands where sections of track had been carried, many of them hundreds of feet in length.

The cloudburst was one of the most remarkable ever seen in this country. Two clouds were approaching, each driven by conflicting currents of air. Near Snake Creek, about eight miles from the city, the clouds met with a crash that could plainly be heard in the streets here. In an instant three rivers poured through the principal thoroughfares of the town. Huge boulders, bridge timbers, logs and an ocean of small stones poured down with the mighty mass of waters. Nothing could resist the torrent. It swept men along with it in its mighty rush. To the great mass of debris carried down from the mountains was added the timbers of homes that had stood the onslaught of rain and wind for years. Struggling in the mass were men, women and children in danger not alone from the swift, rushing waters, but from the stones, timbers, etc., which were being dashed against them.

The Southern arroyo destroyed great portions of the Magdalene bridge, washing sections from 100 to 200 feet into the upper part of the town, and destroying six bridges. The northern stream destroyed several houses and flooded almost every building in West Socorro, doing great damage to houses and gardens and swamping the middle part of the town. The middle arroyo came down with the force of a mill-race, twenty feet high, tearing everything before it to pieces and devouring human lives on its way.

TUESDAY'S VICTIMS.

ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.,) Aug. 1.—Up to 10 o'clock tonight eight bodies of persons who were stricken down by the terrible rush of waters Tuesday have been recovered. The list of known dead is as follows:

A child of ELIAS BACA.
LEANDRO DURAN.
TOMAS DURAN.
CELIA DURAN.
J. B. DURAN.
— DURAN.

In addition to these, Zafrina Baca, grandmother of the Duran children, will die of her injuries. Searching parties now in the bottom lands have found a wagon and two dead horses attached to it, though nothing can be found of the body of the driver, who is supposed to certainly have been drowned. Reports coming to the city this evening are to the effect that a number of persons are miss

A Lone Passenger Endeavors to Hide His Wad, but He is Caught in the Act.

An American Claims Damages from Hawaii—A Chinatown Feud—Father Nugent Under Suspicion. The Durrant Case.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

MERCED, Aug. 1.—The Coulterville stage was held up and robbed at 2 o'clock this afternoon six miles this side of Snelling. George Kirk was driving and had one passenger, Constanso Bartolomo. As Kirk rounded one of the hilly curves between the Six-mile House and Snelling he came suddenly upon a lone highwayman, who greeted him with a request to stop, and emphasized the request by pointing two big pistols at Kirk's head. He instructed Kirk to throw out the express box, then made him get out and break the box open with a sledge-hammer.

During this performance a boy who lives at the Six-mile House drove up with a cart. The robber made him get out and hitch his cart to the pole and then go in front of the stage team and hold the leaders. During all this time two men, who were apparently partners of the robber, were standing on a hillside about two hundred yards distant from the scene of the robbery. After the highwayman had taken all the contents of the express box, consisting of four packages, contents unknown, he made Kirk proceed toward Merced, while he turned and walked toward the two men on the hill.

Bartolomo, the only passenger on the stage, had $9 in his pocket. As soon as he realized that the man was a robber he took the money out of his pocket and tried to hide it under the seat, but the robber caught him in the act and captured the money. Kirk, the driver, says that the robber was very cool and deliberate and was evidently an old hand at the business. When he had finished his work he asked Kirk if the Mariposa stage would be along in a little while, and when Kirk told him the Mariposa stage came down another road across the mountains from where they were, he said he guessed he would not have time to rob that stage today. As soon as the news was brought to town a posse was organized and started in pursuit of the robber. Up to 10 o'clock tonight none of the posse had returned.

"ZANTE CURRANTS."

Secretary Carlisle Instructs Collectors of Ports to Collect Duties.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The dispatches from Washington intimating that the appeal of Collector Wise in the "Zante currants" case, will be dismissed at the request of the Secretary of the Treasury, are not believed by local Federal officials. The Secretary fully understands the case, and evidently approves of it because he has instructed the collectors of ports to collect duty on all importations of currants subject to the decision that will be rendered by the United States Circuit Court.

The government officials are making elaborate arrangements for the case. Zante currant bushes with ripe fruit upon them will be brought into court, and a number of college professors and expert growers of grapes will be called upon to decide whether or not the Zante currants are a specie of the grape. The Thompson seedless grapes will also be shown with the expectation of convincing the court that they are in every particular like the Zante production.

If the Zante currants are declared by the court to be grapes, it will add at least a million dollars to the government's revenue. At the present time in accordance with a decision of the Board of General Appraisers, the fruit is admitted free of duty.

A DURRANT SENSATION.

Another Important Witness Found—The Clarke Story.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The police have learned of a witness whose story, if repeated in court, may prove disastrous against Theodore Durrant's defense against the murder charges with which he is dealing. The new witness is a woman, and it is said that she declares that on the night of the murder of Minnie Williams, Durrant arrived home very late and burned something, probably clothing, in a stove, before he retired to his bedroom.

The young medical student claims that on the night Minnie Williams met her tragic end he escorted two young ladies home from the reception at the Vogel residence, and then went to his own abode, on Fair Oaks street, where he remained until about 5 o'clock the next morning. The police have contended all along that Durrant strangled Minnie Williams before he went to Dr. Vogel's, and after the reception returned and hacked her body with a knife. The story on which they are now working follows up this idea.

Mrs. Durrant, the mother of the accused, has stated that her son arrived home on that eventful night about the same time as usual, and went directly to bed. This story has just been directly contradicted by a woman who claims that she stopped in the Durrant house that night. She has told a feminine friend of hers that she was awakened by the noise which Durrant made getting into the house.

"I heard a noise down stairs," said she, "made by somebody who was at the stove. Mrs. Durrant called out, 'Is that you, Theodore?' The answer came, 'Yes.' 'What are you doing down there?' asked the young man's mother. 'I am burning some old letters of mine,' he replied. I paid no more attention to the matter, but soon I detected the odor of burning clothing. It was long after midnight when this occurred, and I thought no more of the murder until I heard that Theodore was charged with the murder of Minnie Williams. Then the experience of that night came back to me. But I have kept my own counsel, as I do not wish to get mixed up in the matter."

The police authorities are very reticent as to this important witness, but the general impression is that they have located her, and will have her in court at the proper time.

Capt. Lees, chief of detectives, in speaking on the subject today, admitted that he had heard the story, but would give no information as to the identity of the witness. In fact, he denied that he knew her.

"The only way in which such matter could be effective," said he, "would be to have this witness tell her story on the witness-stand. I have heard that the lady has told the story, but whether she will tell it in court is another matter."

The Chronicle says:

"Charles H. Clarke did not see Blanche Lamont with a man who looked like Theodore Durrant, but who was not Durrant, on a Powell-street car on April 3, the day Miss Lamont was murdered in Emanuel Church. Therefore Clarke's deposition will not be taken in Boston, to be used at the trial of Durrant, and the testimony of three young girls that they saw Durrant and Miss Lamont on the car will go unchallenged so far as Clarke is concerned.

"Today Mrs. Clarke, wife of the man who is now in Boston, made a statement to Capt. Lees, Dist. Atty. Barnes, Eugene Deuprey and John H. Dickinson, which proves conclusively that Clarke could not have been on a Powell-street car at the time Blanche Lamont is known to have taken her last street-car ride. She also exhibited a letter from Clarke to herself, written from Boston, in which he stated that he was mistaken as to the date.

"The latter said that Clarke was riding on the dummy of a Powell-street car, and sitting close to him was a young lady escorted by a young man. At the corner of Powell and Market streets the young lady took a transfer to a Market-street car. The young man took no transfer. Clarke stated that he saw the couple 'Good-by, Miss Lamont,' as he raised his hat and left her.

"It is known that Clarke, on April 3, the day Blanche was murdered, was at his mother's bedside all day until 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. It was, therefore, impossible for him to have seen Miss Lamont on a street car that day. Clarke's mother came here from Los Angeles about April 1, and had a surgical operation performed. On April 3 she was very ill, and because of that illness, Mrs. Clarke remembers the date. On that day Clarke arose at 8 o'clock, and after breakfast went to his mother's house, where he remained all day. Mrs. Clarke remembers a day when Clarke could have seen Miss Lamont with a man, but it was not the day the girl was murdered. It was a week prior to April 3. As a result of these developments the police are highly delighted, as Clarke's testimony as outlined by the defense would have seriously affected the case of the prosecution against Durrant."

THE SIXTH JUROR.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—A fifth juror was secured at the forenoon session of the Superior Court, where Theodore Durrant is being tried for the murder of Blanche Lamont. He is Walter S. Brown, a wholesale merchant. At the afternoon session, when thirty talesmen had been excused, C. P. Nathan, also a merchant, was accepted by both sides and sworn in as the sixth juror. The case then went over until Monday.

As the trial progresses interest in it seems to lag. The crowd of morbidly curious people who have assembled at the courtroom door day after day is growing less. It may be that the cessation of interest is due to the fact that the court proceedings are confined to the dull work of securing a jury. When the taking of testimony begins, interest in the Emanuel Church tragedies may revive.

THE CAREYS' UNCLE.

He Turns Up Dead, but Leaves Them no Money.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SANTA CRUZ, Aug. 1.—Among the pioneers who came to California was Cornelius King, an uncle of Florence, Michael and James Carey of the Pajaro Valley. None of the Careys ever heard of their uncle residing in California, and all trace of him was lost in the fifties. King never communicated with them and they regarded him as dead years ago. Last week they learned that King had died in August of last year leaving a large estate, which he had bequeated by will to four nephews in New York, and disinherited his own brothers and sisters.

The Careys employed George P. Burke, a Watsonville attorney, to investigate King's affairs, and he went to San Francisco for that purpose and learned that King had been an inmate of the Napa Asylum from 1892 until he died, and that the estate consists of over $200,000 cash on deposit in a San Francisco bank. In the Humboldt Savings Union alone he had on deposit $134,000. The Careys and their relatives in Europe are preparing to file a contest in San Francisco to revoke the will.

There are circumstances surrounding the execution of the will which will be among the sensational features of the contest when it comes to trail. The Careys are well-to-do farmers, having resided in the Pajaro Valley for many years.

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

Coronado Man Arrested—San Diego is Flooded.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 1.—A man giving the name of Wallace J. Miller was arrested today on the charge of passing counterfeit money. He lives at Coronado with his wife, and has been in straightened circumstances. It is alleged that he passed bogus coins on a number of people, receiving good money in change.

There has been much complaint here by merchants lately of the number of counterfeit pieces in circulation, and it was thought some members of the San Bernardino gang had been working the city. Miller was locked up for examination before the United States Commissioner.

HAWAIIAN ADVICES.

An American Claims Damages—The Opposition Steamships.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

HONOLULU, July 25.—(Per Steamer Mariposa wired from San Francisco August 1.) Much pressure is being brought to bear to cause the Legislature now in session to adopt a joint resolution instructing the President to reopen annexation negotiations with the United States.

United States Minister Willis has filed the claim of James Durrell, an American citizen, for $25,000 damages against the Hawaiian government for his arrest and imprisonment during the revolt of last January. No charge was made against Durrell at the time, and he was simply held on suspicion and afterward released. Willis, in his letter to Minister Hatch on the subject, points out that Durrell claims he had no connection with any conspiracy, and he declares that Durrell's statements establish in the opinion of the President of the United States a prima facie claim for substantial damages. It is believed that the matter will result in further international complications, as it is understood that the Hawaiian government will pay Durrell nothing.

James Horsburg of the Southern Pacific Company has been here recently, and it has been learned that he conferred with the government and business men with regard to starting an opposition line of steamers from San Francisco to Honolulu. It is believed that one of the Occidental and Oriental steamers will soon be calling here regularly

HILBORN TURNS TAIL.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Congressman Hilborn, who returned from Hawaii today, has placed himself on record as opposed to the annexation of the islands by the United States. In discussing the question he said:

"I can freely say that I do not believe it would be a wise thing for this country to undertake, or at least while the present conditions prevail. The population consists chiefly of Japanese, Chinese and Portuguese, with a small proportion of American or English-speaking people. The per cent. of illiteracy is much greater among the whites than among the Kanakas, and perplexing questions as to what kind of government this country should extend to the islands would affront us, and who of that mixed people should be given the franchise would also have to be determined.

"The present government is not satisfactory to a majority of the people there, especially the natives. It is practically an oligarchy, and the idea of a republic on such lines is laughed at. It is not popular and its safety is menaced as it stands. The great mass have no voice except in the election of the lower house. The Senate is elected by the property-holders, who represent but a few thousand of the people, and many of them are more illiterate than the natives. Much respect is shown to President Dole. He is considered able and conscientious, and is generally liked. The Japanese are the most aggressive and most to be feared. They quickly learn the ways and take every advantage. They have driven many Portuguese traders out of business and are much like the Chinese here. They import everything from Japan and spend little on the islands.

"The wisest thing the country could do regarding the islands would be to form some close reciprocal treaty which would give them the same advantages as our States, and insure their markets for us. They would, of course, be required to put a tax upon all imports from other countries which came in competition with our products. If this is done, and we extend a protectorate over the islands, both countries would derive the advantage of annexation while they would be allowed to govern themselves as they saw fit."

On the question of a Pacific cable, Hilborn said: "If there is a cable laid at any time in the near future, it will have to be built by this country. It would not pay any private party to build it. I believe, though, it would pay the government. The Pacific will in some emergency be the rendezvous for the navies of the world, and telegraphic communication with Honolulu will be a great saving to us in handling our ships. There would be considerable revenue besides, and I would vote favorably on the proposition."

MISSING THOUSANDS.

Father Dennis Nugent Requested to Account for Trust Funds.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Charges of a serious nature are made by the heirs of the late Ellen Gallagher against Father Dennis Nugent of St. Rose's parish. They are that he, as the executor of the estate, has failed to account for nearly $20,000 which, it is claimed, was intrusted to him, and that he has shown a disposition to deprive the alleged rightful heirs of what should be theirs. These accusations are embodied in a petition filed in the Superior Court.

The heirs demand that Father Nugent be cited to appear in court and indicate the whereabouts of the alleged missing thousands, and that he be required to refund the same to the estate.

The money not accounted for, say the heirs, is either being held by the executor, or has been disposed of in some manner unknown to them. They go further and intimate that had it not been for the powerful influence which Father Nugent exerted over Mrs. Gallagher, she would, in their opinion, have provided for them in her will more generously than she did. The heirs claim that although Mrs. Gallagher received $146,000 from her husband's estate, she left an estate of but a little over $20,000.

A SACRAMENTO STABBING.

The Son of a Street Contractor probably Fatally Wounded.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 1.—A young man named John Hughes, the son of Michael Hughes, a street contractor, was stabbed tonight and probably fatally injured.

Young Hughes had some trouble with George Williams, a young man who boarded at his father's house. Williams, it is claimed, followed Hughes from the house to the stable, keeping up the quarrel, and became so offensive in his language that Hughes struck him in the face. Then Williams cut him in the stomach with a pocket knife, it is asserted, inflicting a terrible wound. It is feared that the wound will prove fatal. Young Hughes could give no account of the affair.

The police arrested Williams and George Harvey on suspicion of having committed the crime. Harvey claims that he saw Williams do the cutting, and Williams denies that he did it. A young man named Harry Wagner was also taken into custody, as he was present when the trouble took place, and is suspected of having had a hand in it.

A CHINATOWN FEUD.

Merchants of the Sam Yup Co. Boycotted by Celestials.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—The situation in Chinatown continues to grow more serious each day. The feud between the Sam Yup and the Ng Yung men, due to the arrest of the latter for the murder of Chung Wai, a member of the Sam Yup family, has developed into a boycott on the Sam Yup merchants. The intimidation being used to enforce the boycott is expected to lead to a murderous conflict.

Clashes between representatives of the rival societies are of frequent occurrence and several riots have been narrowly averted. The consul-general and the Six Companies have given up trying to make peace and say that matters must now take their course. Every conference which has been held has ended in disorder and no more meetings will be called.

HIGHER THAN MT. HOOD.

Washington Claims More Land on End Than Oregon.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

SEATTLE (Wash.), Aug. 1.—Mt. Adams in this State is 12,402 feet high, according to figures based on calculations made by Prof. Edgar McClure of the University of Oregon, who carried a mercurial barometer to the summit on July 10 with the heliographic party. He has deduced the altitude from figures taken at this place, Portland and Eugene, Or., and finds the above result as a mean.

Heretofore the mountain has been thought to be only a little more than 11,000 feet, but the new figures make it 197 feet higher than Mt. Hood, Or., and establishes the fact that Washington has the highest and next highest peaks in the Cascade Range from the British Columbia line to Colombia.

AN INSANE WOMAN'S ACT.

A Pioneer Merchant of Redding is Killed by His Wife.

REDDING, Aug. 1.—Frank Miller, a pioneer merchant, was killed in his store this morning by his insane wife. Miller was in the inner room with his wife, who has been considered insane for years, but who had never been sent to the asylum.

His wife, who confessed the crime, says that she cut him on the head with a hatchet as he stooped to lift a box. She says she did not intend to kill him.

Electric Headlights.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Electric lights will soon succeed oil lamps for headlights on all the locomotives on passenger trains on the Southern Pacific road. The company has been experimenting with electric headlights for some time, and has at last perfected a light that can be manufactured by a dynamo on the locomotive, which will illuminate the track for 3000 feet. Oil lamps only illuminate the track for 200 feet ahead of the locomotive, and when running at high speed, engineers are frequently unable to stop after observing an obstruction on the track, in time to prevent an accident. The Southern Pacific will be the first railroad company in the United States to equip all its passenger-train locomotives with electric headlights.

Receivers for Growing Crops.

PORTLAND (Or.), Aug. 1.—In the United States Court yesterday Judge Bellinger rendered an important decision in which he refused to grant compensation for a receiver appointed to take charge of a farm property and its growing crops. He laid down the rule that such appointments are illegal and should not be made. The Judge declares that the practice of appointing receivers just before harvest, in order that the mortgagee, through the agency of a receiver, may reap where the mortgager has sown is unlawful and in violation of the right of possession in the mortgagor until foreclosure has become absolute.

Santa Rosa Canneries Canning.

SANTA ROSA, Aug. 1.—The Santa Rosa canneries commenced operations this week. Owing to the small quantities of fruit received thus far employment has been furnished to only about three hundred men. The farmers appear to be holding back waiting for an advance in the price of fruit. There is no scarcity of help. More people are looking for work than can possibly obtain it here. There is a big crop of peaches and producers are looking for good prices while buyers do not seem to think they can pay as much as they want.

Alameda County Equalization.

OAKLAND, Aug. 1.—The Dalton suit to test the legality of the action of the Board of Equalization in extending the time of the Alameda County Board of Equalization, so that the latter board cut the assessment of 1895 nearly $2,000,000, was filed today. This brings before the court the question of the legality of the acts of the State Board of Equalization.

No Wife, but Divorced.

STOCKTON, Aug. 1.—Mrs. Catherine Kelly was today granted a divorce from John Kelly. The couple were married in San Jose and Mrs. Kelly afterward discovered that her husband had a wife in Ireland. Kelly has decamped.

An Aeronaut Injured.

PHOENIX (Ariz.,) Aug. 1.—An aeronaut named Burke, made a balloon ascension here tonight by moon light. In descending his parachute struck Joseph Thalheimer's residence. He is seriously injured and will probably die.

A Deacon Expelled.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Meyer Straus, a deacon of the First Congregational Church, was expelled last night for writing a letter in which he criticised Dr. C. O. Brown, the pastor.

FLASHES FROM THE WIRES.

Prof. von Silb, the German historian, is dead at Berlin, aged 78 years.

A Somerville (Mass.) dispatch says that ex-Mayor Hugh O'Brien of Boston died at the home of his son, Rev. Father James O'Brien.

The Panama Railway Wednesday handled 3700 tons of transit freight. The strike is ended and the strikers are receiving their usual wages.

A Milwaukee dispatch says that it transpires that the missing yacht Sunbeam is a myth and the so-called Commodore Englis, who represented himself as the yacht's anxious owner, is a humbug.

A Memphis (Tenn.) dispatch says that Hon. J. A. Taylor, United States District Attorney for the western district of Tennessee, died at his home in that city shortly after midnight, aged 55 years.

The monthly statement prepared by the Director of the Mint shows that during the month of July the total coinage of the mints amounted to $3,285,000, as follows: Gold, $2,910,000; silver, $277,000; minor coins, $48,000.

A Fort Smith (Ark.) dispatch says that George and John Pierce, sentenced by Judge Parker to be hanged for murder, have been granted appeals to the Supreme Court of the United States, and the execution will not take place.

The London Daily Telegraph's Berlin correspondent says that Rt. Hon. Sir E. B. Malt, British Ambassador to Germany, has resigned and desires to retire from active service in October, probably on account of the bad health of himself and wife.

A dispatch from Sofia to the London Standard says that the persecution of the widow of Stambouloff does not abate. The servants are not able to leave the house without being arrested, searched and menaced, unless they agree to quit her service.

A Durham (N. C.) dispatch says that Ream's large tobacco warehouse and opera-house, Blacknall's drug store and Ellis & Stone's dry goods store, besides several small business-houses, were burned yesterday. The loss will aggregate $100,000.

A Carrollton (Mo.) dispatch says that counsel for each side began agruments before the jury in the Taylor murder trial yesterday. Each side was given seven hours. Arguments will probably be concluded in the morning and the case be given to the jury by noon.

Indictments have been found at New York against Sheriff Tamsen, ex-Warden Rabbe and the former keepers, Schner and Schoen, of the Ludlow-street jail, for permitting the escape of Killorane, Allen and Russell, United States prisoners charged with postoffice robbery.

An Eagle Pass (Tex.) dispatch says that fourteen negro colonists have arrived from Mexico and were immedfately placed in strict quarantine. Two hundred and fifty-eight are now at the quarantine station, and twenty-five cases of smallpox have fully developed. Two hundred more negro colonists are expected to arrive between the 1st and 5th inst.

The correspondent of the London Times at Shanghai telegraphs to that paper that a commissioner under Consul Tratman, the composition of which cannot be regarded as adequate, has been ordered to go to Cheng-Tu to inquire into the recent riots there, in which it was feared at one time the British and American missionaries had been killed.

A St. Louis (Mo.) dispatch says that Lieut.-Col. S. M. Whitside, who will assume command at Jefferson Barracks this morning, arrived from Clark, Tex., Wednesday and registered at the Planters' Hotel. Col. Whitside will relieve Col. Purington, who has been in charge of the barracks several months, and who was placed on the retired list on July 17.

A dispatch from Potts Camp, Miss., says that an infuriated mob of citizens is after Joe Gatlin (white,) and if they catch him he will be lynched. Gatlin is the man who last night killed Station Agent Ed West while the latter was at work in his office. Gatlin wished to send a telegram about some elections in Benton county and, as West did not respond to his calling, Gatlin shot and killed him.

The rejoinder by the Dominion government to Manitoba's reply to the remedial order on schools was received by Lieut.-Gov. Schultz yesterday and handed over to the Manitoba government. It is understood that a Cabinet council will be called at once to consider the reference. Lieut.-Gov. Schultz left for Banff, where, rumor has it, he is to meet Premier Bowell and Hon. Mr. Daly for a further conference on the school question.

A Red Cliff (Colo.) dispatch says that an east-bound Rio Grande passenger train ran into a rock weighing about ten tons near Wolcott yesterday, while going at a good speed. The engineer and fireman jumped, both being injured. The engine jumped completely over in a somersault and went down an embankment of eighty feet into six feet of water. The passengers only received a severe shaking-up. Heavy rains loosened the rock from the big cliff above the track.

The International Geographical Congress has adopted the resolution of the vice-presidents recommending Berlin as the place for the next meeting in 1896. The congress passed a resolution to the effect that explorations to the Antarctic region formed the greatest work still to be taken up, and that, in view of the addition of knowledge to every branch of science which would result from such exploration, the congress desires the scientific societies of the world to urge in the most effective manner that the work be undertaken before the close of the century.

A New York dispatch says that the national officers and directors of the Ancient Order of Hibernians met at the Continental Hotel and passed resolutions which are thought to be deeply significant of the future policy of that order in the United States on the question of method of forwarding the cause of Irish independence. The resolutions are said by well-informed Irishmen to mean that the A.O.H. indorses the revolutionary movement which seeks Irish independence by force of arms, although the text does not convey that statement in direct language. The importance of the action lies in the fact that it is done in the name of 500,000 men who form the society.

KERR AND KISSAM.

A Runaway Match Which Shocked New York Society.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Society was surprised today by an announcement of the marriage of Louise V. Kissam to Louis Sayre Kerr at the Church of the Holy Communion. The bride is a daughter of S. H. Kissam, head of the banking firm of Kissam, Whitney & Co., and is closely related to the Vanderbilt family, as her father's sister was the wife of the late W. H. Vanderbilt. The bridegroom is one of the best-known of the younger members of the Stock Exchange. The attentions of the young man were not welcomed by the young lady's father, but were continued at Monmouth Beach, where the Kissams have been stopping, and culminated in an elopement.

After dinner last night Kerr and Miss Kissam disappeared. The young lady told her mother that she was going to walk to North Long Branch, but instead she took a train for New York with her affianced. As the hours wore on their friends became alarmed, and sent out hunting parties. But the hunt was fruitless, and no one knew what had become of them until they read the marriage notice.

FIELD OF POLITICS.

VIRGINIA SILVER DEMOCRATS ON THE AGGRESSIVE.

They Will Abandon Free Coinage Discussion to Attack "Sound Money" Doctrines—Gov. McKinley Not an A. P. A.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—A special to the Post from Washington says that politicians in the State of Virginia are beginning to assume a new phase and the silver Democrats are preparing for a form of campaign which they believe will have the effect of changing the character of the present controversy between the factions of the party. They propose to practically abandon free coinage as the leading issue of the campaign and place the "sound money" men upon the defensive by attacking what they regard as the most vulnerable points in "sound money" doctrines.

To do this they propose to use the President's message to the last Congress upon the financial question, the report of Secretary Carlisle upon the same subject and the bill which Carlisle prepared and submitted to the House, together with the bill which was afterward substituted for the Carlisle bill by the Banking and Currency Committee, to show that the administration and its followers would retire all the greenbacks, the treasury notes and ultimately the silver dollars, thus causing a contraction of the currency by the withdrawal from circulation of more than $800,000. They will further attempt to show that the definition of "sound money" given by the advocates of "sound money" means gold coin and national bank notes.

The plan adopted by the silver men for launching this method of campaign is somewhat peculiar. Some time ago Representative-elect Otey of the Sixth Virginia Congress District, issued a call for a convention of silver men of that district. As Otey was elected to Congress as a silver man and his constituency is largely composed of silver men, it was naturally wondered what purpose he could possibly serve holding such a meeting. It now transpires that this meeting is to be the first step in the movement which the silver men are about to start and that all the influential silver Democrats of the State are behind it. The convention will indorse free coinage at the ratio of 16 to 1, but this is to be only a minor issue, and dependence for the effect is to be placed in the other members of the programme.

OHIO POPULISTS.

COLUMBUS (O.,) Aug. 1.—The Populist State Convention met here today. The party in 1893 cast 13,500 votes; last year, 49,500. Hugo Preyer, a leading Ohio greenbacker, called the convention to order. Four women were present. The convention is a fine-looking body. J. S. Coxey, a professed candidate for Governor, is the center of interest.

George A. Groot is temporary chairman. In his speech Groot steered between the factions represented. Silver was not mentioned. This party, he claimed was the one to right the wrongs of the people.

No nominations were made at the Populist convention today. As the Committee on Resolutions was unable to agree on a platform until late last night the time was occupied mostly with speech-making. Gen. J. S. Coxey, who will be nominated for Governor tomorrow, made a speech before the convention and addressed an open-air meeting tonight. He talked mostly on his non-interest-bearing-bond scheme. The Committee on Resolutions finally indorsed the Coxey bond scheme. There were seven votes against it. The other planks are merely reiterations of the Omaha platform.

M'KINLEY NOT AN "A.P.A."

BOSTON, Aug. 1.—The Traveller today publishes a letter from James Boyle, private secretary to Gov. McKinley of Ohio, denying in the Governor's name that the latter is a member of the American Protective Association. Rev. James Brady of the People's Church, at a public meeting a fortnight ago, asserted that Gov. McKinley was a member of the order mentioned, and believed in its principles.

AGREED TO CONSOLIDATE.

DENVER, (Col.,) Aug. 1.—The conference between representatives of the three silver organizations in this State which has been in progress here several days, tonight agreed upon consolidation upon a non-partisan basis. The new body will be known as the Colorado Silver League, and includes the Bimetallic Union, Republican, the Colorado State League of the Populists and the Colorado delegation to the Memphis convention representing the Democratic party.

THE TAMMANY OF OLD.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Tammany primary elections for members of the General and District committees, and incidentally to elect leaders to all the thirty-three assembly districts in the city, were held tonight. The reorganization ticket as planned by the "machine" leaders, in a majority of cases went through without a murmur, and the reorganized Tammany promises to be the Tammany of old. It is estimated that twenty-two out of the thirty-three districts have elected men backed by the Croker-Grant combination. This will make ex-Mayor Grant the nominal leader of Tammany, and put an end to the hopes of Gilroy and Purroy.

Joseph Johnson Jugged.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 1.—Joseph Johnson, a colored man, was landed in the city prison tonight on a charge of embezzling $600. He was brought down from Truckee by Sheriff Johnson. The prisoner was a partner of a white man named White in a dime museum, and he is accused of having run away with the partnership funds.

Impeached the Mayor.

WEST SUPERIOR (Wis.,) Aug. 1.—By a vote of 17 to 15 Mayor Starkwater was tonight impeached by the Comon Council on a charge of extorting money from firemen and policemen.

PRINCE JAMES I.

THE RULER OF THE STATE OF TRINIDAD TALKS.

He Tells a Reporter All About the International Question That Has Arisen Over His Claim to the Remote Atlantic Isle.

His Royal Highness, James I, reigning prince of the independent State of Trinidad, was seen at his pleasant home on Pico Heights by a Times reporter yesterday evening.

Prince James, otherwise known as Baron Harden-Hickey, sole proprietor as well as ruler of the small island of Trinidad by right of occupation, if not discovery, showed the reporter the utmost courtesy, remarking at the start that although adverse to being interviewed, he had no hesitancy to tell The Time all it wished to know concerning his principality and the international questions that have arisen appertaining thereto, reserving only his plans as to the ultimate purposes and aims of his government. However, there was very little to be said regarding the island, and his struggle to found there an independent nation, that had not already been published

The information contained in the special dispatch to The Times yesterday from New York concerning the protest filed with Secretary of State Olney at Washington by his Chancellor and Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, Count de la Boissiere, the Prince said, was correct in every particular.

"What course will you pursue, Baron, in case the United States refuses to recognize Trinidad as an independent State?"

"That I am not prepared to state," he replied; "further than that, I will not give up the fight even if this government should fail to give us recognition. We have right and justice on our side, and while right does not always prevail over might, I think right will win in this case.

"There are several interesting points of international law involved that have not yet been touched upon, but my representative at Washington, Count de la Boissiere, will bring them out. He is perfectly able to handle the subject and will leave no stone unturned to attain the ends sought after. If necessary, I will go to Washington myself to press my claims. However, for the present I will remain here in this beautiful spot, which my wife and myself love so well."

"What powers have recognized the independence of Trinidad? I see by the dispatch that Count de la Boissiere was too much of a diplomat to answer that question," said the interviewer.

"It was quite proper for him to reserve information on that point," said the Baron. "It would be very impolitic for us to give away our hand in this game of diplomacy. However, you can state positively that nations in every quarter of the globe have officially recognized our claims, and three-fourths of the European powers have done so conditionally. Should the United States do so, the rest would no doubt fall in line."

"The island, as a matter of fact, owing to its remote location, is of small consequence to any other nation, but it is worth a great deal to me, and its autonomy must be assured in order to carry out my plans."

"Your plans, Baron, what did you say they were?"

"There, that will do, young man; I believe I reminded you at the start that that was the one forbidden subject of this interview," suavely interjected the Baron with a simulated frown.

"Beg pardon, Baron, for overstepping the bounds. How about the claim of Brazil?"

"That is quite to the point. Brazil has no claim to the island at all. How can any nation lay claim to an island 700 miles from its shores without occupying it? Possession is nine points in international as well as civil law, and as I took possession of the island and occupied it before Brazil or England thought of doing so, I think I have the sole title to it. Brazil, of course, became unduly excited over England's attempted occupation of the island, and its protest against England's action has helped my cause.

"Yes, I occupy a position that is decidedly unique. It is not often that one man is pitted against all the nations of the world. I have a big fight on my hands it is true, but my cause is just and will prevail in the end. I studied the entire subject thoroughly before embarking in the enterprise and think I see my way to a triumphant end."

The Baron chatted pleasantly on other subjects and when the reporter apologized for having intruded on his privacy and trespassed on his time and patience, said that was all right. He was a newspaper man for eight years himself and knew that the representatives of the press had duties to perform.

ON TO WASHINGTON.

Grand Chancellor Boissiere Pressing the Claims of His Sovereign.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—(Special Dispatch.) Count de la Boissere, Secretary of State of the Principality of Trinidad, will tomorrow leave the Grand Chancellory, on Thirty-sixth street, to the mercy of a small maid-servant who waits on the door, and will proceed to Washington for the purpose of invoking the aid of the United States in keeping the island of His Serene Highness James I out of the hands of the English Cable Company, which has seized it.

When asked today how many subjects his royal master had on the island, the Count replied:

"We don't know. Before the English cruiser went there, landed military and hoisted the English flag, we had forty, but that was three months ago, and since then we have had no news from the island. There may be ten colonists, there may be none. At the time of the landing of the English, the Baron was in California making arrangements for taking about four hundred people to the kingdom. He had arrangements with a Chinese company to furnish coolies to do labor, but the invasion necessitated a suspension of operations. There will be no more settlers shipped until the trouble is settled."

The reporter had the temerity to suggest to the Grand Chancellor that perhaps they could settle the trouble if he and his royal master would agree to let England land their cable there without charge, providing England gave back the stolen principality.

The Count clasped his hands and said: "Certainly we should be glad to do that. Indeed, it would be nice for us to have them run a cable in there. There is not much news there and the inhabitants don't hear much from the outside world. A cable would be fine. We would be delighted to have a cable."

Speaking of the nature and value of the principality, the Grand Chancellor said that an era of prosperity was just beginning to dawn when Great Britain interfered. As the Trinidad army was very small he supposed that the inhabitants had made no defense when ordered to move on. He said the island was largely rock mountains, but that here and there soil could be found on which grew grass and certain shrubs, which in time would yield a return of $100 an acre.

King James had given orders for the construction of a wharf. There was usually some trouble about getting ashore from boats, owing to the dangerous surf. Work on the wharf had been stopped by the British. When asked if he expected King James to return from California to take part in the negotiations between the governments over the island, the Grand Chancellor replied that he did not. The King had left everything to him.

NOT AFRAID OF ENGLAND.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1. — Fontura Xavier, the Brazilian Consul-General in this city, believes that the island of Trinidad, which was recently taken possession of by Great Britain will be regained by Brazil. In talking to a reporter he said that Brazil was making every effort to settle the difficulty by diplomacy, but if the means fail he believes Brazil will try to take the island by force.

"My country's navy cannot of course compare in strength with that of England," Xavier said, "but our citizens are determined to assert their rights and have no fear of England."

When asked what position the United States would take in case of war Xavier declared the United States could not remain neutral without violating the Monroe doctrine, and that, he thought, the administration would be unwilling to do.

THE MENOMINEE FIRE.

Many Persons Injured, but None Are Killed—The Loss.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

MENOMINEE (Mich.,) Aug. 1.—It was at first thought that two men were killed in the big lumber fire here last night, but this proved to be an error. Many were injured by flying timbers, those most seriously hurt being Anderson Lavigne, head cut; Keats, chief of the fire department, nose broken; McNeeley, a fireman, arms bruised; Stiles, the postmaster, head cut; an unknown boy, legs broken and skull fractured.

As nearly all of the territory about here was covered with lumber and other inflammable material, the fire caught simultaneously in a different point and baffled the efforts of the firemen, licking up every stick of lumber in the district. The amount destroyed was fully 60,000,000 feet.

Non-union Men Forced Out.

Notary Public in and for Los Angeles County, State of California.

NOTE.—THE TIMES is a seven-day paper. The above aggregate, viz., 103,350 copies, issued by us during the seven days of the past week, would, if apportioned on the basis of a six-day evening paper, give a daily average circulation for each week-day of 17,225 copies.

THE TIMES is the only Los Angeles paper which has regularly published sworn statements of its circulation, both gross and net, weekly, monthly and yearly, during the past several years. Advertisers have the right to know the NET CIRCULATION of the medium which seeks their business, and this THE TIMES gives them correctly, from time to time.

A Child Poisoned.

Coroner Campbell was yesterday evening called upon to investigate the death of an eight-year-old girl who died at No. 14 Mesnager street yesterday afternoon. The parents of the child are named Bree. Dr. Hancock, the physician who had been called in, refused to give a certificate of death, as the little girl showed marked symptoms of poisoning, although the parents profess to be at a loss to know how poison could have been administered. The Coroner will probably hold an inquest today.

BUSINESS.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE TIMES.
Los Angeles, Aug. 1, 1895.

BANK CLEARANCES. The bank clearances for today, as reported to The Times by the Los Angeles Clearing-house, are: Exchanges, $159,128.80; balances, $32,973.12.

MERCHANTS NATIONAL BANK. The change of name made by the Southern California National Bank in this city to that of the Merchants' National Bank went into effect today.

FINANCIAL NEWS. The directors of the Los Nietos Bank have elected D. P. Smart president, vice James T. Blythe, deceased.
It is reported that a bank will soon be opened at Covina.

COUNTERFEIT SILVER CERTIFICATES. The Treasury Secret Service officers report a counterfeit $10-silver certificate and which is described as follows: Series 1891; check letter, "A;" W. S. Rosecrans, Register; E. H. Nebeker, Treasurer; portrait of Hendricks; small scalloped carmine seal." The note, which is poor both in color and workmanship, is apparently printed from a woodcut plate and is much smaller in every way than the genuine. The word "register" is spelled "regist." The color of the Treasury number is faded blue, almost green, and the numbers are too heavy.

ANAHEIM SUGAR BONDS. The corespondent of The Times at Santa Ana writes stating that the special agent of the Beet Sugar Company in New York reports that he does not expect any trouble in placing these bonds. If his anticipations are realized the factory will be built and everything ready to handle next year's crop of beets. Why a new trust deed in connection with these bonds was made necessary is now explained. The special agent, charged with the negotiation of the bonds on the Coast, reported that he could not handle the bonds in the serial form, as at first issued, to as good advantage as he could in the form of coupon bonds, and sent on a request to have them changed to the coupon form. This change was made and it was this that made a new trust deed necesary, inasmuch as the form of the bonds offered as security had to be acurately described in the deed. This new trust deed was duly filed about a week ago.

GOLD AND SILVER PLENTIFUL. In view of the prevailing discussion over monetary standards, the following taken from Rhodes's Journal of Banking, a recognized authority on financial statistics and banking affairs, is of marked interest. That journal says:

"The supply of money in the United States increased $5,000,000 last month (June) almost the entire gain being in gold. In the past six months there was an increase of $16,000,000, of which $11,000,000 was in gold. There was a decrease in the amount of money in circulation of $2,000,000 last month, of $22,000,000 since Jan. 1, 1895, and $60,000,000 since July 1, 1894. The estimates of the production of gold and silver in the world, as published last month by the director of the mint, show that the present is the greatest yield ever known. There were 3,780,518 ounces of gold, valued at $181,510,100, and 165,919,338 ounces of silver, valued at $214,481,000, coining value, produced in the calendar year 1894. Gold production increased $24,282,000 over 1893, and the increase in silver production was 722,000 ounces. In the last ten years the annual production of gold has increased about $75,000,000, and the silver about $100,000,000, coining value."

These are figures worth a few moments' consideration.

COMMERCIAL.

EASTERN PEACHES. Late New York advices are that Georgia peaches are arriving in that market in very poor and unsound condition. This is due to the continuous rains in that State. Delaware and Maryland peaches will begin to arrive in New York and Chicago and other markets about the middle of the present month (August,) and Jersey peaches about September 1,

FREIGHT ON CANNED GOODS. A dispatch to The Times from San Francisco today says: "Freight rates on canned goods have been forced down a fourth of a cent a pound. This result has been brought about by the active competition of the Panama Railroad Company, which was getting nearly all the shipments for the Atlantic seaboard. The new schedule of 50 cents a hundred pounds instead of 75 cents will go into effect on Monday next, August 5."

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

Wholesale Quotations Revised Daily.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 1, 1895.

Fancy local creamery butter has weakened, but other grades remain unchanged. California ranch eggs are ruling at 17½, though some dealers put the price at 18, and quote Eastern at 16½. Fresh apricots are nearly out of the market.
(The following quotations are for average grades of the products mentioned. For an extra choice article a somewhat better price than the highest quoted can usually be obtained, while for a product of decidedly inferior quality the seller will probably have to accept less than the lowest published quotation.)

NEW YORK MARKETS.

Shares and Money.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The speculation today on the Stock Exchange was fairly active, but very irregular, although prices generally show advances. More than one-fifth of the business was done in Sugar, and the bull clique by main force advanced the price 1½ per cent. to 118¼, but had to absorb a great deal of stock to do it, for large blocks were placed on the market, which caused frequent reactions, and the high point was not reached until 2 o'clock. In the late dealings there was a renewal of the pressure against the property and a recession of 1 per cent. took place, of which ½ per cent. was finally recovered. The preferred rose 2¼ per cent. to 107, closing at the best. Chicago Gas was next in point of activity. Western Union was in good buying on reports of increased business and prospective greater profits. The Grangers were less active than of late, moving within fractional limits, and losing a small fraction on realizations. London was on both sides of the market, but did very little on either side. Cordage was buoyant on the reorganization plan taking effect and additional heavy deposits of securities thereunder. In the late dealings a weak tone prevailed and the market closed heavy, but the earlier advances were in the main retained. Bonds were fairly animated and firm. The aggregate sales were $2,064,000.

New York Money.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Money on call, easy at 1 per cent.; prime mercantile paper, 3@4 per cent.; sterling exchange, steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.90¼@4.90½ for demand and 4.89¼@4.89¾ for 60 days; posted rates, 4.89½@4.90 and 4.90½@4.91; commercial bills, 4.88½@4.88¾; silver certificates, 66⅝@66¾.

The Iron Industry.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Iron Age says today that reports dealing with the condition of trade show some irregularity. On the whole, however, the industry is holding its own remarkably well. Bessemer pig-iron has been quiet since the recent large transactions which have taken out of the market two of the largest Shenandoah Valley furnaces for a considerable period. In the East a number of small lots have been picked up, but on the whole the shortage remains. Steel billets weakened a little early in the week under review, largely because of the labor troubles at the wire-rod mills. The numerous inquiries appeared in the market and the old range of prices was recovered. The mills in the Chicago district are crowded with work. The strongest article in the whole list of finished goods is plates, which are extremely scarce. Car-building has been more active lately and has found its expression in heavy demand for bars. The Western Association has again made an advance, this time of $2 per ton, and the Western markets have followed suit with a rise of 1 1-10c per pound. There has been some easing-up in the pig-iron markets lately. Cincinnati reports indicate that in the West this feeling has been only temporary. In the East the cutting has been confined chiefly to mill iron. Copper has stiffened further for the consumption, showing good increase.

London Financial Market.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Evening Post's London cablegram says that the markets were active and strong all around today. American securities were steady at New York parity. Germans are buying Atchison, St. Paul and Union Pacific. The Kaffirs and Australian mines are booming furiously.

Fruit at New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Earl Fruit Company sold today at the West Shore dock: Bartlett pears, 1.50@1.80; Tragedy prunes, 1.35@1.40; Silver prunes, 1.35; Gros prunes, 1.10; German prunes, 1.30@1.50; Bradshaw plums, 1.05@1.25; California, 1.25; Purple Duane, 1.15@1.55; Columbia, 1.05@1.30; Washington, 90@1.35; egg, 1.20@1.30; grapes, Fontainebleau, 1.15; Muscat, 95; peaches, Hale's Early, 90. Porter Bros. Company sold Bartlett pears at 1.80@2.20; Japan plums, 2.20; egg plums, 95@1.55; Columbia, 1.25@1.35; Comedy, 1.10@1.15; other plums, 75@1.15; prunes, Hungarian, 65@1.60; German, 1.00@1.45; Gros, 1.05; nectarines, 1.20; grapes, half-crates Muscats, 1.15; peaches, Crawfords, 90@1.10.

Gold for Canada.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Gold to the amount of $100,000 has been withdrawn from the subtreasury for shipment to Canada.

A Shipment of Gold.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—There will be $125,000 in gold shipped on the Saale for Europe on Saturday.

Petroleum.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—Petroleum was steady. Closed at 1.34 bid.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

Grain and Produce.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—Wheat opened practically 1c lower than it closed yesterday, without other reason than a change in general sentiment. Foreign markets were comparatively steady in the face of yesterday's weakness here. Liverpool was quoted ¼d lower and Berlin ¾ mark higher. Receipts at Western primary markets were smaller than on the day before and the same poor condition was observable in the grading. No abiding strength was observable until Baltimore reported that there was a fair inquiry for wheat for export at Liverpool. This was supplemented by a report that the State agricultural authority in California pronounced this year's production of wheat the smallest in twenty-one years, and the market was further strengthened by a continuation of the demand here from Ohio and Michigan millers. That caused September to rise to 69⅝ and, after a reaction to 69⅛, to advance once more, the last time to 69⅞, with 69¾ the last trading price. Corn was unsettled. September closed at a gain of 1¼c for the day, and ¼c in May. Oats were firmer, but dull. Spot closed ½c higher. Provisions were weak most of the day, owing to the weak live hog market, but near the end there was some buying, induced by the strength in corn, which caused a recovery to about the level of yesterday's closing prices.
The leading futures ranged as follows:

Wheat, No. 2—	Closing.
August	68¾
September	69¾
December	72
Corn, No. 2—
August	43¾@43⅞
September	43¾@43⅞
October	42
Oats, No. 2—
August	22⅜
September	23⅝@23½
May	25⅝

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour was steady; No. 2 spring wheat, 68¾@71¾; No. 3 spring wheat, nominal; No. 2 red, 68¾@69¾; No. 2 corn, 44¼@44½; No. 2 oats, 22½; No. 2 white, 26½@27; No. 3 white, 22@26¼; No. 2 rye, 45; No. 2 barley, nominal; No. 3, 37; No. 4, nominal; No. 1 flax seed, 1.15; prime timothy seed, 5.60; mess pork, per bbl., 10.00@10.05; lard, per 100 lbs., 6.10@6.12½; short ribs, sides (loose,) 5.85@5.90; dry salted shoulders (boxed,) 5⅝@5¾; short clear sides (boxed,) 6¼@6⅜; whisky, distillers' finished goods, per gal., 1.22.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

City subscribers to The Times visiting the country or seaside resorts during the summer can have the daily mailed to them, for a week or longer, by ordering and prepaying for the same at the publication office, or they can have it delivered in any of the seaside towns by ordering from the local agent, and paying in advance.

THE WRIGHT LAW.—Extra copies of The Times, containing the full text of the recent decision of United States Judge Ross as to the legality of the Wright irrigation law may be had at the Times counting-room for 5 cents per copy, or they will be mailed to any address for the same price.

MIDSUMMER NUMBER OF THE TIMES.

On the 15th of August The Times will issue a unique special Midsummer Number, describing Los Angeles and Southern California in the season of utmost warmth, and under the highest conditions of vegetable growth and fruit production.

It will be a number redolent of summer and breathing of the fruits, flowers and grains that grow in our prolific soil.

This issue will differ in essential particulars from any before issued by The Times. The peculiar charms of the country—charms which never fade, but grow brighter with the passing years—will be set forth with fidelity; and our aim will be to make the number as valuable in its contents as it will be attractive in letter-press and illustrations.

It will be a triple sheet of 36 pages, and in its contents will be embraced adequate and accurate descriptions of the towns and cities of the south, with records of progress in each.

The seaside and mountain resorts will receive particular attention, with the especial object of showing strangers what summer life in Southern California actually is.

City, village, suburban and country homes will be truly pictured and described for the benefit of distant readers and intending residents.

"How Things Grow" is a subject which will be fully treated and reliably portrayed.

A volume of up-to-date information about the country will be given, and many new topics will be exploited, and old ones newly treated.

The commercial, business and building progress of the city and country will be shown.

There will be a special and elaborate account of the important oil development in this city, with a trustworthy description of the numerous openings for the application of enterprise and the investment of capital.

Other interesting features of the southern country will be presented in the Midsummer Number. We guarantee a fine issue, a numerous edition, and one of the best of the many creditable papers for which the Times office is notable.

A more specific and detailed list of contents will be found in another part of this issue.

There is a manifest disposition on the part of Russia, nominally backed by her allies, Germany and France, to hasten the evacuation of the Liao-Tung Peninsula by Japan. There is an equally manifest disposition on the part of Japan to delay the evacuation as long as possible. Out of this combination may ensue trouble. The result will depend somewhat on the strength of the unnatural alliance of France and Germany with Russia. Japan might defy Russia alone, and probably might do so if convinced that she had only Russia to contend with. But, of course, it would be out of the question for Japan to resist three nations so powerful as Russia, Germany and France. In the mean time, Japan is reported to be strengthening her navy and placing her land forces upon a war-footing, in order to be prepared for emergencies.

And now it is reported that there is no law in Texas to prevent the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight. Lawyers disagree in Texas as well as elsewhere.

ALWAYS FOR SOUND MONEY.

The Republican party, since its inception, has stood firmly for sound money. Those misguided persons who have supposed there was any possibility that the Republican party, in its national platform for 1896, might lend countenance or encouragement to the dishonest schemes of the fiat-silver repudiationists, have shown themselves to be ignorant of the history and traditions of the party. There has at no time been the least likelihood that the Republican party would lend itself to the unspeakable folly of advocating the free and unlimited coinage of silver by the United States, independently of other nations. Every person claiming Republican affiliation should know his party well enough to know this. Those short-sighted organs which are endeavoring to support free-coinage and Republicanism at the same time are simply preparing for themselves an elaborate feast at which all the courses shall consist exclusively of crow pie.

But while the Republican party has invariably stood firmly for sound money, it has never been unfriendly to silver. On the contrary, it has been the steadfast friend of silver, and has advocated its use as money to the fullest extent consistent with the stability of our currency system. Republican legislation has recognized the claims of silver so far as possible, and under Republican laws more silver has been coined in this country than has been coined under all other laws combined. At the same time every silver dollar has been maintained at a parity with its gold and paper equivalents since the resumption of specie payments in 1879. During the war period, and for some years following the close of the war, both gold and silver were necessarily at a premium, owing to causes and influences which no political party could control. But it was Republican legislation which lifted the greenback currency to par and has maintained every dollar of our money at an equal value with every other dollar for the past sixteen years. With such an honorable record as this, the Republican party would stultify its past and sacrifice its future were it to lend countenance to the repudiationist schemes of the fiat-silverites.

The financial plank of the Republican national platform for 1894 contains an explicit declaration in favor of international bimetallism, and in favor of sound money. It reads as follows:

"We have always recommended the best money known to the civilized world, and we urge that an effort be made to unite all commercial nations in the establishment of an international standard which shall fix for all the relative value of gold and silver coinage."

Here is plainly recognized the impracticability of an attempt on the part of the United States alone to establish free and unlimited silver coinage. All men of sound judgment recognize the same fact today, whether they are Republicans or not. It is also as apparent now as in 1884 that by international agreement the status of silver may be fully and permanently defined, and that in no other way can that much-desired result be accomplished.

In 1888 the Republican platform again spoke in favor of silver, but not in favor of the free and unlimited coinage thereof. The currency plank for that year reads as follows:

"The Republican party is in favor of the use of both gold and silver as money, and condemns the policy of the Democratic administration in its efforts to demonetize silver."

Then, as now, the Republican party favored the use of both gold and silver as money. But then, as now, it did not favor any scheme to force the currency of the nation to a silver basis, with the inevitable result of panic and disaster.

The latest declaration of the Republican party on the currency question is found in the national platform of 1892, which is appended:

"The American people, from tradition and interest, favor bimetallism, and the Republican party demands the use of both gold and silver as standard money, with such restrictions, and under such provisions, to be determined by legislation, as will secure the maintenance of the parity of values of the two metals, so that the purchasing and debt-paying power of the dollar, whether of silver, gold or paper, shall be, at all times, equal. The interests of the producers of the country, its farmers and its workingmen, demand that every dollar, paper or coin, issued by the government, shall be as good as any other. We commend the wise and patriotic steps already taken by our government to secure an international conference to adopt such measures as will insure a parity of value between gold and silver for use as money throughout the world."

This plank of the Republican national platform for 1892 clearly defines the attitude of the Republican party today. The statement is so clear as to require no exegesis. The wayfaring editor, though a fool, need not err therein. A careful reading of the paragraph fails to disclose any clause which could, by the utmost stretch of the imagination, be construed as favoring free and unlimited silver coinage, or any other scheme of repudiation or dishonesty. It is a straight-forward, clear-cut declaration in favor of an honest dollar, the purchasing and debt-paying power of which shall be equal, no matter what may be the material of which it is composed. No such honest dollar would be possible without such restrictions and provisions as shall limit the number of dollars issued to the ability of the government to maintain them at a parity with the dollar of the highest intrinsic value—the gold dollar.

The government could no more maintain unlimited silver dollars at a parity with gold than it could maintain unlimited paper dollars at a parity. The Republican party will never sanction an attempt so foolish and suicidal as is demanded by the silver repudiationists. Upon the platform of 1892 the Republican party stands in 1895, and will stand in 1896. It is a good platform, sound and staunch in every timber. There will be no crawfishing, and no occasion for any.

For some time past there has been more or less friction between the irrigators in the Vernon district and the city. In order to put an end to these constant disputes, the Vernon Irrigation Company has now made a proposal to the City Council that the company should, under certain conditions, lease from the city the irrigating ditches by which the southern and western portions of the city have been irrigated. The company shows that the receipts for the year ending November 30, 1894, were $27,694, and the expenditures $19,946. Its proposition is an important one, deserving the respectful consideration of the authorities. This matter should be carefully discussed from every point of view, to the end that the soundest possible conclusion may be arrived at. The Times will have more to say on the subject later.

Pressure is being brought to bear on the Hawaiian Legislature to induce it to adopt resolutions instructing President Dole to reopen annexation negotiations with the United States. It will be of no use for President Dole to do anything of the sort while his "great and good friend" Grover sits astride of the chair of state at Washington. Hawaii would better wait a while, and reflect upon the axiom which declares that "all things come to him who waits."

Over forty million tons of anthracite coal are mined annually in Pennsylvania, and it is estimated that the coal-fields of that State alone contain enough coal to last one thousand years, if the consumption should continue at the present rate. It is probable, however, that in less than one thousand years the consumption of coal will be in large part superseded by other methods of developing heat, light and power.

Minnesota farmers have been offering from $35 to $40 per month (with board, of course,) for farm-hands, and the demand is much greater than the supply, even at those liberal figures. But Coin's Financial Fool is still abroad in the land, explaining how farm-wages have declined since the "crime of 1873," and how the American farmer has been impoverished as a result of the alleged "crime."

A Pomona paper—also other rural sheets without a speck of style about them—is torn up in its mind over the term, "sea-shell ears," as applied by The Times to the pinkish auricular appendages of our girls. Any man of taste, who has his eyes where they ought to be, knows what a sea-shell ear is when he sees it.

Mud-throwing at Gov. McKinley, as the probable Republican candidate for President; has begun. A report has been circulated (the truth of which Gov. McKinley promptly denied) to the effect that he is a member of the A.P. A. The Democratic Presidential campaign has opened early.

In an article laudatory of Grover Cleveland, Harper's Weekly refers to him as "one of the few leaders left in the politics of the present." Yes, Grover has been badly "left" in "the politics of the present." But there are others.

No positive proof that H. H. Holmes murdered anybody has yet been developed. But in his anxiety to escape the noose he has confessed enough to send him to prison for a long term of years, if not for life.

Secretary Carlisle is going to take a month's vacation, beginning about September 1. It is not improbable that the September treasury statement may show a handsome surplus.

AN ARABIAN ROW.

Four Syrian Women Arrested Yesterday for Battery.

Two factions of Arabians have been airing their grievances in the local courts of justice for several days past. The trouble grew out of the attachment of a lot of jewelry and trinkets by Constable Yonkin. Yesterday Justice Owens gave judgment in favor of the plaintiff in the case of George Radway vs. H. H. Yonkin and Joseph Saba, as intervenor. The action was on a writ of replevin. Five days' stay of execution was granted.

A lot of Syrian women are mixed up in the case, and at the close of the civil action, four of them attacked Mrs. Rose Abram, who had given testimony that displeased them. They beat the old woman badly. The fight took place on New High street, and warrants for battery were soon issued.

Constable Mugnemi served the warrants, but had a hard time getting his prisoners into court. He arrested two of them on New High street, and almost had to carry them bodily into Justice Owens's presence. The others were found on Second street, and did not make such stout resistance. The court released them on $10 bail each, to appear Saturday for trial.

OMAHA (Neb.,) Aug. 1.—The old police are in possession of the city property armed with pickhandles to resist any effort made under the new regime. A new force will be appointed this afternoon. The Mayor has issued a riot proclamation,

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

BIDS FOR THE WESTLAKE PARK BAND STAND.

Commissioners Resolved to Root Out the Evils in the Pretty Park's Precincts.

Nasty Odors in the City Hall Building—Thorough Overhauling is Called For.

Biscailuz Discharged—A Big Fight Over an Injunction—B. Duncan Files Another Injunction—Neighborhood Quarrel.

Bids were received yesterday by the Board of Park Commissioners for the erection of a new bandstand in Westlake Park. The board took cognizance of the orgies indulged in by disreputable characters who frequent Westlake Park, and will take steps to crush and end the evil. The City Plumbing Inspector is preparing to make an examination of the defective plumbing apparatus in the City Hall, under the supervision of the Health Officer, who will shortly bring the matter of repairing the same to the attention of the City Council.

At the Courthouse yesterday, all was comparatively quiet again. Martin Biscalluz was discharged, and a hot contest over an injunction was set on foot. Several minor cases were also disposed of.

AT THE CITY HALL.

OUTRAGEOUS ODORS.

Smells That Ascend to Heaven in the City Hall.

From the basement of the City Hall building to the uppermost point where a sewer connection is found, there is disseminated a collection of the vilest smells that the human olfactories have ever been made acquainted with.

About six weeks ago Dr. Steddom, the City Health Officer, took cognizance of the nuisances which make the City Hall a den of smells, and served a notice on City Clerk Luckenbach, as custodian of the building, informing him that unless the nuisance was abated, the customary steps in affairs of this kind would be taken. The "customary steps" include a fine and imprisonment, as the offense is a misdemeanor under the ordinance now in force. The City Clerk, while he is the custodian of the building, has no authority to expend a penny in making repairs of any sort without first obtaining the permission of the Council. The notice of Dr. Steddom, for some unknown reason, was never given to the Councilmen, although they were informally spoken to upon the subject.

In company with the clerk of the health department and the City Plumbing and Sewer Inspector, a Times reporter yesterday made a circuit of the entire building, visiting each room where sewer connections of any sort are made. The condition of the rooms and closets visited, from a sanitary standpoint, are simply horrible. A combination of sewer gas and exhalations from the washbowls and other lavatory accessories made a stench that would make the strongest of olfactories revolt. There is not a solitary piece of plumbing apparatus in the entire building which is not in bad condition. The plumbing was put in the building at the time of its erection by Mr. Howe, a contractor of this city, and was even at that time a back-number style of apparatus. The system of traps and vent-pipes in use is declared by the Plumbing Inspector to be a travesty on proper sanitary plumbing, while there does not seem to be a feature of the whole outfit but is open to condemnation. To say that the health of the thousands of citizens who frequent the City Hall is endangered by this condition of affairs is putting it mildly. The awful odors which exude from the leaky, wornout, antiquated waste pipes is sufficiently vile to cause an epidemic of disease, if the hall was not favored with an unusually excellent system of ventilation.

Plumbing Inspector Burgoin estimates that it will take at least $3000 to renovate the hall and put in apparatus which will do away with the nuisance at present existing. Mr. Burgoin will tomorrow begin a complete and thorough inspection of the entire building, making minute notes of the condition of each room and closet, and what will be required as a remedy in each case. This report will be submitted to Dr. Steddom, and will then be formally served upon the Council, with the request that steps be taken immediately to abate the nuisance as it now stands.

SEWER COMMITTEE.

Amendment Made to an Objectionable Sewer Ordinance.

The Sewer Committee of the Council met yesterday and prepared the following report, which will be presented to the Council on Monday:

"Recommend that the petition of the property-owners on Eighth street for a sewer at the corner of Moore and Eighth streets, be referred to the City Engineer, who will report as to the practicability of placing a sewer at the point specified.

"Recommend that ordinance No. 2529 be amended by adding the words 'excepting such person or contractor obtain a permit from the City Council,' and such permit shall be construed as permission to run to the property line only.

"Recommend that property-owners be granted permission to build laterals from the sewer on East Fourth street and Boyle avenue, to the property-line while the sewer is being constructed, but not to make house connections until the sewer has been completed and accepted."

This last recommendation, if adopted by the Council, will tend to allay the complaints made by property-owners in the past, who have not been allowed, under the provisions of the ordinance now in force, to make any connections with the sewer while the same is in process of construction. If the ordinance is revised as recommended, connection with the main sewer can be made as far as the property-line, the connection to be completed when the sewer is accepted by the city.

IT WILL BE DROPPED.

That Branch Police Station on Boyle Heights.

It may be positively stated that there will not be a police station established in Boyle Heights for several years to come. At the last meeting of the Council the action by which a lease of a room on East First street was entered into was reconsidered, and the entire matter referred to the Finance Committee, to investigate and confer with the Police Commission concerning the advisability of continuing the lease. The committee received no encouragement from the Police Commission, and yesterday filed the following report, which will be presented to the Council on Monday:

"The undersigned, members of the Finance Committee, beg leave to report in the matter of a branch police station on Boyle Heights, after consultation with the Chief of Police and individual members of the Police Commission, who advise such action, that said branch police station be discontinued, and said building turned over to Mr. Hendricks, the owner."

PARK COMMISSIONERS.

Bids for the Band Stand in Westlake Park.

The Board of Park Commissioners met in special session yesterday morning, the principal purpose of the meeting being to receive and open bids for the erection of a new band stand in Westlake Park. The bids received were as follows: Fisher, Page & Brunson, $1760; J. Zeller, $1800; E. Brown, $1845; H. L. Hawkins, $2344.50. The bids were referred to a committee consisting of Commissioners Teed, Workman and Post.

Superintendent Meserve reported progress in the construction of the cement pipe on St. Louis street, which is to supply the lake in Hollenbeck Park with water. A communication was received from Mrs. Anna Spence, giving the commission the right to use her property at whatever points it may be desired to place the pipe. The offer was accepted, and the secretary instructed to address a letter of thanks to Mrs. Spence.

Some discussion was indulged in by the commissioners anent the vicious practices which are reported to prevail in Westlake Park by disreputable characters who frequent the place. The board will soon place another electric light in the portion of the park more particularly frequented by these parties, and in the meantime the superintendent has been given orders to rout the participants in these unseemly orgies from their camping ground. The commission also decided to place a number of electric lights in the boathouse, as the electric railway company has agreed to operate the lights gratis, if the city will bear the expense incurred in placing them in the boathouse, which will not be more than $25. It was reported to the commissioners by the superintendent that an anonymous person had offered to give $2000 for a four year's lease of the boating privileges in Echo Park. The secretary was instructed to advertise for bids for the boating privilege in this park, and the unknown philanthropist will then be given a chance to replenish the city treasury to whatever extent he sees fit. The monthly payroll of the department, amounting to $3300, was approved by the board, and an adjournment was then taken until next week.

A PALATIAL RESORT.

Baron Rogniat's Grounds for Beer-Garden Purposes.

Mayor Rader was visited yesterday by two men from Germany, who represented that they were brothers by the name of Wannack, recently arrived from Hamburg, from which point they had been negotiating the purchase of the well-known Baron Rogniat property at the end of Downey avenue, East Los Angeles.

They claim to have completed the purchase of the estate, which they intend to use for beer-garden purposes, with bowling alleys, billiard halls and other accompaniments of the genuine German article, and were yesterday in quest of information regarding the possibility of obtaining a license from the city for their resort. To this end they paid a visit to Mayor Rader, who is a born Teuton, and held a long consultation with him, and he gave them a large number of points in reference to the successful establishing of the resort which they propose to institute. Neither of the Messrs. Wannack speak English, and are entire strangers to American ways and customs. They have, however, had large experience in conducting institutions of the beer-garden pattern in Germany, and promise to begin work immediately on the contemplated resort to be established on the erstwhile site of Baron Rogniat's sightly castle.

City Hall Notes.

Chief Moore has instituted a new feature in the management of the engine-houses throughout the city. In the future, each company will be divided into shifts of two hours' duration, to remain on the floor of the engine-house during the time of the shift. This will insure the constant presence of some member of the company during each hour of the day.

Robert Hale, president of the Board of Education, returned to the city yesterday with his family, from Deer Lake, where he has been spending his summer vacation.

The July report of the fire department has been prepared by Assistant Chief Smith, showing that eleven fires occurred in the course of the month, destroying property valued at $7045. Three of these fires occurred in the local tenderloin district, and are believed to have been of incendiary origin.

Health Officer Steddom yesterday granted permits to a number of Chinamen, who wish to remove the bodies of their deceased friends from the cemetery on Castelar street. The Chinese portion of the burying-ground is being torn up by street graders, and the Celestial intelligence is decidedly averse to such a desecration of the habitations of the dead, hence the removal of the bones now incarcerated there.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

THE COURTS.

A Case of Absinthe and Sheep-herder's Delight.

Martin V. Biscailuz, the eccentric attorney with a penchant for forging other people's signatures, was examined before a jury in Department One yesterday on the charge of insanity.

The case was an odd one. Biscailuz had been acquitted of forgery the day before, on the ground that he was of unsound mind, and yesterday, all his own witnesses for the defense were subpoenaed by the prosecution, to prove that he was a fit subject for the asylum. The testimony of the witnesses went to prove that when Biscailuz had committed the crime for which he was arrested, he was as crazy as the insect so proverbially obnoxious to all good housekeepers, but that his residence of three months in the County Jail had done wonders toward restoring him to his right mind. It was also brought out that Biscailuz had been tried for forgery once before, but had been switched off to the asylum instead of to the penitentiary. He was unquestionably crazy when sent there, but recovered his senses in a short time, and was discharged, only to repeat the experience last May.

Biscailuz himself was put on the stand, and severely pumped by Judge Smith himself, who put him through his paces at all possible gaits, only to find that, to all appearances, he was mentally sound as a bell.

This strange state of intermittent insanity was explained by Dr. Davidson, Biscailuz' family physician, who stated that Biscailuz was a confirmed dipsomaniac, who was sane enough when liquor was kept out of his reach, but was afflicted with a wild desire, not only to look upon the wine when it was red, but to imbibe it in immoderate quantities whenever he had the chance.

Biscailuz' particular "wanity" was a mixture of absinthe, and the decoction familiarly known as "red-eye," or "the sheepherder's delight," either of which is calculated to upset a cast-iron brain and a copper-lined stomach, when taken alone; when the two are mixed, the effect is weird to the last degree, and uncomfortable to the community.

When Biscailuz was loaded to the brim with his favorite mixture, forgery was his pet amusement, diversified sometimes by an apparently uncontrollable desire to slaughter his friends and neighbors. He was sane enough when sober, but violently insane when drunk. It was a tough nut for judge and jury to crack, but the man had been acquitted of forgery, and was unquestionably sane yesterday, so there was nothing for it but to discharge him, the judge accentuating the decision with the dry remark that it was a free country, and if any man chose to drink himself into temporary insanity, he could hardly be prevented by the courts from doing so at will.

NEIGHBORS QUARREL.

Hibernian and Teutonic Ladies Had a Misunderstanding.

Mrs. Emilie Grief presented herself yesterday in the District Attorney's office to procure a complaint against Mrs. Rose A. Burke for many and complicated misdemeanors. Mrs. Grief was decorated with a black eye, a skinned nose, and some wobbly front teeth, and she was breathing forth threatenings and slaughter in wildly-involved German-English.

She stated that Mrs. Burke was possessed of the "meanest, shamefullest outfit of nasty, sassy children ever see," and that her life was made a burden to her by the pranks of "Johnny, Muddy, Vlley and the little one." The children insisted on crosing her yard, and when she went out to object, she was chased back into her own domicile with chunks of the deadly watermelon, used as missiles by the crowd of "leedle vild Injuns." Mrs. Grief entrenched herself behind closed doors and windows, but the truculent "Muddy" Burke boldly advanced with "a spit-full of mouth" and deposited the same upon the crystal pane.

Then Mrs. Grief sallied forth. She had been cutting up some meat for the cat, and had a butcher-knife in her hand when she went to interview Mrs. Burke. That good woman was badly frightened and screamed lustily, whereupon Johnny Burke, like a youthful David, hurled a stone at the foe with such true aim that, as she mournfully remarked: "He just throw my face around like you can see. My eye is black and my nose is broke, and I got one teeth loose, too."

Mrs. Grief's tale of woe threatened to have no termination. She dashed gaily on about Mrs. Burke's manifold iniquities, and denounced her as "the lyest woman I ever see in my lifes." Mrs. Burke, it seemed, had taken the part of her erring offspring, and had remonstrated forcibly with Mrs. Grief, or, as that lady put it: "She scold me bad names and of course I scold back." Things at last came to such a pass that the irate German declared the whole neighborhood to be "badder than vild Injuns. I can't hang no washing out in my back yard, but they comes and vipes their feets and hands on it, and throws sand."

According to Mrs. Burke's statement the aggressor is Mrs. Grief, and her ways are so obtrusively eccentric that the whole neighborhood is afraid of her.

The two women were up before Judge Young, but the complaint of threatened assault was dismissed upon motion of Deputy District Attorney McComas, who then set himself to interview the combatants, and so endeavor to make peace. Each wanted a complaint for assault against the other, so Mr. McComas took the whole affair under advisement, recommending the disputants meanwhile to go home and try to keep quiet.

B. DUNCAN AGAIN.

Bobs Up Serenely in a Fresh Place with a Complaint.

B. Duncan was wafting airily around the corridors of the Courthouse yesterday with a new grievance standing out in ridges on his manly brow, and fell purpose in his eye. That unfortunate Evil Eye has gone so heavily into the blighting business lately that there is danger of its being dazzled by the lightning of its own glare, but yesterday it was clouded with sorrow over the evil ways of Stephen M. White, Esq.

According to B. D., Mr. White has been interfering with the printing of his precious little patchwork appeal on the Times-Mirror case. That work of art was put into the hands of the printer, and the gallant colonel was enjoying a little fit of sickness when he heard that Mr. White had feloniously stolen over to the printer and endeavored to insert into the appeal a whole newspaper, advertisements and all. That was too much; B. Duncan is patient, but this high-handed proceeding on the part of the opposing attorney was calculated to reduce a saint to profanity.

B. Duncan arose in his wrath and drew up a suit for an injunction ordering Stephen M. White to play in his own yard in the future, and not try to meddle with his enemy's appeals. The suit was not filed here, but is evolved for the benefit of the Supreme Court.

Mr. White's only action in the matter was to protest against the withdrawal of some of the most glaring absurdities with which the original appeal was adorned, on the ground that the printed copy should be correct.

Valiant Divorce Case.

The divorce case of Charles F. Valiant vs. Nettie Valiant was tried yesterday in Department Five, behind closed doors, as the warring couple were disinclined to air in public the details of their little conjugal infelicities. The case was taken under advisement by Judge Shaw.

New Office Rules.

The meekest and most down-trodden worm will turn at times, and the harassed officials at the Courthouse have arisen and declared their independence. At the instance of the Board of Supervisors the following set of office rules has been posted in every department:

"Our office hours for listening to solicitors of church subscriptions are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m.

"Book agents from 1 to 3 p.m.

"Advertising agents all day. The balance of our time we devote to miscellaneous calls.

"We attend to our own business at night.

"Gentlemen entering this office will leave the door wide open or apologize.

"Those having no business should remain as long as possible, take a chair, and lean against the wall. It will preserve the wall, and may prevent it from falling on us.

"Gentlemen are required to smoke tobacco, which will be supplied.

"Spit on the floor, the spittoons are for ornaments.

"Talk loud or whistle, especially when we are engaged; if this has not the desired effect, sing.

"Profane language is expected at all times, especially if ladies are present.

"Put your feet on the table or lean on the desk; it will be of great assistance to those who are writing.

"Persons having no business with this office will call often, or excuse themselves.

"Don't wipe your feet, as it spoils the mat."

New Suits.

O. S. Ihrig and his wife, Mrs. Minnie Ihrig, have brought suit for $10,000 damages against J. J. Mabb, Mrs. Jessie Mabb and Jennie M. Winchester for injury sustained in the false accusation of insanity lately brought against Mrs. Ihrig by the defendants.

Eliza O. Davis has entered suit against N. P. Campbell to quiet title to a lot in the Wright tract.

Charles Purcell and Mrs. Kittie Purcell have brought suit against Samuel R. Chamley for maliciously procuring the arrest of Mrs. Purcell on a false charge of disturbing the peace. The plaintiffs pray for damages in the amount of $10,000.

J. C. Steele has entered suit against Thomas Jordan to quiet title to a lot in Santa Monica.

E. D. Suits has filed a suit against Harriet B. Allen, James Allen and Maria McMahan to foreclose a mortgage.

Mrs. Carrie Grant has filed an application for divorce from her husband, Fred Grant, on the ground of failure to provide.

Mary T. Adams has filed a suit against Edward F. Adams for support and allmony pending a divorce.

Frank Lerch and forty-six others have filed a suit against the South Riverside Land and Water Company, praying judgment for a temporary injunction restraining the defendant from selling or offering for sale the shares of stock in the said defendant corporation owned by the plaintiffs.

Court Notes.

Judge Van Dyke yesterday declared Alexander P. Nelson an insolvent debtor. Nelson is a butcher at Compton, with liabilities for $1881, and only $800 worth of personal property to pay off his debts. H. B. Schildwachter was appointed assignee on a $1000 bond.

The suit of the Machinenfabrik-Grevenbroich, of Germany, against the Chino Valley Beet-sugar Company to recover payment for machinery, has been hanging around Department Four again lately. The case is in the hands of White & Monroe, and yesterday it was decided to settle it out of court to the mutual satisfaction of the parties involved.

Will Morrison and Harry F. Sievers were brought up yesterday before Judge Smith on the charge of robbery and pleaded not guilty. Morrison will be tried on September 17, and Sievers on September 18.

Judge York has taken his departure for Santa Catalina, and Department Three is closed. Clerk Francisco and Deputy Sheriff Jenkins are under marching orders to join the Judge on August 12 with all the legal documents they are able to carry across.

W. P. James has shaken the dust of the District Attorney's office from his feet, and departed for a fortnight's cruise. His place during his absence will be taken by F. R. Willis.

He Skipped for the East.

Andrew Williamson was arrested on Wednesday night at The Needles by order of Sheriff Burr, and brought back to the County Jail at Los Angeles.

Williamson failed to pay P. S. Condon his commission on $50, and departed forthwith for the East. Condon telegraphed the Sheriff of San Bernardino, who arrested Williamson as he passed through, but released him again upon Williamson's plausible representation that he had left the money for Condon with a friend in Los Angeles. This, upon investigation, was found to be false, and a telegram was sent after Williamson, who was arrested just as he was leaving the State.

He was brought before Judge Young, and allowed to go upon depositing $100 bail.

RAISED AN AWFUL SMELL.

The Mad Runaway of a Garbage Cart Team.

About 10 o'clock yesterday evening the horses attached to a swill cart took fright and ran away on Second street, starting near Olive and coming straight down the hill. Luckily they avoided the cable and electric cars, but came within an ace of colliding with the patrol wagon, which was stading in front of the Police Station. Officer Cox saw them coming and caused them to swerve from their course by wildly waving a chain, just in time to miss the "hurry-up" vehicle. They continued on their mad career till they reached Spring street, where the wagon collided with an iron electric road post in front of the Burdick block. This brought the fiery steeds to a standstill. There was no damage done except the breaking of the pole of the wagon, but the scatered garbage raised an awful smell that for a time rivaled the breath of the oil refinery.

Baby McKee Saws Wood.

(Fresno Expositor:) The Los Angeles Times tells Russell Harrison that if he wants his "pa" to have the least bit of a show for the Presidency again, he himself ought to keep still, as "the country remembers" him. This is good advice, from a Republican source. It is worthy of remark, also, that Baby McKee, no longer a baby, is much more sensible than Son Russell.

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Down in Orange county it pays better to rent a bicycle every day in the week than to steal one. Yesterday a man got five months in the County Jail for appropriating the use of a "bike" for just a few days, and he still swears, too, that he only borrowed the wheel from another fellow.

Self-preservation is pronounced to be the first law of nature. Possibly this primal instinct may assert itself in the case of the Councilmen who abide in the odoriferous City Hall, and who are now threatened with destruction by the many-colored smells which vibrate through the corridors of the municipal headquarters. Legislators are too precious to be recklessly risked in a noisome place.

The odor such as was a few months ago traced to the oil refinery is again smelled in the land late at night. It may be healthful, but you cannot make all Eastern visitors think so. Some of them will insist that it is sewer gas, and the more you try to tell them it is not, the more they will become impressed with their own opinion. The Board of Health should have a smelling investigation some night and proceed forthwith to abate the nuisance.

Commissioner Gunnis of San Diego county reports the trees in bearing as follows: Lemons, 51,590; oranges, 55,235; apples, 35,000; apricots, 48,600; figs, 27,293; olives, 29,700; walnuts, 4100; pears, 18,500; peaches, 65,875; prunes, 47,600; vines, 183,290. Non-bearing trees number: Lemons, 378,000; oranges, 98,000 apples, 50,250; apricots, 52,086; figs, 35,000; olives, 71,000; walnuts, 24,650; pears, 27,500; peaches, 123,500; prunes, 110,400; vines, 45,350; miscellaneous trees, bearing and non-bearing, 55,000.

The people in the thriving town of Gardena want to have abated the nuisance caused by the filthy condition of the "Nigger Slough," and no wonder. The place—that is the slough—smells to heaven and for a number of miles around on earth. The land all about there is productive, and the residents think it is unfair they should be subjected to the sickening odors when the land which would be reclaimed by draining the slough, so it is stated, would be worth as much as the draining would cost. It does seem as if the owners of the slough land should be made to drain it if they will not volunteer to do so. They should have some respect for public health.

The ordinary Spiritualist is so childishly credulous that it is almost impossible to convince him that he has been cheated. The more his cherished medium is exposed the more firmly convinced becomes the dupe that his prophet is a saintly martyr. Some years ago two mediums embraced the business of "Spiritualism Exposed." They gave a public exhibition in San Francisco, performing and explaining all the ordinary mediumistic tricks. The next evening an old, established medium held his regular weekly meeting. He arose and said: "My friends, the performance last night was done entirely by the aid of the spirits. That man and his wife are the most gifted mediums I have ever seen," And his sheep believed him.

What has the great and lovely Half-million Club of San Francisco been doing now to bring down on it the ridicule of the San Francisco Chronicle. Here is what that paper has to say about it: "The Half-million Club has been urged to make a display at the Mechanics' Fair. That is a charming suggestion! Let the gentlemen of the club display in large type their reasons for expecting to increase the population of San Francisco by stretching their stomachs in the other towns." It is about time, perhaps, that the members of it began to let out a button or two. They have had a pretty good time, have been a source of enjoyment to themselves and a source of amusement to others. But they must find out, sooner or later, that there is a limit to the girth of their pants even if there isn't any to their stomachs.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Judge B. N. Smith in the great sorrow which has befallen him in the death of his daughter, who passed away at noon yesterday, after a lingering illness. During the trial of the Chinese highbinder and the one which immediately followed it, every heart in the crowded courtroom turned with sympathy to the dignified man who so bravely took up his duty, suppressing his own personal grief and anxiety with a quiet courage which won the admiration of every one. Judge Smith's daughter was dying then, and every scrap of evidence in those cases was heard through a cloud of grief and suspense as to what the next hour might bring forth in the sorrow-stricken home. Truly, official position has many and severe drawbacks.

A FOUL MESS.

THE FILTHY CONDITION OF THE "NIGGER SLOUGH."

Masses of Putrefying Fish Make Gardena People Hold Their Noses—The Public Health Endangered—Efforts Made to Abate the Nuisance.

"Good morning."

"How d' do. Did you smell the slough last night? Wasn't it fearful?"

"Yes, it was so bad that at about midnight I had to get up and close the doors and windows. If this thing gets any worse I don't know what we shall do. We are nearly sick from it now."

The above conversation with variations is what may be heard now-a-days when two acquaintances meet in the little town of Gardena, ten miles south of Los Angeles. The nuisance referred to is the body of water known as the "Nigger Slough," which is irregular in form and is situated to the southerly of Gardena, some of it being less than a mile away.

The "Nigger Slough" covers somewhat over 1500 acres of land. A few years ago only a little of this territory was submerged, but by reason of what are supposed to have been overflows of either the Los Angeles or San Gabriel River the slough has since been filled with water. In winter the water would be renewed and in summer it would be reduced by evaporation, although a constant inflow of what is estimated to be sixty miner's inches, coming up through the bottom, has kept the quantity of water up to a certain point.

In winter there has been little odor about the slough as it would be kept in fairly good condition by means of the rain water flowing in. Great numbers of wild ducks gather about it at that time of year, and the place then proves quite an attraction to sportsmen.

In summer, however, the situation is changed, and as the amount of water in the slough is reduced by evaporation the stench from it becomes more and more unendurable.

Carp breed in the waters in great numbers and there are at present so many of them that they apparently cannot all live in them. As was the case last summer when the water was low thousands of these fish die and are washed up to the bank where their decomposition pollutes the atmosphere to such an extent as to be very offensive.

At times when the nuisance caused by the decaying fish has become unbearable great furrows have been plowed along the shores and the putrefying messes have been thus buried. The work of burying the fish has been very trying on the men engaged in it, and they have frequently found it necessary to keep camphor or something of the kind about their nostrils in order to avoid extreme nausea. In numerous instances persons who have ventured near the place have been seized with vomiting by reason of the overpowering stench.

One of the arms of the slough borders on the Carson ranch where hogs are kept. The hogs have access to the water of the slough and about this part of it the water has become so filthy that even the carp cannot live in it. The water here is of a pale pink color, and is covered in part with a sickish-looking scum. About the shores are flies innumerable and nastiness seems to prevail everywhere. The place smells to heaven. One should not remain near it too long. It would make him sick.

The smells from the slough have variations. That from where the hogs wallow in it is not the same as that where the fish are putrefying. People who live near Gardena are treated to one or the other or both these odors according to which way the wind blows. When there is little or no breeze, as is the case late at night, the pestilential odor seems to settle all about the neighborhood and all efforts to keep it out of one's house prove unavailing.

The stench makes its presence known at times for miles around. It is frequently observed at Compton, and has at times made itself unpleasantly disagreeable at Redondo. It has been noticed at the latter place sometimes in the morning. The odor at Redondo was at first supposed to be due to sewer gas, but was afterward traced to the slough.

A number of cases of sickness among people living near the slough have been reported. While not all of these are claimed to be due to the filthy conditions existing, yet it is charged that most of them are.

W. F. Benedict, who has a small ranch close to where the dead fish collect, stated yesterday that he and his family were nearly sick from the stench. His daughter, who had been ill from it, had gone to Catalina for a few days, where she recovered. On returning she was again taken with the same illness. "Unless something is done soon to keep those dead fish away," said he resignedly, "I suppose I shall have to move away. I have been able to keep up only by using a great deal of quinine, and I can't stand it much longer." Mr. Benedict's sickly appearance made it evident that he was telling the truth.

A canal such as would drain the slough can be constructed with dry excavation by running it from the slough southerly to the small body of water known as Bixby Lake. Such a canal, it is estimated, would have to be three and one-half miles in length, and the deepest cut in it would be about thirty feet. The estimated cost of such a canal is $25,000.

As a result of the construction of such a canal about twenty-seven hundred acres of land would be reclaimed. About fifteen hundred acres of this land is at present under water, and the rest of the land that could be reclaimed is subject to overflow.

In order to increase the efficiency of the proposed canal, it is said a supplementary conduit could be excavated from the slough southeasterly to where it would connect with tide water. By inserting in this conduit a suitable tide-lock, it is said a current of tide water could be made to flow from the ocean into the slough through one canal and out through another. The cost of the suplemental canal and tide-lock, it is estimated, would be $5000. The digging for this would have to be what is known as "wet" excavation. At low tide nearly all of the water in the slough would be drained out.

The Gardena people have before them for signatures a petition to the Board of Supervisors asking relief from the nuisance caused by the condition of the slough. Similar petitions are in circulation in near-by towns. Three or four weeks ago the fearful condition of the nuisance was discussed at length in the course of a sermon from one of the pulpits.

Notwithstanding the fact that a large part of the residents of Gardena are in favor of taking heroic measures to abate the nuisance, there are, it is said, a few of them who appear disposed to keep the real situation from the public.

As a whole, however, it is stated the residents are in earnest about getting rid of the nuisance, and they say that if relief be not granted them by the present authorities, they propose to make the matter an issue in the next campaign.

To compel the owners of the lands on which the slough is situated to abate the nuisance, it is asserted, would work no hardship for the reason that the land thus reclaimed would be more valuable than the cost of reclaiming it.

Police Court Notes.

In the Police Court yesterday John Thomas, a colored fortune-teller, got a 100-day sentence for stealing a gold ring from one of his female patrons.

A. Perpich, arrested for carrying a concealed weapon, was granted a continuance till August 5, to plead.

The demurrer to the complaint against Frank Weh, alias Cummings, for smoking opium, was overruled. His request for a jury trial was denied, and the case was continued till August 6.

August Bernard will be arraigned today for violating a health ordinance.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF CALIFORNIA.

The National Bank of California is one of the few banks that successfully stood the shock of the late panic and maintained full coin payments right through.
The National Bank of California pays no interest on deposits in any form, offers no special inducements for business other than reliability when the customers exercise their right to demand their money.
In the matter of loans it looks more to reliability than high rates of interest, and desires no loans except from good and reliable parties, and then exacts good security, believing that no bank is better or more reliable than its loans.

HOUSE AND LOT.

REMARKABLE ACTIVITY IN THE BUILDING BOOM.

Figures Showing the Value of Improvements During the Past Eighteen Months.

Many Important Developments Are Under Way West of Westlake Park.

The Extension of Adams Street—West Second — Boulevards — The Real Estate Tax—Street Assessments—Building Notes.

While it is true that dealers refer to the past week as a dull one, the amount of business transacted has been such as would have been considered more than satisfactory during any week of the past half dozen summers. The fact is that business has improved so much in the real estate line during the past year that an amount of business is now transacted daily which would have aroused comment and caused predictions of a boom a couple of years ago, but which is now taken as a matter of course. There are quite a number of inquiring Eastern investors in the city and even the charms of the seaside and mountain resorts do not appear to be able to draw them away from a place in which they see so many chances for profitable investment.

THE BUILDING OF A CITY.

If business in the real estate line could possibly be termed dull, certainly nobody could apply such a term to the condition of the building trade. The manner in which building keeps up in Los Angeles is a marvel, even to the most sanguine among our own people, who naturally suppose that there would be something of a pause during the summer months, after the extraordinary activity of the past year. So far from this being the case there is, on the contrary, a steady, large and remarkable increase in the amount of building that is going on. Anyone who takes a glance at Broadway between Second and Seventh streets must recognize the fact that we are witnessing the upbuilding of a large city. That thoroughfare at present reminds one of Spring street between Second and Sixth in the fall of 1886, when most of the important blocks which now stand there were under construction. Building is, however, by no means confined to one thoroughfare, or to any one section of the city. It is very general from one end of the city to the other, scarcely any section being neglected. Along Central avenue, out to and beyond the city limits, a new suberb has practically been created during the past eighteen months, as frequently commented upon by The Times. Those who have not been down to the Wolfskill tract, just this side of the Arcade depot for a year or so, would scarcely know that section, so greatly has it been changed by the building operations in the past twelve months. Instead of buildings being few and far between, as was the case a little over a year ago, vacant lots are now the exception.

Of the southwestern part of the city it is scarcely necessary to speak. All that is necessary to teach anybody what has been done and is being done in this direction is a brief trip on the University line of cars. On any single day improvements may be seen under way which would be considered as quite creditable for a year's record in some cities not much smaller than Los Angeles.

Ont in the west end of the city the tide of improvement has been somewhat impeded by the question as to the future of the oil industry, some people fearing to make valuable improvements until it is definitely settled whether they are likely to have oil derricks in their neighborhood. Yet in spite of this fact there has been a large amount of money put into improvements during the past six months in the section around Westlake Park and on Pico Heights, which are the two chief centers of building activity on the hills.

The building of the electric railroad to Pasadena and the approaching completion of the Kuhrts-street road have acted as a sort of tonic to East Los Angeles, and inquiry for property in that section is much better than it has been for many years past. The same is true of Boyle Heights, where the proposed new electric railroad across the river at Fourth street is regarded by many of the citizens as almost an accomplished fact.

With the completion of several new lines of street railway to various parts of the city—which now appear to be more than a probability in some cases and a certainty in others—during the next six months, including the Hook line to the southwestern part of the city, with several possible extensions beyond the city limits, the Khurtz-stret line to the East Side Park, the Boyle Heights line by way of Fourth stret and the Bellevue avenue line to connect with the foothill railway to Santa Monica, we are justified in anticipating a still greater and more general development throughout the city between now and the end of the year.

SOME STRIKING FIGURES.

The following remarkable figures, showing the amount of building permits issued and their value, for the twelve months of 1894 and seven months of 1895, have been furnished The Times by the City Superintendent of Building. They speak for themselves:

1894.

Permits.	Amount.
January 131	$133,435
February 121	115,145
March 158	156,740
April 133	222,010
May 162	185,210
June 149	194,565
July 123	233,428
August 156	182,957
September 170	279,710
October 225	269,120
November 184	275,707
December 117	131,675

1895.

Permits.	Amount.
January 164	$190,700
February 170	264,000
March 201	226,822
April 186	300,368
May 216	363,990
June 163	301,295
July 245	637,219

There are few cities in the country, large or small, that can duplicate these figures, which tell a tale of rapid growth that is too plain to be misunderstood. As is quite natural, the building of so many residences, many of them by persons who have been living in rented houses, has increased the number of houses that are offered for rent, but it will be found on investigation that a majority of these do not apply to the class of "strictly modern residences." They are generally old-fashioned and have been deserted for more desirable houses. The prospect is that a majority even of these will be filled up during the coming winter, and even then the demand is likely to prove greater than the supply.

THE WESTLAKE PARK SECTION.

The section immediately south, east and southwest of Westlake Park has been building up in a rapid manner during the past few years, but so far nothing has been done to extend the march of improvement beyond the park to the west, although here may be found some of the most attractive building sites in Los Angeles county. At length there is likely to be a change in this condition of affairs, and the section immediately outside of the city in a westerly direction will rival the southewestern corner in rapidity of growth. There is an enterprise on foot—or rather several of them—which promise to create quite a boom in acreage property lying outside the city on the west.

Just west of and adjoining Westlake Park there is a tract of land which, unlike most of the tracts in this section within the city, slopes toward the ocean, affording a fine view over the intervening valley. This is the Wilshire Auburn Lake tract, consisting of thirty-five acres, subdivided into 161 lots, lying just west of the park, which is being made ready for the market. The cost of improvements for grading, cement sidewalks, sewering, etc., on this tract alone are estimated to be from $40,000 to $50,000, and several fine residences are already promised as soon as these improvements are made.

The owners of the tract promise to have all streets graded, cement sidewalks laid, and will not only plant shade trees upon all the streets, but will make contracts for the care of those trees for five years.

Messrs. Maltman & Ivers, Mrs. Shatto and other large property-owners in that section contemplate making extensive improvements before long. All they are waiting for is better transportation facilities. There is an application before the Council for a railroad franchise extending from Eighth and Pearl, where it would be connected with the Hook system, and running out Eighth street to a point beyond Alvarado street, thence north and along Seventh street past the park, where it would connect with the dummy line that runs up into the Cahuenga Valley, past the Baptist College. Should the franchise be granted the railroad company promises to have the road in operation within ninety days. There is understood, however, to be some opposition to this franchise from parties who are interested in another railroad enterprise, the objection they raise being that it would be undesirable to have a car-line on Seventh street opposite the park and near the music-stand. As, however, Seventh is the only available street, Eighth being closed by a ravine; as the street is very wide here, and as the railroad would open up a large amount of desirable residence property, there seems to be no valid reason why the Council should not grant this franchise, providing that a majority of the residents in the immediate vicinity do not raise any objection to it.

The construction of such a line would undoubtedly be the opening wedge in a rapid development of West Los Angeles beyond the city limits. With it the march of the city toward the ocean in a direct westerly direction might be said to have commenced.

Some people have a dread of the possibility of finding oil in the neighborhood of their residences. In order to make sure in this direction the owners of the Wilshire tract expended $5000 in sinking a well to a depth of 1200 feet and found no oil.

ADAMS STREET EXTENSION.

The proposed exetnsion of Adams street to the ocean, to which reference was made some time ago in these columns, has met with a temporary obstacle in the shape of a refusal by the owner of Bonita Meadows to give a right-of-way through his property. A suit was commenced a few days ago to condemn a right-of-way across this property, which was sold recently to J. W. Keating, who has been absent in British Columbia for some months past. As this gentleman has invested quite largely in Santa Monica real estate it would seem as if he ought to realize the great advantage to himself as well as others of having a fine wide thoroughfare between the city and the ocean. It has also been intimated that the Supervisors will not only refuse to pay the damages but abandon the street altogether. It is high time that there should be at least one first-class driving thoroughfare between Los Angeles and the ocean. Out of thirteen owners of land through which the street passes ten of them cheerfully gave the right-of-way. Much surprise has been expressed that the jury should have given a verdict of damages when the testimony was so largely to the effect that the opening of the street would be a benefit to all concerned. It is not very encouraging to those who are endeavoring to work up a sentiment in favor of good roads, to find a few people always standing in the way of the general welfare.

A HOTEL STREET.

One of the features of the real estate market during the past six months has been the manner in which the side streets leading off Main, Spring and Broadway, have begun to attract the attention of investors and speculators who have begun to build business blocks of greater or less pretension. It is only quite a short time ago when First street was the only east and west street upon which business buildings of any importance could be found. Now there are plenty of such buildings on Fourth and Sixth streets, while on Temple street quite a little business section has been growing up between Spring street and Olive.

One of the most noteworthy instances of this growth has been in the case of West Second street, between Broadway and Hill. On this block there is at present only one lot that is not occupied by a business house, and most of the buildings are quite solid and handsome. It looks as if Second street, from Hill to Olive, would soon be occupied entirely by large boarding-houses, of which there are already several in the block. In fact, Second street from Spring street west is rapidly assuming the appearance of a hotel and boarding-house street. At the corner of Spring street there is the Hollenbeck. Then, between Broadway and Olive there are some of the leading boarding-houses in the city. If, as is reported, I. W. Hellman should erect a hotel at the corner of Second and Broadway, the reputation of Second street as a leading hotel street would be established.

From Olive to Grand avenue the grade on Second street is exceedingly heavy, and there is no probability that any kind of a street railway will ever be built up that block. For those who do not mind a short climb, however, there are some of the finest building sites of the city in that section, with extensive views, while at the same time it is very convenient to business. It is not at all improbable that even this block will be occupied by boarding-houses before long.

The disposition of investors to move out a little east and west from the main business thoroughfares in selecting lots for speculation or improvement is a wise and desirable one, and should be encouraged. The Times, while admitting the evident business future of the city to lie in a more or less southwesterly direction, has incurred the disapproval of a few unreasonable people who have property interests in that direction by refusing to admit that business is going to jump five or six blocks within half as many years. Those who have followed the advice of The Times, and have invested their money on close-in side streets at reasonable figures, will have cause to congratulate themselves, as property on those streets is bound to increase in value largely and steadily, as the city grows in population and wealth.

BOULEVARDS.

Several meetings have been held in Los Angeles to advocate the construction of good roads throughout this section, and much interest appears to have been aroused at these gatherings. It is to be hoped that the interest of the public in this matter will not be permitted to die out before something of a practical nature is attempted and carried through. The bicyclists of this section are now so numerous that it is not likely that they will allow the authorities to lose sight of the subject.

It would be difficult to mention any one thing that is of such great importance to suburban property-holders around Los Angeles as the construction of a few first-class boulevards, which shall be in good condition and pleasant to drive and ride over at all seasons of the year. Owing to the mild and attractive climate of this section such thoroughfares could be made ornamental as well as useful to an extent that is not possible in the harsher climate of the East, where most of the trees are bare, except for a cover of snow, during several months of the year.

A suggestion of what is possible in this direction has been furnished by the beautiful boulevards at Riverside and Ontario. It is, however, not necessary to suppose that we have reached the limit of elegance and appropriateness in this direction. On the contrary, we are only at the beginning of the boulevard era in this section. A short time ago, in the San Francisco Call, William Ham Hall, the well-known civil engineer, had an interesting article on the proposition to construct a grand drive or boulevard from San Francisco to San Jose. In the course of the article Mr. Hall gives the following useful and instructive suggestions on this subject:

"Distinctly and unequivocally this should be a pleasure drive—a travel-way for the enjoyment of locomotion and of passage through the country—a via sacra, in so far that it should be held sacred from profanation by the hoofs and wheels of trade and business.

"Moreover, it should not only be made and reserved as a way for individual means of carriage, distinctively from public or collective means—such as railways, by whatever power the carriages of these latter might be propelled—but, with equal decision, it should be kept apart even from contact with or juxtaposition to this class of tracked public highway. Neither the 'iron horse" nor "death the motor" should be in evidence, except at a distance and unavoidably to those who wheel and ride along the boulevards.

"I do not stop to argue this point, for aside from the plain utilitarian reasons which uphold it, there are principles involved whose discussions would lead into a longer chat and one of more esthetic nature than the topic yet calls for.

"Not only should there be no railway of any type designed alongside of or with the boulevard, but, if possible, rights-of-way for this latter should be obtained on conditions such that no commercial highway of any character could, in future, be placed within, say 200 feet of it, except by the exercise of the power of eminent domain, which, of course, could not be done away with.

"A light-travel electric railway through the country to be traversed by this boulevard is surely a thing to be desired, but it is no more a desirable feature or accompaniment of a high-class country road that it is of a city parkway or of a drive in a city park. It would be even more objectionable alongside of a distinctly rural boulevard than alongside of a city parkway, and there is room enough through the country to admit of a widely separate location for it.

"These thoughts may be taken as giving the key to the whole idea of the improvement. We should think of the boulevard as a rural parkway from Golden Gate to Garden City—an intra-county park. With this fundamental idea well fixed we are prepared to answer the query: What should be its character? Broadly: First, this character should be to the best serving of its primary purpose; and, second, such as is closely in keeping with its surroundings in each locality traversed.

"Now, the primary purpose is that of affording a way for agreeable locomotion throughout the route. Attending this is the attainment of an advantageous outlook upon the country around and into the more characteristic and attractive parts of it in detail.

"That the trip may be agreeable the road surface should not only be smooth without extreme hardness, but the route should avoid unnecessary indirectness; the location and design for construction should afford all the variety in the way of curvature, gradients and landscape treatment, which the several localities traversed seem to call for, and extreme wind and sun effects should be guarded against. In other words, this boulevard may be treated, in connection with its surroundings, as a park study from beginning to end.

"The short, straight avenue flanked by rows of trees of umbellated form and shading character, the long, straight avenue held between columns of trees of fastigiate growth and imposing effect, the broad, sweeping drive with easy curvature amid scattered single specimens or small groups of spreading trees, the winding, narrow road whose curvature comports not only to governing forms of topography but to heavier groupings of varied foliages, the canyon drive held between hillside and stream channel and following their crooked alignments amid growths entirely in harmony with the surrounding natural foliage and arrangement, the mountain or hillside road with rock points guarded by suitable walls and with canyon or ravine crossings made on bridges of design in keeping with their sites—these all should find place and repeated introductions into the design of this boulevard, each according with its part of the route covered.

"To describe the proposed boulevards as 'a broad drive flanked by double rows of trees,' or as 'two parallel drives with a row of trees between and a row on each side,' or in any way to imply uniformity of treatment throughout, is a grievous mistake. That suittable portions of it should be so treated goes without saying, but only suitable portions and only a limited part in any one stretch. Our climate is especially not well adapted to the straight alignment of ways for travel with flanking rows of trees. A straight road anywhere within the influence of San Francisco winds and fogs is bound to have a bleak, inhospitable aspect for many days in each year, and to be disagreeably dust-swept a large part of the time. Moreover, the kinds of trees adapted to make avenue-like effects—whether of the crowned or shaded or walled-in character—do not thrive here and cannot be made to attain that degree of perfection which will be satisfying for long avenues."

NORTHEAST OF LOS ANGELES.

We now have a South Los Angeles as well as a West Los Angeles and an East Los Angeles. It is likely that before long there will be built up a very compact Northeast Los Angeles, extending in an unbroken line from the city limits to Pasadena. The Times has frequently predicted that the construction of the electric railroad would have the effect of giving a great impetus to values of property all along the line. This prediction is already coming true. The prices asked for property along the line of the electric road and within a short distance of that line are much stiffer than they have been since the days of the boom, and there are comparatively few property-owners who are particularly anxious to sell at all at present figures, believing that the coming year will see a still greater advance in prices.

One of the tracts which has been called into existence by the great increase in transportation facilities between Los Angeles and Pasadena is the Kinney Highland View tract, which is located on Arroyo Seco road, with the Terminal Railway to Glendale on one side and the three Pasadena roads—the Southern California, Terminal and electric—within easy distance on the other. The lots are of good size and the agents report a good demand for them.

UNREASONABLE INVESTORS.

The Investor contains the following sensible remarks in regard to real estate investors and dealers who are inclined to look upon real estate as something in the nature of a bonanza mine from which they may extract profits that they would never think of expecting from any ordinary line of business:

"The ordinary investor in real estate imposes burdens upon this form of investment that he would not for a moment feel justified in imposing upon any other class of investment. He is inclined upon making an investment in a place of real estate to fix an arbitrary advance in value which should be forthcoming at an arbitrary time, which usually is but a few months hence, and if this advance is not obtainable at the time arbitrarily set, he will say there is nothing good in real estate, and forthwith he becomes a skeptic and unjustly criticises all real estate investments.

"In placing the advance of profit which should be forthcoming to him he unjustly bases his conclusions upon an advance of profit of anywhere from 25 to 100 per cent. over the investment made by him. If this same investor were to purchase stock in any manufacturing enterprise, or in fact in any other of the many forms of investment, he would base his advance or profit at from 6 to possibly 20 per cent. over the amount invested.

"Investors who are ordinarily conservative in other matters seem to become extravagant in their expectations of a proper return from this form of investment, says William B. Cutter, ex-president of the National Real Estate Association. They forget that successful real estate investments are the result of a fortunate combination of the working of time and the 'unearned increment.' An investor who bases his added demands in price upon the result of his own, his neighbor's or the municipality's improvements to his own or neighboring lands, very seldom exceeds an obtainable market."

THE TAX ON REAL ESTATE BUSINESS.

J. P. Moore, a real estate man of this city, sends The Times the following communication on the subject of the city tax on real estate business, and whether it is constitutional or not. The subject is one that is open for discussion, and The Times will be pleased to print any further communications of a brief and practical character in relation thereto:

"Your valuable paper being a recognized exponent of the real estate interests, and noticing your able reviews of many important legal questions, I respectfully request you to discuss and answer as nearly as you can the questions asked in the above caption. The purpose of a city license is either for public safety, as in case of saloons, dogs at large, etc., and to pay for police protection therefrom, or for revenue. Now, the question is, how do our city fathers classify the real estate man to justify placing a license on him or his business of $1 per month per head? (See ordinance approved July 21, 1894.) Certainly not with the saloons, else that would discriminate against the saloon man, as charging him too much. If with the 'dogs at large' that would discriminate against the other dog in not requiring the real estate man to wear a brass collar to indicate 'license paid.' (Or do they think he wears enough of the 'metal' in his face?) If for purpose of revenue, then that discriminates against the real estate man, as there is no reason why his business should be taxed for such purpose, that does not apply with equal force to every other business. Besides, the amount is insufficient for revenue, or to limit the number engaged in the business or to guarantee fair dealing. The real estate man is really not a dangerous animal, requiring police surveillance. The city is at no more expense on his account than for every other business man. He will average up as a useful and law-abiding citizen with lawyer, doctor, merchant or councilman. Then if for none of these purposes, why this ordinance requiring the real estate man to pay a license to do business that does not apply to any other business calling? And what does the city want this money for, and what does it do with it when it gets it? Is it not really unequal taxation, and, therefore, unconstitutional? If so what is the city going to do about it, and what will it do with all the money it has thus collected illegally?

"Please shed all the light you can upon this subject, for a few of the men spending their money and doing their full share to attract people here and build up the city would like to know."

STREET ASSESSMENTS.

No assessments for street work have been made out within the past week. The map of sewer district No. 2, situated south of Washington and west of Figueroa, has been received, and the third assessment will be made out at once in accordance with instructions from the City Council, as noted in The Times of July 19.

The assessment for opening East Pico street, between San Julian and San Pedro, was delinquent the 24th of July, and advertised July 29, to be sold August 8 at 10 o'clock a.m., at the street superintendent's office.

The assessment for the opening of Santee street, from its southern terminus into Twenty-third street, will be delinquent August 8.

The assessment for changing and establishing the grade of Hill street, from Rock street to Bellevue avenue, will be delinquent August 12.

All street openings, widenings and extendings draw a 5 per cent. penalty and 50 cents for advertising, after delinquency, until date of sale, after which time the purchaser or tax buyer can demand 50 per cent. in addition for one year, when the tax-buyer can obtain a deed. All these delinquencies are published in the official paper.

[RAILROAD RECORD.]

CANNOT FORECLOSE.

THE GOVERNMENT HAS NO LEGAL MORTGAGE ON UNION PACIFIC.

A Story Which is Sensational and May be True—The Construction Forces on the Valley Road Have a Good Time with Scrip.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)

CHICAGO, Aug. 1.—The Omaha correspondent of the Chicago Tribune claims to have come into possession of facts which show that the government has no legal mortgage upon the Union Pacific property to foreclose; that no default in payment of interest can now be shown, and that the government cannot, if it would, foreclose on any part of the debt prior to January, 1898.

"If the moneys," the correspondent says, "which the Pacific railroads claim from the government for services rendered were allowed and added to the sinking fund, the gross amount would be sufficient to meet the entire principal and interest charges accrued on United States bonds up to the issues due in January, 1889."

"There is no attempt made," he says, "to excuse, condone or in any way palliate the disgraceful manner in which the finances of the Union Pacific were engineered during the early existence of the company. The question was not, so far as the line itself is concerned, one of vengeance or retribution for wrong doing in the past, but rather to save to the government as much as can be saved from the wreck of these properties. Whatever robberies may have been committed in the past, it is claimed the company itself has not been benefited thereby, rather the treasury, and the road has been robbed and individuals, and many of them, have become enormously rich, and the property has become depreciated and has been despoiled."

Little doubt is expressed that the United States has its remedy against all who have in any way profited by the despoliation of the Union Pacific road. To prove the foregoing assertions abstracts from the various acts of Congress, undoubtedly furnished by Union Pacific attorneys, are quoted by the correspondent, but are too voluminous to be reproduced.

VALLEY ROAD SCRIP.

STOCKTON, Aug. 1.—Stockton is aware tonight that a railroad is being built from here. Today being the first of the month the contractors on the first section of the grade gave the men scrip. Most of them sold this and tonight many of them are having a glorious time on the levee. The police have their hands full and several arrests have been made. Four carloads, or seventy-five tons, of tie-plates arrived this morning and were unloaded at once. Contractor Worthington, who is to build the first trestle, a 400-foot structure across Mormon Channel, arrived this morning with a gang of men and will begin operations at once.

COMING BY BOAT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 1.—Passengers on the steamer St. Paul are: Los Angeles—Miss J. Rossiter, A. R. Vansicht, and five steerage. For Santa Barbara—R. C. Cook, F. F. Bell.

SCRAP HEAP.

Another excursion for Southern California will leave New Mexico and Arizona points via the Southern Pacific on the 6th inst. A through sleeper will be sent from Phoenix and another from Tucson.

The arrivals by the Santa Fe excursion yesterday were: J. W. Long, W. H. Gould, wife and son, Boston, Mass.; O. W. Crang, Mary Crang, Cleveland, O.; W. Fisk, H. L. Jones, A. L. Armstrong and wife, Kansas City, Mo.; C. B. Whittier, Baltimore, Md.; Maud Buttick, Streator, Ill.; Henry Miller, Misses Lizzie, Anna, Joana, Sophia and Linina and Edward Miller, Muncie, Ind.; W. J. McLauen and wife, G. H. Jones, Prescott, Ariz.; P. Dwyer, Chicago.

GOING INTO CAMP.

Tents Are Being Erected at Santa Monica—Crowds Expected.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 1. — (Special Correspondence.) Commander Dill, Quartermaster Summons, Col. Brooker and Comrade Munson of the Tent Committee, with other officers of the Encampment Army, have arrived, and the active work of establishing bivouac in Seventh-street Park has begun. As was the case last year, the camp will be pitched around Lincoln circle, in the center of the park, with headquarters tents closest in, and the entire park will be occupied with other canvas. As last year also, the big assembly tent will be pitched south of the park. It will be erected tomorrow. About two hundred tents are now on the ground, and are being put up as fast as practicable. More will be procured as wanted. The Transportation Committee says indications point to an increased attendance over last year, and calculations are being made accordingly.

The camp for 1895 has not yet been named. The speaking programme is also in abeyance, but it is certain that sufficient talent will be here for a ten days' full of fun and profit, and the details will be arranged later.

Another Tumble.

About 9:45 last evening another big section of the cliff on the south side of the First-street cut came rumbling down, covering many feet deep the spot where the chain-gang had been working all day. The lodgers in the Highland Villa, which is perched high up just across the street, were much alarmed at the roar, thinking at first that the tumble was on their side of the street. They rushed out of doors and found that the cliff had caved at its highest portion, pouring tons of earth half way across the street. It will take many weeks to remove the fallen earth.

The Goux Inquest.

Coroner Campbell held an inquest yesterday afternoon at Robert L. Garrett's undertaking-rooms, over the remains of John Goux. The jury returned a verdict of suicide in accordance with the facts as related in The Times yesterday. Nothing sensational developed at the inquest. All the evidence tended to show that Goux took his own life owing to drink and despondency over ill-health and money matters. His brother from Santa Barbara attended the inquest and took charge of the remains and the suicide's effects. The brother was greatly affected by the tragedy, and could not repress his sobs when speaking of the sad affair.

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

Mr. and Mrs. Ezra T. Stimson gave a charming dinner yesterday, followed by a theater party at the Orpheum. The decorations, which were done by John Reeves, were extremely artistic. Near one end of the table was a pretty, overturned basket, from which fell white carnations and ferns, and down the length of the table stretched a lovely mass of the white carnations, mingled with asparagus plumosus and maidenhair fern. At either end were handsome glass candelabra, holding green candles, with white and green shades. The favors were small, white bonbon boxes tied with green ribbon. About the dining-room were arranged fragrant masses of carnations and ferns. Mrs. Stimson wore a graceful gown of green and white lawn, with garniture of green ribbon and white lace. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Holliday, Mr. and Mrs. Holterhoff, Mr. and Mrs. Will Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Walter B. Cline, Mrs. Victoria Harrell and Mrs. E. T. Earl.

AN INFORMAL TEA.

Mrs. M. S. Potts of Downey avenue gave a delightful tea yesterday, for Mrs. Blackman of San Francisco. Among the guests were Mmes. George Irvine, Sturge, Frank P. Flint, Misses Ervine, Dean, Thompson and Embody.

THIMBLE PARTY.

Mrs. J. Dean and Miss Dean of Downey avenue, entertained very pleasantly Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Blackman. Mrs. W. W. Stockwell and Miss Entler assisted in receiving. Some delightful piano solos were rendered by Mrs. Blackman. The list of guests included: Mmes. Laverty, Lacy, Wilson, Cook, Embody, Miller, George Stockwell, Potts, Sumner, Sturge, Blackman, Stephens, Scott, Lamby, Entler, Misses Thompson, Lacy, Embody and Miss Dickson of Chicago.

DISTURBING TRAFFIC.

How a Family Upset the Cable Time-Schedule.

Yesterday a man stood on the corner of Sixth and Broadway, with his ten-year-old son, his eight-year-old daughter and the basket gathered around him. The day was warm and the cable car was long in coming, so he set the basket down beside him.

At last the party boarded a Westlake car, the father and daughter taking seats on the trailer, the boy on the dummy. The car had proceeded only half a block, when the boy uttered a sudden scream, "Stop! stop!" he shrieked, tugging frantically at the gripman's coat. The gripman turned pale with horror; he stopped the car with a jerk, expecting to see the mangled fragments of some unfortunate scattered promiscuously around the street.

"Oh, papa," said the boy, "we've left the basket." The father gasped, then tumbled off the car and went sprinting away up the street like a crack bicycler, and around the Sixth-street corner out of sight. The conductor was so amazed, with the children left on his hands, too, that he awaited the man's return in silence. In a minute the father reached the car, the precious basket hugged tightly in his arms, and the westward journey was begun again.

Half a block farther on the man touched the conductor on the arm: "Will this car take us to the Santa Fe depot?" he asked. "Why, you're going straight away from it," answered the nickel-taker.

At that very moment the car struck the curve on the corner of Sixth and Broadway, but the boy wanted to stop right there. He jumped, and alighted on his back with his head softly pillowed on an iron culvert.

The car stopped and all its passengers anxiously gathered around to see if the boy was hurt beyond help. But his head was hard; he jumped up apparently uninjured, and the party boarded a depot car and disappeared in the distance.

MAYNE ARRAIGNED.

The Uncle of the Shipton Girls is in the City.

A large crowd, including some prominent citizens, flocked to Justice Owens's court yesterday afternoon to get a glimpse of Clifton E. Mayne when he was brought in for arraignment on the charge of criminal assault on his alleged wards, the Shipton girls. He looked a trifle paler than on the previous day, and still appeared to be somewhat nervous. He was accompanied by his attorneys, Copeland and Stevens, who, after the formal arraignment of the prisoner, said they would be ready to go on with the examination Wednesday, August 7, at 9:30 a.m. The court so ordered, and bail was again fixed at $2000.

Mayne stated yesterday that he had several offers of bail, but had not decided to accept them. He still maintains silence regarding his case.

J. W. Bell, the uncle of the Shipton girls, returned to the city yesterday from the San Fernando Valley, where he has been working for the Los Angeles Farming and Milling Company. He said he was in Riverside county when Mayne brought his nieces here. On learning the manner in which Mayne had got possession of them, he felt suspicious, and began an investigation. He soon discovered that something was wrong, and that Mayne was making false pretenses. He told him so to his face, and they had quite a little row.

He wrote to the girls' mother about the matter, but before he received a reply he had to leave the city. At that time he did not suspect that Mayne had debauched the girls or would try to do so. He did not know until Wednesday the full particulars of the scandal, being then informed by a friend who went specially to the San Fernando Valley to see him. On hearing the particulars he came post haste to Los Angeles.

Bell says he is fully satisfied as to Mayne's guilt, and intends to do all he can to bring him to justice. He will be one of the witnesses at the examination next Wednesday.

The Band Played.

The wild, barbaric music of that strange quickstep, the "Midway Plaisance," filled the air yesterday in the neighborhood of the Wilmington Transportation Company's office on Second street. The Catalina Band had crossed the channel for a day's jaunt and come up town to serenade the company. Over a thousand people gathered and enthusiastically demanded more music. Several numbers were rendered, the gem of them all being some selections from Haydn's great work, "The Passion."

AFTER TWO YEARS.

ARREST OF CHUNG SEE, WANTED FOR DEPORTATION.

A Chinese Woman Adjudged Unlawfully in the Country, but by Means of a Substitute or Otherwise, She Escaped Execution of Sentence.

As a result of the arrest of Chung See, a Chinese woman, in Chinatown Wednesday afternoon, there is great consternation in certain circles in the Mongolian settlement.

The woman in question has an unusual history and it is not unlikely she will soon make a forced visit to the Orient. It apears that she arrived in San Francisco on the steamship Peru in June, 1893, she at that time claiming to be the wife of a merchant. She was afterward tried in the United States District Court and was sentenced to deportation.

At this point there is a break in the story which remains unexplained except perhaps in San Francisco. It is supposed, however, that by some means another woman was substituted and deported in her stead.

A year or so later it became known to the government authorities that Chung See was still in this country, and a warrant was isued for her arrest. The warrant was placed in the hands of Government Inspector R. S. Williams, who is a deputy under John S. Wise, who is Collector of the Port of San Francisco.

Inspector Williams caried the warrant for nearly a year. Last Tuesday he came to Los Angeles, and upon his arrival in this city learned that Chung See was in Chinatown here. He proceded to search for the woman, and with the aid of certain parties who knew of her was able to locate her at a place commonly known as a house of prostitution on Apablasa street.

As soon as the inspector had made the arrest the Chinaman whose slave the woman was commenced to tell her in Chinese what to say to the officer. It so happens that Inspector Williams can understand Chinese, and accordingly, after the woman's master had told her what to say, the inspector informed him that that would do. The woman made but a weak attempt to deny that she was the one wanted, and she was taken to the office of the United States Marshal, into whose custody she was placed.

By reason of the arrest the other Chinese women in the neighborhood are in a state of great uneasiness. If a white man goes near the houses in which they are they quickly lock the doors and hide within as if fearful that others of them are wanted by the officers of the law.

The house in which Chung See was arrested has for some time past been inhabited by three or four Chinamen and as many women. This house as well as others near it are commonly known as places of prostitution, but the police have found it very difficult to secure convictions against the keepers.

Chung See was one of the Chinese women arested for vagrancy at about the time of the troubles leading to the shooting of Lou Suey.

SUICIDE OF STEPPLER.

Killed Himself on Account of His Bad Boy.

The chronicle of a day's happenings in Los Angeles this week would not be complete without the report of a suicide. Yesterday was no exception to the rule, Ernest L. Steppler being the man who furnished the daily sensation. Steppler killed himself yesterday morning by taking strychnine.

The story of Steppler's taking off is a pathetic one, and, if specially designed to afford a text for the anti-saloon agitator, could not fit the purpose better.

Steppler was a German, 49 years old, and, according to the statements of friends and neighbors, was, until about six months ago, an industrious bricklayer. Having laid by a little money he decided to invest it in the liquor business. He accordingly started the New Depot saloon at the corner of First and Alameda street, installing his oldest son, Willie, aged 16, as barkeeper.

Willie, although spoken of as a very obedient boy previous to his installment behind the bar, tired of his father's rule, and several weeks ago refused to sell liquor for his father any longer. Sad to relate, however, it was not on account of Willie's conscientious scruples that he quit his father's employ. His bar-room associations, it is alleged, had corrupted his good morals, and instead of hieing himself away from the tenderloin district, on the outskirts of which the New Depot saloon is located, he went further into it and took up his abode with a fallen woman. This grieved the boy's father very much, and, it is asserted, he quarreled with his wife over the affair, she being disposed to take her son's part.

The trouble culminated Wednesday night when Steppler had his son arrested and locked up in the City Jail on the charge of vagrancy. The old man was greatly agitated when he came to the police station and made the charge against the boy. This happened about midnight, and on reaching his home at No. 1130 West Thirty-first street, he made such a scene that his wife became alarmed and went to her step-daughter's house, near by, where she remained the rest of the night. On returning home in the morning, the quarrel was renewed and she again left the house, remaining away till after noon.

Mrs. Steppler had not been long gone from the house, the second time, till Steppler came from his room and informed his fifteen-year-old daughter, Paulina, that he was going to kill himself. The frightened girl did not know what to do, and before she could hit on some plan to baffle her father's mad purpose, he again came to the door and told her he had fixed himself, having taken poison. He then went and lay down on his bed, while the girl ran for a doctor. It was two hours before one came, and long before that time Steppler was dead.

Several of the crying children ran to summon aid from neighbors, and two arrived before he expired, but could do nothing to save him, for the poison had already practically done its work. A little vial labled "Strychnine" showed the manner of death. Close beside it was a note showing that the fatal drug was taken intentionally. The note was written in German, and translated, reads:

"Dear Wife—I want to tell you farewell and ask forgiveness for all I have done to you. Only I cannot forgive Willie.

"He is my murderer. I cannot bear this life. Kiss the children all for me, but not Willie.

"Your everlasting loving husband,
"E. L. STEPPLER."

The boy Willie remained in jail till about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when his mother drove up to the station and secured his release. When told of his father's suicide, he said: "I hope he did not do it on my account."

As his father is dead there is now no one who will push the vagrancy charge against him. Willie, however, promises to be a good boy hereafter. The woman he was consorting with lives on Banning street, and is about eight years his senior. She seems to have had the boy completely in her power.

The Coroner will hold an inquest on Steppler's remains today.

The inquest will be held at Kregelo & Bruce's this morning at 10 o'clock.

AVALON (Catalina Island,) Aug. 1.—(By Homing-pigeon Mariposa of the Catalina Carrier-pigeon Service to The Times.) With the 1st of August the annual rush to Catalina is fairly on. It is estimated on a conservative basis that fully thirty-five hundred people are now on the island. Last night's steamer brought 120 passengers, besides 100 boys from the State Reform School at Whittier.

WHITTIER BOYS AT SWAINE'S LANDING.

The Hermosa arrived about 6:30 last night, and on her fore upper deck and swarming on the bridge above were 100 boys from the State Reform School, come over as an advance guard to erect the tents and prepare the camp at Swaine's Landing for the arrival of their confreres next Friday. The boys who arrived last night compose Co. C and Co. F, and were in charge of Assistant Superintendent W. V. Coffin and under command of Maj. C. M. Renard, assisted by Capts. Treat, Croke and Arnold. Strict military discipline is observed. The camping outfit, bedding, provisions, etc., with which the hold of the Hermosa was stored, was transferred to lighters in waiting at the wharf, which were towed down to Swaine's by the company's launch Linda, the La Paloma following with the boys on board. It was 8:30 before the last load left the wharf amid the cheers and whoops of the delighted boys, who regard this annual outing at Catalina as an event in their lives.

On Friday 250 more boys will arrive and after a two-weeks' stay they will return to the school at Whittier, and the eighty-five girls of the institution will be given their outing. The Southern Pacific and the Wilmington Transportation Company kindly furnish free transportation for the school, the Banning Company also allowing free tenting privileges, so the outing costs the State nothing.

SEEKING A COOLING BREEZE.

M. L. Graff, accompanied by C. B. Boothe of Los Angeles, came over last night for a week's sojourn at the Metropole. This is Mr. Boothe's initial visit to the island, and he is literally struck dumb with wonder and admiration.

Col. Walter Moore came over last night to get a refreshing breeze after a sweltering day in the city.

Dr. Shorb last night joined his wife and daughter, who are camping here.

J. de Barth Shorb of San Gabriel arrived at the Metropole last night.

V. McClatchie, proprietor of the Sacramento Bee, arrived yesterday with his family to spend the month of August on the island.

Mrs. W. R. Rowland, wife of one of the bonanza oil men of Puente, arrived at the Metropole last night, accompanied by her family, Misses Nina and Nellie Rowland and George Rowland.

Wellington Clark and wife of Walla Walla, Wash., arrived at the Metropole last night.

Miss Grace Rhodes, Mrs. J. H. Braly, Arthur and Harold Braly registered at the Metropole last night. Mrs. Braly and family take possession of their cottage today, and will remain the balance of the season.

B. S. Cotes of Los Angeles, Misses L. Jastro and May Jastro of Bakersfield, Misses Emma and Antoinette Grubitz of Louisville, Ky., went to swell the list of arirvals at the Metropole last night.

Miss Clara Campbell of Chicago and Miss Marian E. Cobb of Colorado Springs were among last night's arrivals at the Metropole. Miss Cobb is a niece of W. S. Stratton, owner of the Independence mine in Colorado, the richest gold mine in the world. R. G. Curran of Los Angeles accompanied the young ladies to the island. Mr. Curran is here looking after the interests of the California Correspondence Club.

At the Grand View recent arrivals include Norman S. Clark of Detroit, James Abbott of Chicago, T. B. Weller and Mrs. E. F. Weller of Phoenix, Dr. J. G. Baird and wife, Agnes Partridge of Riverside.

G. R. Smith, wife and child of Pasadena are occupying the Leneta tent. Senator S. N. Androus and W. A. Bell of Pomona will spend the month of August here. Other Pomona people who are expected to arrive this week are Prof. F. A. Molyneaux, W. H. Goodrich and family, Frank L. Palmer and family.

The Misses Dodworth of Pasadena are stopping at the Miramar with a party of friends.

UNDER THE CANVAS.

Among the campers who have recently taken up their abode under tents are W. O. Merrill and family, J. E. McGrath, H. McCullough, P. Lebus, Misses B. and L. Lebus, Mrs. M. T. Engle, Mrs. C. W. Blake, S. A. and C. W. Thompson, Rev. Thomas W. Haskins, Mr. and Mrs. Louis B. Mariatt, all of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Julia L. Ford and two daughters of Palo Alto are enjoying Catalina camp life.

A party of Azusa people, including Mrs. Margaret J. Cain, Mrs. J. W. Jeffrey and son, Miss A. Taylor are camping here for a month.

Prof. C. L. Cory of Berkeley, accompanied by Prof. H. T. Cory of Columbia, Mo., is enjoying camp life in the Swanfeldt addition.

PASADENA.

PROPERTY OWNERS NEGLIGENT IN TRIMMING THEIR TREES.

Addition to the Faculty of Throop Institute—New Bicycle Track is Assured—The Tennis Players go Yachting—The Increased Property Valuation.

PASADENA, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Street Superintendent has received many complaints from people in various parts of town regarding the neglect of property-owners to trim their trees. Ragged, overhanging pepper boughs are not only unsightly, but on a foggy morning they are decidedly annoying to pedestrians who must dodge the wet branches. Upon some of the streets grass and weeds have been permitted to grow on the dirt walks, and these, too, on foggy mornings are annoying to foot passengers, but where there are both weeds and drooping pepper branches as is the case on some of the side streets, the conditions are encouraging to profanity. There are some people in the community who believe that a concerted movement ought to be made by property-owners to keep the tree-margin in proper condition along the various streets, to see to it that grass is sown along the space between the sidewalk and the roadway, and that it is watered and tended. Where this is done, as is notably the case on Orange Grove avenue, portions of Euclid, Grand avenue, Marengo and other streets, the results justify the expenditure of labor, and as the beautifying of the streets is a work which redounds directly to the financial benefit of the property-owner, the street department should receive active aid in its efforts, and suggestions from it should be acted upon.

PASADENA BREVITIES.

Nine members of the Columbia Hill Tennis Club today left Pasadena for a cruise in the yacht Violet, in the waters about Catalina Island. They will take with them a Chinese cook, and have mapped out a social campaign at Redondo and Catalina which will employ their leisure time for a couple of weeks. The party is composed of the following-named young gentlemen: Elisha Eldred, Lloyd Macy, Arthur Dodworth, Charles Coleman, Fred Kimble, Robert Kimble, John Daggett, T. M. Henderson and Edward Groenendyke.

Charles King will leave for New York next Tuesday, where he expects to enter the conservatory of music. He will sing for the last time in Pasadena at the Episcopalian Church Sunday morning. This time Mr. King will buy a straight ticket, as his unpleasant experience with scalpers is still fresh in his mind. It will be remembered that he is the young man that was put off a train in the wilds of Arizona because he did not answer the description on the scalper's ticket he had bought.

The work of grading Congress street, Los Robles avenue and Walnut from Vernon to Fair Oaks avenue, is almost completed, and those streets will then be in fine condition. It is hoped that the Fair Oaks-avenue work will be done before September 1, but at present it seems to languish, and the citizens along the thoroughfare are of the opinion that another extension will have to be granted the contractors if matters are not pushed in a more lively style than at present.

At a recent meeting of the Throop Polytechnic executive board, Prof. Gilmore, a graduate of the Illinois State Normal School, was elected to the chair of physics and electrical engineering. Prof. Gilmore has taken a practical course of electrical work in Chicago, and recently graduated from the electrical department of the Stanford University, where he was the assistant of Prof. Sanford, in the department of physics.

Thomas F. Crofts, an old resident of Pasadena, is erecting a handsome residence on South Euclid avenue. Mr. Crofts was one of the pioneers of the Pasadena colony and formerly lived in the cottage which was removed to make room for the McGilvray and Torrance Block on South Raymond avenue, opposite Hotel Green.

Capt. Bangham is in Los Angeles today looking up the records of mortgages for the assessment list. The City Clerk is of the opinion that the total increase in the assessed valuation for this year will be in the neighborhood of a million dollars. The collectors will begin their work about the middle of September.

The plans for the new bicycle track are completed and the local wheelmen are hustling for the funds to put it in proper shape for the sport. Some work is being done on the grounds by the members of the Crown City Club, and it is thought that their friends will come forward and subscribe the money to properly prepare the track.

Recent arrivals at the Balmoral include George D. Lunt, Chicago; Miss Alice Dye, Redlands; A. C. Kimball and A. H. Hooper, Boston; M. F. Justice and A. P. Canby, Philadelphia; H. P. Canby, Fernando, Cal.; W. F. Davis, W. K. Freeman, J. A. Clotier, San Francisco.

William B. Thompson and Howard J. Fish, who have completed a two years' course in the New York Law School, were admitted July 19 to the New York State bar, and duly qualified to practice law in that State.

Mrs. Emeline F. Bowler and Miss Susan F. Stickney have returned to Pasadena, after fourteen months spent in Europe. Mrs. Bowler was in poor health when she went away, but is now completely recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bushnell, Miss Frost, Miss Grace Monroe and Mrs. Fletcher have returned from Catalina Island where they have been spending a fortnight.

The subscribers of The Times are reminded to have their change ready for the collector, who will be around to make his usual visit in a few days.

S. C. Torrance left for Chicago on Wednesday evening with the intention of bringing his family here and making Pasadena his permanent home.

Roy Macomber, Frank Roche, Will McCoy and Frank Orr are among those who are booked for Catalina Friday morning.

W. D. Rosenberger and wife left Wednesday evening for a two-weeks' visit to San Francisco and the North.

Mrs. Quimby and her daughter Grace left today for Long Beach where they will spend a couple of weeks.

Everybody will get one of Nash Bros.' puzzles today. $5 in cash to the first one who works it.

Miss Fannie D. Ball of Grand Rapids, Mich., is the guest of Dr. Thomas and family.

RIVERSIDE COUNTY.

Important Moves in Irrigation Matters—A Pretty Musical.

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The Security, Loan and Trust Company of Los Angeles, under the direction of P. T. Evans of this city, is putting in a six-inch pipe line through block 20, West Riverside. When this line is completed an eight-inch pipe line will be put in through block 19, both lines connecting with the 2000-foot flume through block 13. This will give to these lands—125 acres—a continuous flow of eighty inches of water from the North Riverside Land and Water Company's canal. The estimated cost of these improvements is about $1000.

Miss Alma Mills of Los Angeles, who has been visiting for a while with her uncle in this city, Justice James Mills, went to Elsinore today to continue her visit in this county.

The Riverside Land and Irrigating Company has made a lease for five years to 300 acres of their river-bottom lands to Wong Sing Company, Wong Wo Company and Quong Wong Company, the leading vegetables gardeners. This includes a large tract of land not heretofore under cultivation for that purpose.

W. J. Argue of Casa Blanca, who was arrested yesterday for selling liquor contrary to the city ordinance, and entered a plea of guilty, came before Recorder Chambers today represented by L. Gill as attorney, and asked permission to withdraw his plea of guilty and enter a plea of not guilty. After argument, the court denied the request, and directed the accused to appear for sentence tomorrow morning. His attorney gave notice of an appeal from the decision of the court refusing to withdraw the plea of guilty.

Mrs. F. H. Austin, publisher and business manager of the Moreno Indicator, is in the city today.

Frank M. Davis of the postoffice force started for Santa Monica on his wheel, where he will join the family in the G.A.R. encampment, or rather the father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Davis, will join him, as they go by slow carrier while he goes on a wheel. Capt. Davis started with a team yesterday.

Among those who will start for Santa Monica Saturday to attend the encampment by train are Mrs. Dr. Sylvester, daughter Mabel, and Miss Emma Ruby, and Mrs. M. M. Davis. Mrs. Stephen Squire will also go down in a few days. Tax Collector Woodard and family and H. R. Vanderbogart will also attend the encampment during the full ten days, and a number of others will go down for a less number of days some time during the encampment.

Misses Clara Dole, Clara McLeod, Mamie Johnson and Anna Craven are four Riverside young ladies who will enter Mills Seminary at Seminary Park, near Oakland, Cal., this year. Misses McLeod and Johnson have already gone north, and Misses Dole and Craven will go next Monday.

W. C. St. Pierre, who has been with George N. Reynolds of Riverside for the past two and a half years, has obtained a position in a dry-goods house in Los Angeles, and went to that city Wednesday evening.

Rev. W. A. Wright has returned from Chatworth Park, near San Fernando, where he has been taking a vacation, and where, with his father, he is interested in a ranch.

Judge J. S. Noyes and W. J. McIntyre have returned from their ten days' trip to the Yosemite Valley, and the big-tree country. They report having had a pleasant trip, and as well paid for the time and money expended.

Among those going to Catalina from Riverside this week are Dr. E. B. Howe and family, and Mrs. S. R. Doble, who go today, and Dr. J. G. Baird, who goes later in the week.

Mrs. W. L. Peters and Mrs. J. W. Johnson will join the summerers at Laguna Beach today.

M. M. Davis and wife, both of whom take a great interest in G.A.R. and W.R.C. matters, will attend the G.A.R. encampment, as usual, at Santa Monica.

George N. Reynolds of the clothing and boot and shoe establishment, and Felix Lighter of the dry goods house of Frankenheimer & Lighter, will go East on a trip of pleasure and goods-buying, leaving the city Sunday. Chicago and other Eastern cities will be visited in the rounds.

Thomas Weed and Victor Noble will go to Laguna Beach on their wheels Saturday for a vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Pliny T. Evans entertained a large number of their friends at their beautiful home on Magnolia avenue last evning with a delightful musical programme and dance. Among those present were: The Misses Grace and Chancey Ferris, Josephine Bakewell, Marcia Craft, Noma Rockhold, Bessie Hill, Annie McLeod, Edith Dawson, Annie and Grace McNab, Ina Crawford, Margaret Sharp, Mary and Effie Hart, Mrs. J. W. Dawson, Mrs. George T. Frost, Mrs. P. T. Evans; Messrs. Stanley and George Crawford, G. T. Frost, John and Thomas McNab, Hervey Ferris, Fred Butler, Dr. L. V. W. Stiles, Frank Carr, B. F. Harris, H. Godfrey, C. McFarland, P. T. Evans, J. W. Dawson, John Gillespie, Oscar Barber.

Dr. Gill of this city telephones from Highland that last night at 10:10 o'clock an assistant surgeon made his appearance at the home of Dr. Dolan and that he tipped the beam at nine pounds. Mr. and Mrs. Dolan will receive the congratulations of their many friends in Riverside.

Col. Ritchey has temporarily closed the dining-room of the Arlington Hotel. It will remain closed for six weeks or two months while the extensive repairs going on inside and out are completed. The whole building is being repainted on the outside by James McDougall and the inside renovating and recarpeting is in charge of Mr. Ritchey.

The Riverside Land and Irrigating Company has sold 600 cords of wood to George Griffith to be used by the latter in burning lime at his lime works southeast of the city. Mr. Griffith has about forty Indians now at work cutting the wood on the river bottom northeast of the city.

BICYCLE-THIEF LENNING GETS A FIVE MONTHS' SENTENCE.

A Surprise Wedding in Tustin—Irrigation Matters—New Military Tactics—The Damage Case Verdict—Other News Notes and Personals.

SANTA ANA, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) Knute Lenning had his second trial today (Thursday,) before Judge Huntington and a jury of twelve men, on a charge of stealing a bicycle from the hallway of the Jennings House on North Main street, several weeks ago. He was found guilty, and Judge Huntington sentenced the fellow to five months in the County Jail.

Lenning is the man who was arrested at Pomona, where he had, presumably, taken the wheel to dispose of it.

A TUSTIN SURPRISE.

The marriage of Ralph Eddy of Temescal, San Diego county, and Miss Nellie Carr of Tustin, was solemnized at the home of the groom parents in Tustin at an early hour on Wednesday morning, before a few invited friends, the Rev. W. B. Burrows of the Church of the Messiah, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, not even Miss Carr's most intimate friends knowing anything of her matrimonial intentions. The event was, therefore, a great surprise to their many friends, who had the first intimation of the affair in yesterday's Times, in which the marriage license was published.

Soon after the ceremony and congratulations being offered, the happy young couple departed for their new home at Temescal, where Mr. Eddy is comfortably and cosily located. Both these young people are well and favorably known, and their friends heartily congratulate them.

ORANGE COUNTY BREVITIES.

The verdict of the jury in the Yaeger vs. Southern California Railway Company case, as stated in The Times this (Thursday) morning, was rather unexpected by the public generally, but not, it seems, by those who were present in court and heard the evidence as it was taken. Notwithstanding the result of the trial just closed, the plaintiff says he will appeal the case, therefore taking it to the Supreme Court. The suit was for $30,000 damages, and the verdict was a unanimous one for the railway company.

The price for water for irrigation purposes from the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company canals has been fixed for Run No. 6 at 30 cents per head for day water and 15 cents per head for night water, for the first half hour, to the amount of stock owned by the applicant or controlled by annual lease in connection with the land covered by the stock, and $1 per head for day water, and 50 cents per head for night water for the second half hour.

The Anaheim Gazette issued today (Thursday) has the following paragraph concerning the old irrigation district organized under the Wright act: "The irrigation board meets today for the last time. Tomorrow the Superior Court will be asked for a decree dissolving the district, and thenceforward it will go out of existence. All bills against the district should be in today."

Mrs. A. M. Coffin returned to Santa Ana Wednesday evening from a visit of several months with friends and relatives in Tipton, Ind. Mrs. Coffin brought her father, R. W. Wright, back with her. The gentleman is so delighted with what he has already seen of California that he will remain about a year before he returns to his Eastern home.

A special train over the Santa Ana and Newport road went down to the beach from Santa Ana this (Thursday) evening, to take a party of about fifty young people down by the sighing sea waves for a moonlight picnic.

D. Green McClay and family have returned to Santa Ana from a pleasant camping trip to the Santa Ana Mountains.

A. J. Crookshank of Riverside has been elected cashier and secretary of the new Exchange Bank in Santa Ana, which has recently been organized and will open up for business at the corner room of the Brunswick Block Monday of next week. R. F. Chilton will be the assistant cashier.

Acording to the new military regulations it will be necessary after January 1, 1896, that every company in the National Guard of the State drill with a minimum of fifty men. It is understood that until next January no further muster-outs will take place.

A meeting of the stockholders of the Westminster Butter and Cheese Company is called to assemble at the office of the company in Westminster on the 16th inst., for the purpose of adopting a code of by-laws for the government of the corporation.

County Tax Collector R. L. Freeman and family have returned from a delightful outing of several weeks in Belle Canyon. Mr. Freeman reports trout fishing in the mountain streams excellenta, and small game plentiful in the lower hills.

At a recent meeting of the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation Company the charge against F. S. Buchheim for appropriating irrigation water from the company's ditches was investigated, and the matter taken under advisement.

Capt. Finley of Co. F has a squad of men at work out on West First street, fixing up the new rifle range. The island near the artificial lake is being cleared up, and a good bulkhead is being constructed.

W. C. Thompson, who has been a resident of Santa Ana for the past couple of years, departed today (Thursday) for Juneau, Alaska, where he has secured a position with one of the large mining companies at that place.

Mrs. James and little daughters, Elsie, Gertrude, Flora and Gladys, of Tustin, have gone to Newport Beach for a month's outing.

D. Gildmacher, a brother of L. Gildmacher, is down from Colusa, renewing former acquaintances.

Miss Erma Bartlett of Santa Ana has gone to Newport Beach for a few weeks' recreation.

SANTA MONICA.

The Amateurs at the Bath House—News Notes.

SANTA MONICA, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The entertainment at the bath-house last evening, at which amateur talent under direction of Prof. Raynor, presented the clever and popular drama of "Hazel Kirk," drew a fine audience, making standing-room even hard to obtain. The play was on the whole very well done. Mr. Raynor as Pittacus Green held the play well in hand, while the other characters were carried with sufficient talent to make the presentation very enjoyable. The stage settings were well done, particularly the garden scene, where hard work produced as fine an effect as has been accomplished on Santa Monica boards. The financial results of the entertainment were highly satisfactory.

Con Sullivan, held in San Francisco for the murder of Barr, is not unknown here and in Southern California. He was a frequenter of this beach and acted as operator or capper in sure-shot games practiced upon the unsuspecting here. He is the "steerer" who helped "Poker" Davis and his side-partner, Owens, to "do" a Kansas City young man by the name of Whittlesey out of $85 in a side-room to a saloon here about a year ago. The case attracted some attention at the time from the fact that suit to recover the money was instituted against the bunco men, but never came to trial, a compromise being agreed upon by which about half the money was restored to the tenderfoot, who went on his way determinad to make no more acquaintances without a proper introduction. Sullivan, like his namesake from the classic shades of Boston, has the physique for better things than bunco-steering, but, as far as is known here, his ambition did not lead him to any very great efforts beyond getting a living with as little work as possible.

L. A. Whittaker and family have returned from their bee ranch in Ventura county, the honey season being over for the year. The production of the fruit of the hives was continued for several weeks longer than was at first expected, and the yield was consequently better than anticipated. Mr. Whittaker cleaned up an average of a little better than 300 pounds of strained honey to the hive, and therefore accepts the season of 1895 as by no means a bad one.

The Santa Rosa touched wharf here early this morning and discharged nearly 200 tons of freight and a large passenger list.

Miss Adelaide Detchon is at the seaside, stopping with friends for a few days, pending her early departure for San Francisco.

Rev. A. L. Hudson, now of Salt Lake City, now visiting Southern California with old-time friends and associates from Sioux City, Iowa, where he was for years a leading attorney, spent the day here, enjoying sea air and renewing former acquaintances with ex-Hawkeyes. Like many another, Mr. Hudson is thoroughly charmed with this, his first experience in this corner of the nation.

The July circulation of the public library set a new high-water mark. It reached 2079 volumes, against 1656 for June, and 1432 for July last year.

The town treasury is bulging slightly today, resultant upon the payment of the second instalment of licenses. These coming in the middle of our season are in general the most easily collected revenues which go into the corporation vaults.

Grading is going forward on the streets of the Bandini tract, which is to be auctioned off August 10.

C. J. Charles, injured a fortnight since in the hand-car accident, is out and around, and expects now to resume work on Monday next. He was badly bruised, but no bones were broken. Tracey, the more-seriously injured man, is still in the hospital at Los Angeles.

SAN DIEGO COUNTY.

Where Mayne Said to Have Strings—News Notes and Personals.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The talk of the town continues to be the arrest of Clifton E. Mayne. His arrest and imprisonment in the County Jail prior to removal to Los Angeles apparently unnerved this very nervy man. Although Mrs. Mayne went to Los Angeles on the same train with her husband on Wednesday, it is reported that she will get a divorce from him as soon as the present case is concluded. She believes that Mayne is mentally unbalanced and says that Mayne told her that his relatives once had him examined for insanity, but the doctors found him to be sane. The insanity dodge is not likely to work in the present case against Mayne. For a month or two prior to his arrest Mayne sent his friends to the Times correspondent to suggest that the publication of facts in the notorious career of the man be withheld from publication. That Mayne possesses secrets of leading people here and elsewhere along the coast, which these people do not desire published, is generally admitted, and probably accounts for the ease with which he has secured bail and expensive counsel whenever he has been in trouble heretofore, and has thus apparently defied the courts. A few days prior to Mayne's arrest, Christ Buckley, the notorious politcal boss, arrived from San Francisco. This causes comment, as Bulkley is understood to have been interested with Mayne in a street railway in 'Frisco, which was the cause of the finding of twenty-one indictments against Mayne by the grand jury, which the man evaded. Mayne has openly boasted here of taking $30,000 among the Golden Gate Supervisors and purchasing desired legislation.

SAN DIEGO BREVITIES.

The presence of special treasury agents here to examine the custom-house resulted satisfactorily and Collector Fisher is said to have been complimented upon the excellent condition of his office.

Stephen T. Gage and Miss Bessie Gage have arrived from Oakland. Mr. Gage comes here ostensibly to look after his ranch in El Cajon Valley.

The lighthouse-tender, Madrono, sails for San Francisco. Admiral Walker and Admiral Harmony are en route for the East in a private car via Portland.

Judge Pierce dismisses the complaint of L. W. Green vs. O. J. Stough on the ground that it did not contain a cause of action.

Harry E. Hayes has been appointed manager of the California Mortgage, Loan and Trust Company.

The coming season at Fisher's Opera-house promises to be brilliant. New scenery has been prepared. Dan Frohman's Lyceum Company opens the season August 5, with "The Wife."

The Coronado summer school has closed, after a successful session of four weeks. Evening lectures, delivered by the instructors of the school in this city, have entertained large audiences. The school will be continued next summer, so gratifying has been the success of this first attempt.

Some crack wheelmen from Los Angeles will compete in the races at Coronado track next week, including: Emil Ulbricht, F. W. Holbrook, Claude Tubbs, H. Ritter, H. E. Bundy, J. L. Standfer, William Hatton, W. A. Taylor, F. G. Lacey, M. M. Cook, H. E. McCrea, Horace Slater. Thirty valuable prises will be offered.

SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

SCHEME TO CIRCUMVENT THE IRRIGATION BONDS DECISION.

A Bondholder Filed an Appropriation of Water Rights—What is Being Done at an Attractive Mountain Resort—Notes and Personal Mention.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) John W. Downs of this city thinks that he has solved the question as to how one holder of irrigation district bonds can play protection whether the Supreme Court of the United States sustains Judge Ross's decision or not. He is the possessor of $2500 worth of Grapeland irrigation district bonds. This district has developed a fine body of water from the underflow of Lytle Creek Canyon, by tunneling under the bed of the stream and then up the stream, securing water that has no connection with the surface flow. The roof of the tunnel under the creek is so dry that a match can be lighted on it. This water is being conducted onto the lands of the district by cement conduits. For these works $200,000 bonds were issued, and they have been sold in exchange for work and material only, but, it is understood, at some discount. When Judge Ross's decision was announced, declaring the Wright act unconstitutional, Mr. Downs started out to protect himself, and on July 26 filed an appropriation notice on the water flowing from the Grapeland tunnel, and declaring his intention to conduct the water onto the lands of the semi-tropic company. He claims that if Judge Ross's decision is good, all district appropriations are as if never made, and therefore open to location. He says that he has double security. If the decision is not sustained his bonds will be good, and if it is sustained he will hold the water. He forgets that if the district has no legal existence, and therefore could not be an appropriator, that the individuals who are using the water are. He says he proposes to have the water onto the land of the semi-tropic company inside of sixty days. If he attempts to carry this out there may be some trouble. There will certainly be an injunction suit.

SQUIRREL INN IMPROVEMENTS.

Beautiful as it is, and attractive as are its surroundings, something is constantly being added to make Squirrel Inn one of the most delightful resorts that can be found. The latest feature is an artistic spring house, built in the canyon back of the inn, and it is voted by visitors the most attractive nook on the mountains. A quarter of a mile to the rear of the knoll on which the inn and the cottages are located, in a gulch leading down from the side of Strawberry Peak, a spring of cold mountain water bursts from the granite, and it has been made the site of a little structure, built of rustic, and modeled after the entrance to a Grecian temple. For columns, huge pine logs have been used, while huge slabs from which the bark has not been removed are used along the sides, to carry out the idea of columns. Within a basin in the granite has been hollowed out, until now a pool of limpid water, so clear that its transparency almost conceals its presence, and while one looks he seems to see only the rocky basin. But he may not venture in. A rustic lattice forbids, but from a pipe below a stream of the cold water, fresh from the mountain snows, pours out and dashes on down the canyon. The water from the spring has become the favorite for table use at the inn, and it is served at every meal, fresh from the spring, a quarter of a mile away. Other improvements have also been made at the resort. A row of tents for the accommodation of guests now extends along to the east of the inn, and they are all occupied. The grounds about have been placed in condition, and the whole atmosphere of the place betokens the sense of the artistic, which has been embodied uniformly in the inn, the cabins and the surroundings.

SAN BERNARDINO BREVITIES.

H. M. Barton, R. E. Bledsoe, B. F. Bledsoe and Ed Seeley leave Monday for a ten days' hunting trip at the head waters of the Santa Ana River. They expect to follow a dangerous trail which passes over btween Mt. San Bernardino and Greyback, and the plans also include the ascent of Mt. San Bernardino.

J. E. Mooney of Cincinnati, chairman of the Executive Committee of the Arrowhead Reservoir Company, and Col. Adolph Wood, its general manager, left for Squirrel Inn last evening. Mr. Mooney has a most unique and artistic cottage of peeled logs adjacent to the inn.

Miss Ina A. Wells left for Los Angeles today and will chaperone a party of young ladies from that city to Catalina, where they will occupy a cottage for several weeks.

Miss Emma Davis and brother and Miss Mary Pierson of Idlewild will join a party of riends at Squirrel Inn Friday for a week's sojourn in the mountains.

A number of the friends of Miss Blanche Roberts called at her home on North D street last evening, and the hours were spent at games and dancing.

A rich gold strike is reported from near Barstow. Samples assayed by Mr. Reed of this city yielded eighty-four ounces of gold and 49 per cent. lead.

Miss Emily Johnson, Miss Kate Condee and Miss Anne Waite of the city schools attended the summer school at Coronado.

City Recorder Smith Haile has returned from Santa Barbara.

REDLANDS.

REDLANDS, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) The librarian's report of the Public Library for July is as follows: Circulation, 1957; readers, 1272; new members, 20; withdrawals, 3; total membership to date, 979; paper-covered books discarded, 4; total number of volumes in library, 2476; pamphlets (government) given, 1; total number of pamphlets, 365; periodicals given, 1; odd numbers of magazines given, 40; notices sent for over-due books, 15.

The City Attorney was instructed at Wednesday night's Trustees meeting to prepare an amendment to ordinance No. 197, which shall permit oils and other materials of an inflammable nature to be stored within sixty feet of any building instead of 100 feet.

Messrs. McGinnis and Clark were appointed a committee to work in connection with the president of the board to secure land for a sewer farm for a period of years. The Marshal was instructed to have the jail whitewashed.

REDLANDS BREVITIES.

The total city assessment of Redlands for 1895 is $2,669,412, as against $2,774,127 for 1894. The decrease of $104,715 is due to the fact that the law now exempts trees under four and one-half years of age from taxation.

Judson & Haver have sold for C. A. Sprague to A. B. Ruggles et al. 160x165 feet on the southeast corner of Olive avenue and Cajon street.

VENTURA COUNTY.

R. H. Churchill, Charged with Arson, Held to Answer.

VENTURA, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) Mr. Smith's general merchandise store at Fillmore was at 2 a. m. July 15 discovered by the neighbors to be on fire, and after much difficulty it was saved from total destruction. Investigation developed the fact that an incendiary had been at work. There augur holes had been bored in the rear of the store house and about five gallons of petroleum poured in and then ignited. The matter was placed in the hands of Constable McCoy Pyle of Fillmore, who, with these facts, which constituted the only clews, went to work with a will and on Sunday last he landed R. H. Churchill, who is well-known in and around Fillmore, in the County Jail, charging him with the crime of arson. Tuesday Justice de Witt at Mantalvo held the preliminary examination of Churchill, which resulted in his being held to answer before the Superior Court, his bail being fixed in the sum of $1000, in default of which he was given into the custody of the Sheriff. The Constable claims that the motive for the crime grew out of the refusal of Smith Bros. to give further credit to Churchill. The case has created considerable excitement at Fillmore as the parties are all well-known, Churchill having resided there about seven years. Had the fire gained headway the whole business portion of the town would have been doomed, as the means at hand for fighting fire are very limited.

IMPROVEMENTS.

The improvement society has decided to include ladies in its membership, and to ask the co-operation of residents outside of the city limits, to the end that needed improvements to county roads may receive attention where needed. Santa Barbara is noted for its well-paved streets, and Ventura county will soon take front rank for its driveways. Today this county has the best record for well-watered roads, the approaches to the city of Ventura being watered daily for a distance of twenty miles, which is nearly double that of any county in this part of the State.

The members of the Board of Supervisors have returned from San Francisco, where they participated in the convention to advise on the best method of advertising California at the Atlanta Exposition. They visited Santa Clara county, and are enthusiastic on the subject of improvements clubs, which have accomplished so much for that county.

TRAMPS TO WORK.

Sheriff Charlebois does not believe in feeding hobos without getting some return, and to that end has organized a rock pile in the rear of the Courthouse, on which ten dusty specimens of the "Weary Waggles" fraternity are working in the interest of good roads, but with a decided lack of appreciation of the humor of the situation.

VENTURA BREVITIES.

At the residence of Assessor James Doulin last evening Rev. Mr. Parker united in matrimony Miss Annie Sydesticker and John B. Hollingsworth, one of the best-known ranchers in this county. The ceremony was witnessed by the immediate friends of the contracting parties, no cards having been issued. The happy couple, after receiving the congratulations of their friends, and partaking of an elegant repast, provided by Mrs. Doulin, left for a brief honeymoon. On their return they will reside at the Hollingsworth rancho in the Ojai Valley.

Attorney W. H. Barnes returned this morning from San Francisco, where he has been watching the Durrant trial.

Dist. Atty. Poplin has commenced suit against occupants of school lands who are delinquent, the preliminary papers now being on file in the clerk's office.

A project is under consideration to interest capital in a scheme to reclaim certain overflowed lands lying between the Taylor rancho and this city. The plan is considered favorable, as the land is of first-class quality, and the cost of reclamation will be slight in comparison with the value of the land reclaimed.

POMONA.

POMONA, Aug. 1.—(Regular Correspondence.) As intimated in these columns a day or two since that the City Trustes would hold a special meeting to receive and place on file a formal aplication from the Southern Pacific Railway Company for a franchise along and across certain streets within its limits from the vicinity of the southeast boundary line to the northwest skirts of the city, such action did occur last night; and as the exact terms of the franchise must be advertised in a daily paper for ten consecutive days, and as no action in the matter of granting it can be taken by the Board of Trustees until within thirty days after its first insertion in said manner, it is probable that the conference heretofore spoken of will be held between the company's atorney and the committee, Messrs. Hutchinson, Landon and Atorney C. E. Sumner, in order that the terms of the franchise may be agred upon and introduced at the regular session of the Council on Tuesday evening, August 6, so as to lose no time in advertising the same and bringit to the point where definite legal action can be taken upon the granting or denying the franchise.

Everybody up this way has had a slight foretaste of the "dog-days" weather in the East. Clouds have overhung the valley all day, rain has been falling on the desert beyond the mountain ranges to the north and east, the atmosphere has been rather close and hot.

F. G. Osburn, with his wife, have arrived from Milton, Wis., and they are guests at present of his brother-in-law, O. Wilcox, of this city.

Dr. A. L. Goodwin, who has been visiting his brother, City Treasurer Godwin, of Pomona, has gone to Tucson, Ariz.

Miss Lillian Latin has been granted a furlough by the People's Store, and is enjoying it in the shape of a visit to her parents in San Louis Obispo.

Miss Julia Poston, who has been the guest of her brother and family in this city for several weeks, is to return to her home in Napa.

Frank Raynes and wife and Mrs. Frank J. Martin will go to San Diego this week.

Mrs. Elmer E. Connor and son Harry leave this week for Long Beach.

School of the Sisters of Charity on Boyle Heights.

A Times reporter made an unexpected visit yesterday to the school of the Sisters of Charity, on Boyle Heights, and, escorted by charming Sister Cephas, explored the place from basement to attic. The huge building which serves as a landmark for many miles around, is finely situated on a rise of ground, and commands a splendid view on all sides. The building itself is admirably constructed, the rooms are large, airy and well-lighted, the corridors wide, and the stairways broad and easy of ascent. This is the fourth year that the school has occupied this building, and the number of girls being cared for and educated, averages 380, including twenty-five boarders. Sister Cecilia is the mother superior, and there are twenty sisters.

The institution receives its support chiefly from the State, and is assisted by subscriptions and the profits of the annual fair.

Two years is the youngest age at which the children are received, but there is no limit to the time they may remain. A girl is welcome just as long as she wishes to stay, whether anything is paid for her support or not.

On the first floor are the reception, music, school and recreation rooms, all large and well-lighted. Upon the walls were excellent specimens of penmanship and drawing, and some of the maps exhibited were really wonderful models of accuracy and neatness. The recreation room is a pleasant place, furnished with a piano, long tables and chairs, and there some delightful music by four of the girls was enjoyed by the visitors.

In the basement are the dining-room, the kitchen, with its huge ranges, the pantries, where the groceries were apparently of the best quality, some of the lavatories, bathrooms and store-rooms, all in the neatest possible order.

On the second floor are the rooms for mending, darning and dressmaking. Many of the girls, some of whom are surprisingly young, cut and make their own clothes, and of the results they may be deservedly proud. Some exceedingly pretty drawn work and embroidery was exhibited.

In the dormitories, that spotlessness so apparent all over the building was observed in the perfect order of the beds and their clothes.

The little tots were found playing on a pleasant screened porch, under the kindly care of Sister Stanislaus, who is also in charge of the infirmary. Not a trace of fear or bashfulness did the little ones show, and they crowded up to have their tiny hands shaken and their little heads patted, with a contented confidence in the kindness of mankind in general that spoke well for the treatment they must be receiving. They sang one of their kindergarten songs with as much delight to themselves as to the visitor.

Upon the second floor is also the chapel, a quiet place, with a handsome marble altar, and filled with the perfume of flowers.

The infirmary on this floor, as well as the hospital ward on the top floor, were unoccupied, not a single case of illness existing at present among the children.

In the large playground, the children were having the jolliest sort of a time. They are a generally healthy, happy-looking set, and evidently receive excellent care. In a little chat aside with one of the girls, it was learned that no severe punishment, nor ill-treatment of any kind is tolerated; that their food is excellent, and that the sisters are good and kind to them.

NOT ONE OF THE FIRM.

A Chinaman Whose Return Certificate Misrepresents the Facts.

A peculiar practice has been brought to light in the recent investigation of certain Chinese cases.

"Not long ago a Chinaman who gave his name as Lee Wan arrived at the port of San Francisco and was about to land. He claimed to be a member of the firm of Lee Kwai Sing, doing a merchandise business, at No. 306 South Spring street, in Los Angeles.

In support of his claim he presented a certificate signed by H. J. Fleischman, J. W. A. Off, William Alton, Henry T. Hazard and Samuel B. Dewey. The certificate was to the effect that those who had signed it were well acquainted with the said Lee Wan; that he had resided in Los Angeles for a number of years; that he was a merchant of the firm of Lee Kwai Sing, No. 306 South Spring street, and that he was well known and respected as a peaceful and law-abiding Chinaman.

The certificate further went on to state that it was made out for the purpose of permitting Lee Wan to go to China and return to this country.

The document was placed in the custody of the collector of the port and an investigation was started. An official list of the members of the firm of Lee Kwai Sing, which list had been filed with the proper authorities in that city, was examined and it was found that the name of Lee Wan did not appear in the list.

Inspector Williams, who came to Los Angeles two or three days ago, inquired of the head of the firm of Lee Kwai Sing if there was a member of the firm by the name of Lee Wan. The reply was that, although Lee Wan was a friend of his (the head of the firm,) yet he was never a member of the firm and any such claim by him was fraudulent

It is said that it has been customary for Chinamen desiring to go to China and return to this country to in numerous instances obtain signatures to the necessary certificate by means of some friend.

The friend, for example, keeps an account at some bank and is acquainted with the cashier. In company with the Chinaman desiring the certificate the friend approaches the cashier and says: "This man is a friend of mine and a member of the firm of so and so, as he represents himself to be. If you will just sign this certificate it will be considered a great favor."

In order to accommodate the patron the cashier in such cases as this, it is stated, will sign the certificate with little evidence of the genuineness of what it represents save what the patron has told him.

A Loss to Arizona.

Judge H. N. Alexander, one of Arizona's prominent lawyers, died at 2 p.m. yesterday at his home in Phoenix. He leaves a widow and four children. One daughter, Mrs. A. C. Baker, is temporarily living in Los Angeles at No. 839 South Hill street. Another daughter, Miss Frankie Alexander, is visiting her sister here, and is at present very sick. Judge Alexander was born in Ohio. In early manhood he came to California, and lived in Los Angeles for some time, working with the Wells-Fargo Express Company. He moved to Arizona twenty-five years ago, and soon became known as one of her most prominent men. He occupied a number of important official positions, among others those of Attorney-General and Probate Judge of Yuma county. The remains have been shipped to Los Angeles, and will be buried tomorrow.

A Big Fight Coming.

The case of Frank Lerch et al. against the South Riverside Land Company, a suit for an injunction restraining the defendant corporation from selling any of the stock belonging to the bondholders, was brought before Judge Shaw in a preliminary skirmish yesterday.

Hitherto the affair has not come into open court, having been under consideration in the Judge's chambers. A hearing upon the petition of the defendant to have the temporary injunction set aside, was granted, and the question was hotly contested by the lawyers on both sides. The decision of the Judge was that the temporary injunction be continued, and, late yesterday afternoon, the case was formally opened by the filing of a suit for permanent injunction by Frank Lerch and forty-six other plaintiffs.

Pontifical High Mass.

Mlle. Isidora Martinez, the singer, whose illness at San Francisco, necessitated the cancellation of all the concerts arranged for her in California, including two in Los Angeles, with the Unity Club, in May last, is spending the summer in this city. She has kindly consented to assist at the Pontifical High Mass to be sung at the Cathedral Saturday morning, at 9 o'clock, in celebration of the twenty-second anniversary of the consecration of Bishop Mora. The music to be sung is Mozart's mass in C. Mlle. Martinez will sing the great solo, "Agnus Dei." Bishop Mora has just returned, after an absence of over eight months, from a visit to Rome and Spain. The music will be under the direction of Prof. Stamm, the new organist at the Cathedral.

Thou, Too, Canst Be Happy

Friday, Aug. 2, '95.

Weeding Out

The old-timers. They WILL accumulate—Friday is the day for them—they may be old styles—in fact, they are—still they are just as serviceable as they ever were—the price is different, however. Smaller? Yes—a great deal smaller.

SILK WIASTS 98c.
Not old style by a great deal; still, not the very latest creations; navy blue and reds; large sleeves, etc.; used to be $2.00 a piece.

SILK WAISTS $1.50 each.
Navy blue, polka-dotted and light effects in small stripes; puff sleeves; reduced from $3.00 and $3.50 each.

DUCK SUITS 75c each.
Blazer style; light shade of mode; reduced from $1.50.

SUMMER SUITS 75c.
Two pieces; jacket with belt; hot weather comforts; thawed out price.

INFANTS' COATS 25c.
Wool materials; checks and stripes; just the business for morning gowns; formerly sold for $2.50 and $3.00; not very stylish.

But Very Wee Priced.
There's a few of those pure linen dusters remaining; children's 15c each; ladies' 25c and the Mohair dusters 98c; you are aware that the prices are not even one-fifth their former value.

MISSES' JACKETS 50c each.
All-wool, cadet-blue ladies' cloth, trimmed with gilt and silver braids; satin linings; reduced from $2.50 and $3.00.

N. B.—Children's and Ladies' Woolen Jersey Waists, worth from $1 to $3 each, reduced to 15c, a great many pure white ones, would make excellent corset-covers for the fall season.

P. S.—Not any of the above articles taken back or exchanged—they are almost given away now.

Remnant Day.

Silk Remnants.
A few hundred silk remnants in undesirable lengths go at most ridiculous prices. Such as 19c; 29c; 39c; 49c; 59c; 69c per yard; some will do for waists; some for skirts; a few for dresses.

SATIN DUCHESSE 69c yard.
A satin fabric of extra quality; black, and one of the best makes of silk; actual value $1.00 a yard.

MAJESTIC SILK 39c.
A straight-grain, dull-lustre, 27-inch black silk; reduced from 65c.

BROCADED INDIA 59c.
A pure, plain black silk; brocaded in Oriental designs; 27-inches wide; reduced from 85c.

Odds and Ends in Children's Dresses 15c.
And upward—in prints, percales, ginghams, dimities and lawns—all worth a great deal more.

INFANTS' CAPS 10c up.
Sunbonnets; sunshades; pokes; hats; tam-o-shanters; in the very latest styles at much reduced prices.

NAINSOOK DRESSES 25c.
Small sizes, checked and striped white Nainsook; reduced from 50c.

FAST BLACK HOSIERY 12½c pair.
For ladies and children; warranted stainless; full finished; reduced from 25c.

An Extra Special for Today Only.
One worthy the attention of everybody.

KID GLOVES 98c pair.
Genuine Fosters; 7-hook; "Fowler;" black and colors; size 5¾ only; guaranteed worth $1.75 pair; positively none taken back or exchanged.

KID GAUNTLETS 38c pair.
All colors and sizes; reduced especially for today from 75c pair.

Odds and Ends.

Too numerous to mention—but we will try and give you as many as we can—there will be lots of good things besides what you'll find in print. Come in and look over the counters in the various departments.

HAMBURG INSERTION 15c strip.
Four and a half yards in each strip, none worth less than 30c.

COLORED EDGING 5c yard.
Blue and white Hamburg embroideries, formerly sold at 25c per yard.

NAVY BLUE ALL-OVERS 25c yard.
The colored ground with white embroidery; some were 75c, others $1, and many $1.25 per yard.

REMNANTS OF LACES.

REMNANTS OF VEILINGS.

REMNANTS OF TRIMMINGS.

SATIN CORSETS $1.95.
"H. & S." brand of highest grade Satin Corsets, formerly sold for $3 to $5 per pair; peacock, blue, cardinal and black.

SILK VESTS 25c.
Ladies' very fine black silk Vests; never before sold for any such price.

Remnants in the Drapery Department

CHAIR SQUARES 15c.
Drapery and upholstery goods for seats and cushions, very choice; others 25c and 30c.

CREPE CLOTH 15c yard.
Fancy Japanese patterns, 27 inches wide; reduced from 25c.

SILKALINES 10c yard.
Handsome patterns, formerly 15c and 18c per yard.

CRETONNES 10c yard.
30 inches wide; former price 20c.

SCRIMS 5c yard.
Hundreds of remnants of various lengths and many different prices all reduced.

There's nothing SO GOOD AS Cottolene

The new vegetable shortening. Wherever introduced, it drives lard from the kitchen, and indigestion from the household. It has been tried by every test, and has met every requirement. It is as much superior to lard as the electric light is to the tallow-dip. The only question now is, will you give your family the benefits which its use bestows?

There's nothing LIKE Cottolene

In composition, in healthfulness, in flavor, or in economy. Its success has called out a lot of imitations and counterfeits made for the sole purpose of selling in the place and on the merits of Cottolene. Avoid them all. They are made to sell and they are a sell. Get the genuine Cottolene.

Sold in 3 and 5 pound pails.
